Lloyd George Worries.

Lilith by Dusk.

Marriage a Strain.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

Copyright, 1926, by the Star Co.

LLOYD GEORGE is worried about everything. Mussolini's treatment of Germans in the Tyrol, annexed to Italy, will cause war between Germany and Italy and "embroil all Europe."

Russia is the great problem, and more intelligent than our bankers that bought Kerensky's Russian bonds. Lloyd George says the danger will come "not from Bolshevism, but from the irresistible return of Russia to czarist imperialism."

ALL nations should forgive all their debts, England included, says Lloyd George, but he fears the recent United States election will prevent that. He does not mention the fact that everybody owes us, whereas we owe nobody.

What Lloyd George calls a "general jubilee which would wipe out all international debts" simply means Europe saying to Uncle Sam, "You free us of debt, and you pay the piper."

FRANK A. SIMMONDS says "America is looked upon in Europe as the common peril." Europe feels that we got all the profit out of the war, Europe got nothing. We are to live rich and happy, Europe is to worry. Europe ought to remember that Europe started the war, as she will start others probably.

Men and nations that choose to cut each other's throats have no right to hate, though they may envy a nation or individual that stays outside the throat-cutting. American got in part way, but not all the way, luckily.

GEORGE STERLING, California poet, who committed suicide at 57 wrote "I am grown weary of permitted things" and adds "rather by dusk for Lilith would I wait, etc."

The trouble with this age, is weariness, of "permitted things." And the trouble is not confined to poets. The pig is weary of his pen, the cow of her pasture, the young man of his job, some young girls of decency and restraint. However, the "permitted things" will continue to rule.

The pig is better off in his pen, the cow in her pasture, the man at his job, the girl with chaperone and the 57-year old poets as far away as possible from "Lilith by dusk."

MADAME ALEXANDRIA KOLLONTAI, Bolshevik lady ambassador to Mexico, forbidden to enter United States territory, lest she should undermine our political and other morals, tells us about marriage. "It is," says she, "a big strain on romance. Madame Kollontai speaks English, French, Italian, German, Norwegian, as well as Russian. In any of those languages, she will tell you that woman has not enough freedom. She is opposed to "free love" but says "the new woman does not deny her female nature. She does not dodge life, nor reject joys."

Recipes for Canned Foods

Here is an excellent recipe book.

It tells how to fix over 200 different dishes—every one out of a can from the grocer.

These recipes include a wide variety of soups, salads, vegetable dishes, entrees, sauces, sandwitches and desserts.

They are authoritative because they are the result of the study of experts.

These recipes are widely taught in schools of domestic science, and will keep any woman posted on the latest methods of preparing nourishing and appetizing foods.

Send to our Washington Information Bureau and get this recipe book. Just enclose four cents in stamps for return postage and handling.

RULING ON ANDERSON TRIAL DEFERRED

APPELLATE COURT WILL NOT ACT AT CADIZ MEET ON MANSLAUGHTER CASE

JUDGE ROBERTS IS CALLED AWAY

Absence of Jurist Probably Will Necessitate Postponement of Decision in Wellsville Police Chief's Fight.

Owing to the absence of Judge James Roberts, Ashtabula county, who has been called to Cincinnati by the serious illness of his sister, decision upon the application of George A. Anderson, 43, East Liverpool automobile salesman, seeking a third trial in the death of Frank McLain, 33, taxi-cab driver, October 7, 1925, will not be handed down by the appellate court at this week's session at Cadiz, it was announced today.

Postponement of a ruling in the fight of the city of Wellsville to oust Chief of Police John H. Fultz, is also expected. The decision was to have been announced next week at St. Clairsville.

Arguments Heard at Lisbon.

Arguments in the Anderson and Fultz cases were heard by the court at Lisbon during the week of November 8. Anderson is under sentence of four years and eight months in the penitentiary, this having been imposed after he was convicted for a second time upon a manslaughter charge. He had served four months in prison after his first conviction when the appellate court ordered a second trial.

Fultz was reinstated as head of the Wellsville police force after a six months' fight before the civil service commission and common pleas court. The case was carried to the appellate court upon error. Fultz has resumed work pending the court's decision.

Judges L. T. Farr, Lisbon and John Pollock, St. Clairsville, met at Cadiz this morning.

Teamster Escapes As His Automobile Plunges Into River

M. L. Parsons, Third street teamster, had a narrow escape from drowning when his touring car plunged over a 20-foot embankment into the Ohio river near the T. A. McNicol pottery on the River road at 7 o'clock last night.

Parsons tore away the side curtains on the car and swam to shore. His machine was submerged.

The accident occurred when Parsons was attempting to turn on the road. While shifting gears, the car was paced in reverse and before he could bring it to a stop, it started over the bank into the water.

The car was pulled from the river today by the McElravy Brothers' truck after Parsons had made an unsuccessful attempt to move it with a team of horses.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH IN NEW YORK FIRE

Father and His Sons Killed in Tenement Blaze.

TWO ARE HURT

Man Gives His Life to Save Wife and Three Children.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Samuel Weiner, 35, and his sons, Homan, 10, and Isadore, 7, were burned to death in a fire which swept a Cherry street tenement early today.

Mrs. Mary Gelfand, 40, sprained her wrist when she jumped from a window, and Michael Donato, 41, was burned severely.

The fire was accompanied by a mysterious explosion, and officials began an investigation of its origin.

Weiner died saving his wife and three of his children. They, with 75 other tenants, escaped on ladders and over the roofs.

Mrs. Adeline M'Lane Dies in Her Home In Jefferson Street

Mrs. Adeline McLane, a widow and lifelong resident of Columbiana county, died yesterday in her home, 307 Jefferson street, after an illness of a complication of diseases.

Mrs. McLane, who was born in Madison township, was a member of the United Presbyterian church.

She is survived by three sons and two daughters: Clark, Delbert, Clyde, Mrs. George Campbell and Adda, all of this city. She is also survived by one brother, Wilse Van Fossan, Cleveland.

LEGION SOCIETY MEETS THURSDAY

Election and installation of officers will feature a meeting of Columbiana County Voiture No. 273, Societies Des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux which will be held in the Lisbon village hall Thursday evening. H. E. Gleckler, Salem, is chef de gare, while S. J. Adams, Wellsville, is correspondant locale.

THREE WOUNDED IN DRY RAID

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—The mother of three children, her husband and one police officer, were lying seriously wounded in a hospital here today following a dry raid on the home of John Sastewski, alleged moonshiner.

Sastewski fired on the officers when they entered his home, wounding Detective Leslie Larson. In the exchange of shots, Sastewski himself fell wounded.

Mrs. Sastewski was knocked unconscious with the butt of an officer's pistol.

TWO AIRMEN DIE IN PLANE CRASH

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—An inquest will be held today over the bodies of two Chicago aviators who lost their lives when the antiquated plane in which they were doing "stunts" collapsed in mid-air and crashed 1,500 feet.

Richard Musch, 36, a paving contractor, and A. K. Carlitz, pilot, were the men killed.

MRS. HALL SAYS SHE DOES NOT BELIEVE STORY OF TRYSTING

Defendant Resumes Stand in Murder Trial.

NO SUSPICIONS

Swears She Never Noticed Slain Husband's Actions.

BY JAMES K. KILGALLEN.

COURTHOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 29.—Under a blistering cross-examination by Prosecutor Alexander Simpson, Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall today calmly, almost disdainfully, denied that she took "any part whatever" in the murder of her husband, the Rev. Edward W. Hall, and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills.

COURT HOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, testifying in her own behalf, swore today she does not believe "even now," that a love affair existed four years ago between her husband, the Rev. Edward W. Hall, and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, who were found shot to death in a "lover's" lane on the night of September 14, 1922.

"You never noticed any affections between your husband and Mrs. Mills?" Prosecutor Alexander Simpson asked her in an amazed tone.

"I didn't," she replied evenly, "and I don't believe it now—that they were in love with each other."

"I Don't Believe," She Says.

Simpson had called the attention of the black-garbed defendant to the ardent love letters that had been found near the bodies—the letters that had been read in court recently.

"You don't believe it now with all these letters and papers read in this court?" shouted Simpson.

"I don't believe it," she said, firmly, in her low modulated voice.

The prosecutor presented some letters—exhibits—for her to examine. She did so carelessly.

"I don't believe it," she reiterated.

She denied knowing of the existence of the letters, either the letters found near the bodies or those later found at the home of James Mills, husband of the slain woman.

"Did you ever see this prayer Rev. Hall wrote for Mrs. Mills when she was in the hospital?"

"No, I never did."

"You didn't overhear the telephone conversation between Mrs. Mills and your husband when she told Dr. Hall

THREE AUTOS REPORTED STOLEN

A. W. Ware, 809 Broadway, Wellsville, reported to the police at 12:40 o'clock this afternoon that his Chevrolet sedan had been stolen while parked on West Fifth street during the noon hour. The car carried license No. 350-007 and was valued at $875.

A Ford roadster belonging to Cecil Statler, Newell, was stolen while parked on Broadway, Saturday night, and driven to Thompson park where it was stripped of its tires and battery, according to a report at police headquarters.

Samuel Howell, First avenue, reported that his Ford touring car was taken from its parking place on St. Clair avenue while he was attending services at the Nezarene church last night. The license number on the machine was 240-561.

Lones Qualities As Judge; Will Assume Duties Tomorrow

Wellsville Lawyer Succeeds Judge W. H. Spence on Common Pleas Court Bench.

Attorney W. F. Lones, Wellsville, was to qualify as judge of the Columbiana county common pleas court at Lisbon this afternoon, to serve the unexpired term of the late Judge James G. Moore. Lones was to be sworn in by Frank Ballantine, clerk of the court.

Judge Lones will perform his first court work tomorrow, an assignment having been arranged by Clerk Ballantine. Judge W. H. Spence, Lisbon, who was appointed by Governor Donahey last spring, presided in the court this morning.

Lones' new court bailiff, James W. Stevenson, Yellow Creek township, will also assume his duties tomorrow. Stevenson will succeed Bernard Sultner, of Lisbon, who has been bailiff for six years.

Reorganization of the Lones, Hill & Davidson law firm, of which Lones has been a member for seven years, will take place upon the return of Walter B. Hill from California within the next 30 days.

HE IS COMMON PLEAS JUDGE

Snowstorm Halts Attempts to Free Grounded Vessel

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Nov. 29.—Due to a heavy snowstorm, no attempts have been made to free any of the boats grounded near here.

The steamer Ingalls of the Boland and Cornelius line is still grounded while the tug Iowa is standing by.

The steamer Field of the Reiss Steamship company, which is still aground off Pipe island, is awaiting help from Port Huron. It was expected she would be lightered and freed before 6 p. m., but unless the wind and snow squalls cease no attempt will be made to free her.

"PEACHES" WINS FIRST SKIRMISH

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 29.—"Peaches" Browning won the first skirmish in her suit for separation from her millionaire husband, Edward West Browning, today, when Justice Morschauser denied the motion of Browning's attorneys to a bill of particulars giving the exact time and place of the alleged acts contained in the complaint.

Justice Morschauser ruled, however, that if the child-bride sprang any surprises at the trial, Browning would be permitted an adjournment to prepare his defense.

Mansfield Merchant Is Fatally Injured In Auto Accident

MANSFIELD, O., Nov. 29.—William A. Stecker, 21, proprietor of a haberdashery store, died at 5:45 o'clock this morning at General hospital from injuries received Sunday evening in an auto accident on the Harding highway about seven miles west of Mansfield.

EDITOR SAMUEL HERE TONIGHT

TOKIO EMPEROR IS IMPROVING

TOKIO, Nov. 29.—Emperor Yoshihito, suffering from an attack of bronchitis, was slightly improved today, according to court physicians.

FRANK SWANEY WINS STREET CONTRACT SUIT

Permanent Injunction Against Surfacing Job Granted.

BIDS REJECTED

New Legislation is Necessary, Court Rules.

A permanent injunction, restraining the city of East Liverpool from improving Fourth street as proposed under existing legislation, was handed down today by Judge W. H. Spence in common pleas court, Lisbon, as one of his last official acts before retiring from office, in the case of Frank Swaney, taxpayer, against John W. Moore, service director of the city of East Liverpool.

Laxity in legislation on the part of the East Liverpool city council is the ground upon which the restraining order was made permanent, according to the court's order. The opinion recites that none of the witnesses called by the city at the hearing knew when the plans for the improvement were completed as the records carried no dates. No one knew whether the plans were completed before or after the determining legislation was passed.

The ruling also set forth that the city of East Liverpool had no contract with the Newell Street Railway and Bridge company relative to the improvement of that part of the street occupied by the car tracks and this would indicate the street was to be improved outside the tracks with one material and between the tracks with another material.

Patterson Held Contract.

The court held that no improvement ordinance was passed and that neither Service Director Moore nor City Engineer Clapsaddle could recall when the plans for the improve-

DOHENY STORY OF HIS "LOAN" TO FALL GOES INTO RECORD

Government is Winner in First Test of Strength.

OPINION READ

Multi-Millionaire's Statement Denies Fall Explanation.

By GEORGE E. DURNO.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The government scored a decisive victory today in its first big test of strength with the "million dollar" legal defense of ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and Edward L. Doheny, on trial for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government out of naval oil reserves.

"Reversible Error" Charged.

Justice A. A. Hoehling, in a lengthy opinion read at the opening of the trial this morning, held that Doheny's testimony before the senate oil investigating committee three years ago concerning the $100,000 he "loaned" to Fall was admissible as evidence in the present trial.

Doheny testified before the senate committee that he had let Fall have the $100,000, instead of E. B. McLean, the Washington and Cincinnati publisher, whom Fall had said loaned him the money.

Defense counsel bitterly contested the admissibility of this evidence before the jury that is now trying Fall and Doheny on criminal charges. They contended that to allow Doheny's story to go before the jury constituted grounds for "a reversible error" when and if the case is appealed. Their argument was based on that part of the federal code which says that the testimony of a witness before a committee of congress shall

One Motorist Pays $50 Fine; Another Committed to Jail

Two motorists were fined upon charges of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated when they faced Municipal Judge Hanley today.

Alvin Franklin, Ogden street, was committed to the county jail in default of $100 fine. Police say he was driving a Chevrolet touring car belonging to Earl Miller when he was apprehended. A charge of automobile stealing against Franklin has been filed by Miller, but the prisoner has not been tried on this count.

Jacob Wells, Chester, was fined $50 on a similar charge. Police say that Wells collided with a car belonging to O. C. Cullom on Broadway, at 6:30 o'clock Saturday night. He paid his fine and agreed to pay for the damage done to Cullom's car.

Merritt McKay, who was arrested on St. George street, Thanksgiving evening, was fined $25 upon a charge of reckless and careless driving.

SHIPSTEAD, BALANCE OF POWER IN SENATE, IS GUEST AT WHITE HOUSE "HARMONY BREAKFAST"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—President Coolidge gave a "harmony breakfast" this morning at the White House, attended by a dozen members of the senate.

Included among the guests was Senator Hendrik Shipstead, the sole Farmer-Labor member, of Minnesota, whose vote in the seventieth senate may conceivably decide whether the Republicans or Democrats will control the chamber.

The ostensible purpose of the gathering about the White House breakfast table was to afford the executive an opportunity to discuss with the Republican leaders of the senate the legislative program for the short session, beginning next Monday. Actually it was regarded as another administration step toward the elemination of Republican factionalism, and the establishment of party harmony against the time in the seventieth senate when Republican harmony will be sorely needed.

Shipstead's inclusion among the breakfast guests caused considerably comment in political quarters. It was said to be the first time the Farmer-Laborite has ever sat at the White House table. Recently he was "invited" by Republican leaders of the senate, informally, to become affiliated with the Republicans of the upper chamber.

Others at the table this morning included Curtis of Kansas, the Republican leader; Capper of Kansas; Dale of Vermont; Bingham of Connecticut; Goff of West Virginia; Shortridge of California, Gooding of Idaho; Cousens of Michigan; Sackett of Kentucky, and Stewart of Iowa, who is to occupy the seat of the late Senator Cummins for the session.

Senator Cousens' presence also elicited some comment, as he frequently has been on the "outs" with the administration, and has fought some sanguinary battles with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. He has been irregular enough to be classified on some occasions as an insurgent.

RULING ON ANDERSON TRIAL DEFERRED

APPELLATE COURT WILL NOT ACT AT CADIZ MEET ON MANSLAUGHTER CASE

Absence of Jurist Probably Will Necessitate Postponement of Decision in Wellsville Police Chief's Fight.

Owing to the absence of Judge James Roberts, Ashtabula county, who has been called to Cincinnati by the serious illness of his sister, decision upon the application of George A. Anderson, 43, East Liverpool automobile salesman, seeking a third trial in the death of Frank McLain, 27, taxi-cab driver, October 7, 1925, will not be handed down by the appellate court at this week's session at Cadiz, it was announced today.

Postponement of a ruling in the fight of the city of Wellsville to oust Chief of Police John H. Fultz, is also expected. The decision was to have been announced next week at St. Clairsville.

Arguments Heard at Lisbon.

Arguments in the Anderson and Fultz cases were heard by the court at Lisbon during the week of November 8. Anderson is under sentence of four years and eight months in the penitentiary, this having been imposed after he was convicted for a second time upon a manslaughter charge. He had served four months in prison after his first conviction when the appellate court ordered a second trial.

Fultz was reinstated as head of the Wellsville police force after a six months' fight before the civil service commission and common pleas court. The case was carried to the appellate court upon error. Fultz has resumed work pending the court's decision.

Judges L. T. Farr, Lisbon and John Pollock, St. Clairsville, met at Cadiz this morning.

"PEACHES" WINS FIRST SKIRMISH

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 29.—"Peaches" Browning won the first skirmish in her suit for separation from her millionaire husband, Edward West Browning, today, when Justice Morschauser denied the motion of Browning's attorneys to a bill of particulars giving the exact time and place of the alleged acts contained in the complaint.

Justice Morschauser ruled, however, that if the child-bride sprang any surprises at the trial, Browning would be permitted an adjournment to prepare his defense.

Mansfield Merchant Is Fatally Injured In Auto Accident

MANSFIELD, O., Nov. 29.—William A. Stecker, 21, proprietor of a haberdashery store, died at 5:45 o'clock this morning at General hospital from injuries received Sunday evening in an auto accident on the Harding highway about seven miles west of Mansfield.

FRANK SWANEY WINS STREET CONTRACT SUIT

Permanent Injunction Against Surfacing Job Granted.

BIDS REJECTED

New Legislation is Necessary, Court Rules.

A permanent injunction, restraining the city of East Liverpool from improving Fourth street as proposed under existing legislation, was handed down today by Judge W. H. Spence in common pleas court, Lisbon, as one of his last official acts before retiring from office, in the case of Frank Swaney, taxpayer, against John W. Moore, service director of the city of East Liverpool.

Laxity in legislation on the part of the East Liverpool city council is the ground upon which the restraining order was made permanent, according to the court's order. The opinion recites that none of the witnesses called by the city at the hearing knew when the plans for the improvement were completed as the records carried no dates. No one knew whether the plans were completed before or after the determining legislation was passed.

The ruling also set forth that the city of East Liverpool had no contract with the Newell Street Railway and Bridge company relative to the improvement of that part of the street occupied by the car tracks and this would indicate the street was to be improved outside the tracks with one material and between the tracks with another material.

Patterson Held Contract.

The court held that no improvement ordinance was passed and that neither Service Director Moore nor City Engineer Clapsaddle could recall when the plans for the improve-

DOHENY STORY OF HIS "LOAN" TO FALL GOES INTO RECORD

Government is Winner in First Test of Strength.

OPINION READ

Multi-Millionaire's Statement Denies Fall Explanation.

By GEORGE E. DURNO.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The government scored a decisive victory today in its first big test of strength with the "million dollar" legal defense of ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and Edward L. Doheny, on trial for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government out of naval oil reserves.

"Reversible Error" Charged.

Justice A. A. Hoehling, in a lengthy opinion read at the opening of the trial this morning, held that Doheny's testimony before the senate oil investigating committee three years ago concerning the $100,000 he "loaned" to Fall was admissible as evidence in the present trial.

Doheny testified before the senate committee that he had let Fall have the $100,000, instead of E. B. McLean, the Washington and Cincinnati publisher, whom Fall had said loaned him the money.

Defense counsel bitterly contested the admissibility of this evidence before the jury that is now trying Fall and Doheny on criminal charges. They contended that to allow Doheny's story to go before the jury constituted grounds for "a reversible error" when and if the case is appealed. Their argument was based on that part of the federal code which says that the testimony of a witness before a committee of congress shall

Two motorists were fined upon charges of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated when they faced Municipal Judge Hanley today.

Alvin Franklin, Ogden street, was committed to the county jail in default of $100 fine. Police say he was driving a Chevrolet touring car belonging to Earl Miller when he was apprehended. A charge of automobile stealing against Franklin has been filed by Miller, but the prisoner has not been tried on this count.

Jacob Wells, Chester, was fined $50 on a similar charge. Police say that Wells collided with a car belonging to O. C. Cullom on Broadway, at 6:30 o'clock Saturday night. He paid his fine and agreed to pay for the damage done to Cullom's car.

Merritt McKay, who was arrested on St. George street, Thanksgiving evening, was fined $25 upon a charge of reckless and careless driving.

SHIPSTEAD, BALANCE OF POWER IN SENATE, IS GUEST AT WHITE HOUSE "HARMONY BREAKFAST"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—President Coolidge gave a "harmony breakfast" this morning at the White House, attended by a dozen members of the senate.

Included among the guests was Senator Hendrik Shipstead, the sole Farmer-Labor member, of Minnesota, whose vote in the seventieth senate may conceivably decide whether the Republicans or Democrats will control the chamber.

The ostensible purpose of the gathering about the White House breakfast table was to afford the executive an opportunity to discuss with the Republican leaders of the senate the legislative program for the short session, beginning next Monday. Actually it was regarded as another administration step toward the elemination of Republican factionalism, and the establishment of party harmony against the time in the seventieth senate when Republican harmony will be sorely needed.

Shipstead's inclusion among the breakfast guests caused considerably comment in political quarters. It was said to be the first time the Farmer-Laborite has ever sat at the White House table. Recently he was "invited" by Republican leaders of the senate, informally, to become affiliated with the Republicans of the upper chamber.

Others at the table this morning included Curtis of Kansas, the Republican leader; Capper of Kansas; Dale of Vermont; Bingham of Connecticut; Goff of West Virginia; Shortridge of California, Gooding of Idaho; Couzens of Michigan; Sackett of Kentucky, and Stewart of Iowa, who is to occupy the seat of the late Senator Cummins for the session.

Senator Couzens' presence also elicited some comment, as he frequently has been on the "outs" with the administration, and has fought some sanguinary battles with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. He has been irregular enough to be classified on some occasions as an insurgent.

U. S. SCORES IN OIL LAND CASE

Today

Lloyd George Worries.

Lilith by Dusk.

Marriage a Strain.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

Copyright, 1926, by the Star Co.

LLOYD GEORGE is worried about everything. Mussolini's treatment of Germans in the Tyrol, annexed to Italy, will cause war between Germany and Italy and "embroil all Europe."

Russia is the great problem, and more intelligent than our bankers that bought Kerensky's Russian bonds. Lloyd George says the danger will come "not from Bolshevism, but from the irresistible return of Russia to czarist imperialism."

ALL nations should forgive all their debts, England included, says Lloyd George, but he fears the recent United States election will prevent that. He does not mention the fact that everybody owes us, whereas we owe nobody.

What Lloyd George calls a "general jubilee which would wipe out all international debts" simply means Europe saying to Uncle Sam, "You free us of debt, and you pay the piper."

FRANK A. SIMMONDS says "America is looked upon in Europe as the common peril." Europe feels that we got all the profit out of the war, Europe got nothing. We are to live rich and happy, Europe is to worry. Europe ought to remember that Europe started the war, as she will start others probably.

Men and nations that choose to cut each other's throats have no right to hate, though they may envy, a nation or individual that stays outside the throat-cutting. American got in part way, but not all the way, luckily.

GEORGE STERLING, California poet, who committed suicide at 57 wrote "I am grown weary of permitted things" and adds "rather by dusk for Lilith would I wait, etc."

The trouble with this age, is weariness, of "permitted things." And the trouble is not confined to poets. The pig is weary of his pen, the cow of her pasture, the young man of his job, some young girls of decency and restraint. However, the "permitted things" will continue to rule.

The pig is better off in his pen, the cow in her pasture, the man at his job, the girl with chaperone and the 57-year old poets as far away as possible from "Lilith by dusk."

MADAME ALEXANDRIA KOLLONTAI, Bolshevik lady ambassador to Mexico, forbidden to enter United States territory, lest she should undermine our political and other morals, tells us about marriage. "It is," says she, "a big strain on romance. Madame Kollontai speaks English, French, Italian, German, Norwegian, as well as Russian. In any of those languages, she will tell you that woman has not enough freedom She is opposed to "free love" but says "the new woman does not deny her female nature. She does not dodge life, nor reject joys."

RULING ON ANDERSON TRIAL DEFERRED

Absence of Jurist Probably Will Necessitate Postponement of Decision in Wellsville Police Chief's Fight.

Owing to the absence of Judge James Roberts, Ashtabula county, who has been called to Cincinnati by the serious illness of his sister, decision upon the application of George A. Anderson, 43, East Liverpool automobile salesman, seeking a third trial in the death of Frank McLain, 27, taxi-cab driver, October 7, 1925, will not be handed down by the appellate court at this week's session at Cadiz, it was announced today.

Postponement of a ruling in the fight of the city of Wellsville to oust Chief of Police John H. Fultz, is also expected. The decision was to have been announced next week at St. Clairsville.

Arguments Heard at Lisbon.

Arguments in the Anderson and Fultz cases were heard by the court at Lisbon during the week of November 8. Anderson is under sentence of four years and eight months in the penitentiary, this having been imposed after he was convicted for a second time upon a manslaughter charge. He had served four months in prison after his first conviction when the appellate court ordered a second trial.

Fultz was reinstated as head of the Wellsville police force after a six months' fight before the civil service commission and common pleas court. The case was carried to the appellate court upon error. Fultz has resumed work pending the court's decision.

Judges L. T. Farr, Lisbon and John Pollock, St. Clairsville, met at Cadiz this morning.

Teamster Escapes As His Automobile Plunges Into River

M. L. Parsons, Third street teamster, had a narrow escape from drowning when his touring car plunged over a 20-foot embankment into the Ohio river near the T. A. McNicol pottery on the River road at 7 o'clock last night.

Parsons tore away the side curtains on the car and swam to shore. His machine was submerged.

The accident occurred when Parsons was attempting to turn on the road. While shifting gears, the car was paced in reverse and before he could bring it to a stop, it started over the bank into the water.

The car was pulled from the river today by the McElravy Brothers' truck after Parsons had made an unsuccessful attempt to move it with a team of horses.

Man Gives His Life to Save Wife and Three Children.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Samuel Weiner, 35, and his sons, Homan, 10, and Isadore, 7, were burned to death in a fire which swept a Cherry street tenement early today.

Mrs. Mary Gelfand, 40, sprained her wrist when she jumped from a window, and Michael Donato, 41, was burned severely.

The fire was accompanied by a mysterious explosion, and officials began an investigation of its origin.

Weiner died saving his wife and three of his children. They, with 75 other tenants, escaped on ladders and over the roofs.

Mrs. Adeline M'Lane Dies in Her Home In Jefferson Street

Mrs. Adeline McLane, a widow and lifelong resident of Columbiana county, died yesterday in her home, 307 Jefferson street, after an illness of a complication of diseases.

Mrs. McLane, who was born in Madison township, was a member of the United Presbyterian church.

She is survived by three sons and two daughters: Clark, Delbert, Clyde, Mrs. George Campbell and Adda, all of this city. She is also survived by one brother, Wilse Van Fossan, Cleveland.

LEGION SOCIETY MEETS THURSDAY

Election and installation of officers will feature a meeting of Columbiana County Voiture No. 273, Societies Des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux which will be held in the Lisbon village hall Thursday evening. H. E. Gleckler, Salem, is chef de gare, while S. J. Adams, Wellsville, is correspondant locale.

THREE WOUNDED IN DRY RAID

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—The mother of three children, her husband and one police officer, were lying seriously wounded in a hospital here today following a dry raid on the home of John Sastewski, alleged moonshiner.

Sastewski fired on the officers when they entered his home, wounding Detective Leslie Larson. In the exchange of shots, Sastewski himself fell wounded.

Mrs. Sastewski was knocked unconscious with the butt of an officer's pistol.

TWO AIRMEN DIE IN PLANE CRASH

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—An inquest will be held today over the bodies of two Chicago aviators who lost their lives when the antiquated plane in which they were doing "stunts" collapsed in mid-air and crashed 1,500 feet.

Richard Musch, 36, a paving contractor, and A. K. Carlitz, pilot, were the men killed.

MRS. HALL SAYS SHE DOES NOT BELIEVE STORY OF TRYSTING

Defendant Resumes Stand in Murder Trial.

Swears She Never Noticed Slain Husband's Actions.

BY JAMES K. KILGALLEN.

COURTHOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 29.—Under a blistering cross-examination by Prosecutor Alexander Simpson, Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall today calmly, almost disdainfully, denied that she took "any part whatever" in the murder of her husband, the Rev. Edward W. Hall, and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills.

COURT HOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, testifying in her own behalf, swore today she does not believe "even now," that a love affair existed four years ago between her husband, the Rev. Edward W. Hall, and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, who were found shot to death in a "lover's" lane on the night of September 14, 1922.

"You never noticed any affections between your husband and Mrs. Mills?" Prosecutor Alexander Simpson asked her in an amazed tone.

"I didn't," she replied evenly, "and I don't believe it now—that they were in love with each other."

"I Don't Believe," She Says.

Simpson had called the attention of the black-garbed defendant to the ardent love letters that had been found near the bodies—the letters that had been read in court recently.

"You don't believe it now with all these letters and papers read in this court?" shouted Simpson.

"I don't believe it," she said, firmly, in her low modulated voice.

The prosecutor presented some letters—exhibits—for her to examine. She did so carelessly.

"I don't believe it," she reiterated.

She denied knowing of the existence of the letters, either the letters found near the bodies or those later found at the home of James Mills, husband of the slain woman.

"Did you ever see this prayer Rev. Hall wrote for Mrs. Mills when she was in the hospital?"

"No, I never did."

"You didn't overhear the telephone conversation between Mrs. Mills and your husband when she told Dr. Hall

THREE AUTOS REPORTED STOLEN

A. W. Ware, 809 Broadway, Wellsville, reported to the police at 12:40 o'clock this afternoon that his Chevrolet sedan had been stolen while parked on West Fifth street during the noon hour. The car carried license No. 350-007 and was valued at $875.

A Ford roadster belonging to Cecil Statler, Newell, was stolen while parked on Broadway, Saturday night, and driven to Thompson park where it was stripped of its tires and battery, according to a report at police headquarters.

Samuel Howell, First avenue, reported that his Ford touring car was taken from its parking place on St. Clair avenue while he was attending services at the Nezarene church last night. The license number on the machine was 240-561.

Lones Qualities As Judge; Will Assume Duties Tomorrow

Wellsville Lawyer Succeeds Judge W. H. Spence on Common Pleas Court Bench.

Attorney W. F. Lones, Wellsville, was to qualify as judge of the Columbiana county common pleas court at Lisbon this afternoon, to serve the unexpired term of the late Judge James G. Moore. Lones was to be sworn in by Frank Ballantine, clerk of the court.

Judge Lones will perform his first court work tomorrow, an assignment having been arranged by Clerk Ballantine. Judge W. H. Spence, Lisbon, who was appointed by Governor Donahey last spring, presided in the court this morning.

Lones' new court bailiff, James W. Stevenson, Yellow Creek township, will also assume his duties tomorrow. Stevenson will succeed Bernard Sultner, of Lisbon, who has been bailiff for six years.

Reorganization of the Lones, Hill & Davidson law firm, of which Lones has been a member for seven years, will take place upon the return of Walter B. Hill from California within the next 30 days.

Snowstorm Halts Attempts to Free Grounded Vessel

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Nov. 29.—Due to a heavy snowstorm, no attempts have been made to free any of the boats grounded near here.

The steamer Ingalls of the Boland and Cornelius line is still grounded while the tug Iowa is standing by.

The steamer Field of the Reiss Steamship company, which is still hard aground off Pipe island, is awaiting help from Port Huron. It was expected she would be lightered and freed before 6 p. m., but unless the wind and snow squalls cease no attempt will be made to free her.

WELLSVILLE R BBERS ATTEMPT TO CRACK SAFE

YOUTHFUL GANG BREAKS INTO HIGH SCHOOL

Force Window in Basement, Pry Off Door.

GET FEW CENTS

Money Taken From Desk of Superintendent S. E. Daw.

With two boys, each under 15, held as suspects, Wellsville police today were pressing their investigation of an attempt to crack the safe in the high school building in Center street, between Ninth and Tenth streets.

Although the authorities declined to discuss the inquiry, it developed that a gang of youths broke into the school building late Friday night, ransacked the desk in the office of Superintendent S. E. Daw and failed in an effort to force open the safe from which they knocked off the knob.

A smal amount of change is said to have been taken from the school chieftain's desk, but so far as known little other loot was obtained.

The intruders broke a window to effect an entrance into the sewing room in the basement. They then forced open a door leading to the first floor, pried open the door to the superintendent's office and ransacked the desk.

It is understood police will question the two prisoners in an effort to learn the identity of other members of the youthful gang. As yet no charges have been preferred.

FERN LEAF CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

Members of the Fern Leaf club were entertained by Mrs. Earl Ward at her home in Boyce avenue Friday evening.

The evening was spent with music and games as the pastimes. Contests were won by Mrs. Homer Todd and Mrs. John Hand.

The club discussed plans for a Christmas party to be held at the Parish house, Eleventh and Center streets, Saturday, December 18.

The hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Geraldine Ward and Mrs Dwight Moorehead served a four-course luncheon.

WELLSVILLE ROBBERS ATTEMPT TO CRACK SAFE

YOUTHFUL GANG BREAKS INTO HIGH SCHOOL

Force Window in Basement, Pry Off Door.

GET FEW CENTS

Money Taken From Desk of Superintendent S. E. Daw.

With two boys, each under 15, held as suspects, Wellsville police today were pressing their investigation of an attempt to crack the safe in the high school building in Center street, between Ninth and Tenth streets.

Although the authorities declined to discuss the inquiry, it developed that a gang of youths broke into the school building late Friday night, ransacked the desk in the office of Superintendent S. E. Daw and failed in an effort to force open the safe from which they knocked off the knob.

A smal amount of change is said to have been taken from the school chieftain's desk, but so far as known little other loot was obtained.

The intruders broke a window to effect an entrance into the sewing room in the basement. They then forced open a door leading to the first floor, pried open the door to the superintendent's office and ransacked the desk.

It is understood police will question the two prisoners in an effort to learn the identity of other members of the youthful gang. As yet no charges have been preferred.

FERN LEAF CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

Members of the Fern Leaf club were entertained by Mrs. Earl Ward at her home in Boyce avenue Friday evening.

Women Need a Mild Laxative -Not a "Physic"

Countless girls and women now know how foolish and needless it is to "purge" and "physic" themselves to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, sallow skin, colds, or sour, gassy stomach.

They have found that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even for those heretofore—chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate girl or woman. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

"LA BOHEME" WINS PLAUDITS

Latin Quarter Story on Screen at American.

La Boheme!

The gay abandon of artists and poets in the Latin Quarter; the effervescence of true Parisians!

The ardent love of a poet whose soul breathes romance—of a maiden whose every thought is a poem—a flower of France.

Hope—grief—despair—and a faith that passeth understanding!

"La Boheme," a story that has thundered down the ages—that has charmed millions, has come to the screen — a masterpiece as always. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first starring vehicle of the fairylike Lillian Gish, now playing at the American theatre, is a milestone in the art of the screen drama.

Lillian Gish has given the world "Romola," "The White Sister," and other great roles,—but she literally IS Mimi, waif of the art quarter; wistful idol of a poet's heart, whose last breath is a vow of undying love. She is inspiration and happiness—and untold woe. She is the embodiment of the tragedy of womankind.

The famous story was adapted from the Henri Murger novel, the original romance, rather than from the opera, which only used an episode in it—and the result is a story of dramatic power that those who know the opera would never suspect. It grips the audience with its mastery of human emotions, but never for an instant does it lose that evanescent spell of entertainment.

King Vidor's direction, faultless and artistic, was well expended on a remarkable cast. John Gilbert as Rodolphe, the romantic poet lover handles the most difficult role possible with that rare understanding that makes it life itself, and Renee Adoree is charmingly French as Musetta.

Roy D'Arcy adds to the laurels he won in "The Merry Widow," with his portrayal of the suave boulevardier, Paul, while Edward Everett Horton and George Hassell as Rodolphe's Bohemian friends are a rare comedy folk. Karl Dane as the kind hearted concierge, Frank Currier as the dignified theatrical manager, Rosita Marstini as the motherly wife of the concierge, add subtle touches of talent. The staging and photography are marvelous.

Coupon books giving reduced rates to traveling salesmen are being considered by India railway officials.

Women Find

Great comfort in this new hygienic pad that discards easily as tissue—no laundry

ON many important counts, women are deserting the old-time "sanitary pad."

There is a new way. A way that multiplies protection. A way, too, that solves the old problem and embarrassment of disposal.

It is called "KOTEX." Ends the insecurity of the old-time sanitary pad. Five times as absorbent! And deodorizes—ends ALL fear of offending.

✓ As easily disposed of as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." You ask for it without hesitancy.

Costs only a few cents. Eight in 10 better-class women employ it. Proves old ways an unnecessary risk.

Warm Comfort In Every Room
WITH THE LATEST IMPROVED
Anchor Hot Blast Heater

Wherever heating stoves are used the Anchor Hot Blast proves its superiority—proves that in down-right eficiency, in convenience, in actual economy, it is without an equal.

This superiority is not an accident, but is the result of many years of practical and scientific heating stove manufacture and practical tests.

The features of construction the Anchor Hot Blast Heater meet every requirement of heating-stove efficiency and long-time service. Highest quality materials, expert workmanship and scientific design combine to give a heating result unequalled in this type of heater.

The Anchor Hot Blast will burn any fuel—hard coal, soft coal, lignite, wood or coke, giving a uniform heat under perfect control, and slow economical combustion. Because of the hot-blast feature, the gases from soft coat are completely burned, making a ton of soft coal equal to a ton or more of expensive hard coal.

Careful attention has been applied to every detail of construction. And it is mounted absolutely airtight and remains airtight, because these details have been perfected and made practical.

In addition to a fine appearance that will last the life of the stove, the Anchor Hot Blast offers real home comfort and a saving of 25 per cent on your fuel bill.

Study these construction features. Know that your Anchor Hot Blast will save its cost out of the coal bin and pay dividends for years to come in warm home comfort and satisfaction.

All sizes 16, 18, 20 inch firebowl — make a small payment at time of purchase, you can pay through the coming year.

Palmer Smith of the New York Evening World after viewing the picture, wrote as follows:

"In 'La Boheme' King Vidor has scored another directorial triumph comparable to 'The Big Parade,' and comparable because 'La Boheme,' too, is one of the truly great motion pictures. At the Embassy theatre last evening an audience including practically the motion picture 'Who's Who' in New York was moved to tears by this simple story of a great love among the lesser loves. The pure tragedy of the final scenes left the spectators with lumps in their throats, as many sought out King Vidor and John Gilbert with words of appreciation and admiration.

Women Need a Mild Laxative —Not a "Physic"

Countless girls and women now know how foolish and needless it is to "purge" and "physic" themselves to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, sallow skin, colds, or sour, gassy stomach.

They have found that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even for those heretofore chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate girl or woman. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

"LA BOHEME" WINS PLAUDITS

Latin Quarter Story on Screen at American.

La Boheme!

The gay abandon of artists and poets in the Latin Quarter; the effervescence of true Parisians!

The ardent love of a poet whose soul breathes romance—of a maiden whose every thought is a poem—a flower of France.

Hope—grief—despair—and a faith that passeth understanding!

"La Boheme," a story that has thundered down the ages—that has charmed millions, has come to the screen — a masterpiece as always. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first starring vehicle of the fairylike Lillian Gish, now playing at the American theatre, is a milestone in the art of the screen drama.

Lillian Gish has given the world "Romola," "The White Sister," and other great roles,—but she literally IS Mimi, waif of the art quarter; wistful idol of a poet's heart, whose last breath is a vow of undying love. She is inspiration and happiness—and untold woe. She is the embodiment of the tragedy of womankind.

The famous story was adapted from the Henri Murger novel, the original romance, rather than from the opera, which only used an episode in it—and the result is a story of dramatic power that those who know the opera would never suspect. It grips the audience with its mastery of human emotions, but never for an instant does it lose that evanescent spell of entertainment.

King Vidor's direction, faultless and artistic, was well expended on a remarkable cast. John Gilbert as Rodolphe, the romantic poet lover handles the most difficult role possible with that rare understanding that makes it life itself, and Renee Adoree is charmingly French as Musetta.

Roy D'Arcy adds to the laurels he won in "The Merry Widow," with his portrayal of the suave boulevardier, Paul, while Edward Everett Horton and George Hassell as Rodolphe's Bohemian friends are a rare comedy foil. Karl Dane as the kind hearted concierge, Frank Currier as the dignified theatrical manager, Rosita Marstini as the motherly wife of the concierge, add subtle touches of talent. The staging and photography are marvelous.

Women Find

Great comfort in this new hygienic pad that discards easily as tissue—no laundry

ON many important counts, women are deserting the old-time "sanitary pad."

There is a new way. A way that multiplies protection. A way, too, that solves the old problem and embarrassment of disposal.

It is called "KOTEX." Ends the insecurity of the old-time sanitary pad. Five times as absorbent! And deodorizes—ends ALL fear of offending.

✔ As easily disposed of as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." You ask for it without hesitancy.

Costs only a few cents. Eight in 10 better-class women employ it. Proves old ways an unnecessary risk.

Warm Comfort In Every Room

WITH THE LATEST IMPROVED

Anchor Hot Blast Heater

Wherever heating stoves are used the Anchor Hot Blast proves its superiority—proves that in down-right eficiency, in convenience, in actual economy, it is without an equal.

This superiority is not an accident, but is the result of many years of practical and scientific heating stove manufacture and practical tests.

The features of construction the Anchor Hot Blast Heater meet every requirement of heating-stove efficiency and long-time service. Highest quality materials, expert workmanship and scientific design combine to give a heating result unequalled in this type of heater.

The Anchor Hot Blast will burn any fuel—hard coal, soft coal, lignite, wood or coke, giving a uniform heat under perfect control, and slow economical combustion. Because of the hot-blast feature, the gases from soft coat are completely burned, making a ton of soft coal equal to a ton or more of expensive hard coal.

Careful attention has been applied to every detail of construction. And it is mounted absolutely airtight and remains airtight, because these details have been perfected and made practical.

In addition to a fine appearance that will last the life of the stove, the Anchor Hot Blast offers real home comfort and a saving of 25 per cent on your fuel bill.

Study these construction features. Know that your Anchor Hot Blast will save its cost out of the coal bin and pay dividends for years to come in warm home comfort and satisfaction.

All sizes 16, 18, 20 inch firebowl — make a small payment at time of purchase, you can pay through the coming year.

PRODUCED with the greatest star cast of motion picture history, headed by Lillian Gish and John Gilbert, directed by the man who made "The Big Parade," one of the world's best-loved romances is here now in a film masterpiece. It is a gorgeous picture of gayety, beauty and pathos, in the colorful setting of Paris artist life.

Palmer Smith of the New York Evening World after viewing the picture, wrote as follows:

"In 'La Boheme' King Vidor has scored another directorial triumph comparable to 'The Big Parade,' and comparable because 'La Boheme,' too, is one of the truly great motion pictures. At the Embassy theatre last evening an audience including practically the motion picture 'Who's Who' in New York was moved to tears by this simple story of a great love among the lesser loves. The pure tragedy of the final scenes left the spectators with lumps in their throats, as many sought out King Vidor and John Gilbert with words of appreciation and admiration.

Men's Work For Boys

"Everything Henry Ford does," says his friend, Thomas A. Edison, "is done for publicity." In this respect, as in others, Ford usually gets what he goes after, because his ideas are so striking that, whether right or wrong, they can soldom be ignored.

Nobody should want to ignore his latest project, which is fighting the devil in the younger generation by putting it to work.

"As an experiment," he announced the other day, his company has instructed its employment heads to take on 5,000 boys between the ages of 16 and 20 as quickly as possible, giving them men's work and "independence" wages.

He doesn't take any stock in the prevalent notion that boys and girls have degenerated, says Mr. Ford. But he does realize that the time following their release from school, before they take up any regular occupation, is a critical period. If they do not find satisfactory work after a short quest, they may drift into thriftless or evil ways. He airs to catch the boys and get them into self-respecting habits of industry before they start drifting.

It is doubtless good psychology to give a boy "man's work," if there is enough of it to go around. Also to pay the boy what a man would be paid for the same work. Boys tend to rise to such treatment, doing what is expected of them. Every boy likes to feel himself a man. It is an experiment that will be observed with widespread interest.

Money For Instruction

Yale's call for a large sum of money to be employed entirely in improving her instruction is greeted as a startling innovation in college fund campaigns. New buildings, stadiums, physical equipment of all sorts, are the usual allurements offered by institutions of higher learning in asking people to donate money to endowment funds.

The quality of instruction in Yale and elsewhere probably needs and deserves more attention and more money spent on it. As colleges and universities have felt the inrush of increasing numbers of students, classes have grown large. Personal contact between pupils and teachers has almost vanished. Youthful instructors with little experience, fresh from their own college days, have stepped into collegiate teaching positions.

More teachers, better equipped teachers, teachers with a special gift for research and others with a special gift for developing and inspiring their young pupils, are needed on the faculties of most colleges and universities. That one of the older and larger universities should recognize and act upon this need so frankly is a hopeful educational sign.

Foresighted Forestry

New York State's reforestation activities are gaining in size and effectiveness. The state conservation commissioner reports that 20,481,112 trees were distributed from state nurseries in 1926 as compared with 10,380,000 in 1925. This year's total planting, in fact, exceeds the combined plantings of 1924 and 1925, and a trifle more than equals the aggregate plantings in the first 14 years of the New York movement.

Where are all these trees being set out and cared for? All over the state. Municipalities, schools, industrial concerns get the trees from the state nurseries and plant them. The State itself is reforesting large tracts of land. Private landowners, too, are following the public example and setting out trees in unprecedented numbers. The Roosevelt Forest is such a public plantation of 2,000,000 trees set out this year on a 2,000-acre tract.

Along with the planting of trees goes the development of better protection for them in the matter of fire control and prevention.

New York sets a fine example to every community or individual or family owning land suitable for tree-planting.

The Hardy Sex

Women don't complain about the cold half so much as men," says a prominent physician.

And this in spite of the fact that they wear lighter clothing, and less of it.

The mystery used to be explained by the theory that women were upholstered with layers of fat, like whales or seals, and so didn't feel the cold so much. That theory hardly holds water at a time when women, by starvation diet, are making themselves thinner than men for fashion's sake.

We're driven to admit that women are naturally hardier than men physically, or else have more courage.

A bridge in Medford, Ore., is found to be resting on piers of gold quartz. Gold makes a better basis for currency than for bridges. First thing we know, they'll be singing, Medford bridge is falling down."

We seem to have incurred a lot of unpopularity by going into war, and would have incurred a great deal more if we had stayed out of it.

The war, after all, has not been fought in vain. There is peace at last in Marie's entourage.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Diary of a modern Pepys: Up and a fine sun shining and set out to walk meeting Frank Case, the inn keeper, and he told of his stay in Europe and also saw Somerset Maugham idling before a window and was tempted to speak with him, admiring his writings greatly.

Home at my stint and Anita Loos enroute to California, came, and sat awhile and a brilliant lady she is. Casting my accounts I find myself without debts but with little put by which is a pity yet I sometimes feel happier harassed by financial worries.

In the evening to a dinner and talked to Colonel E. M. House about Texas, a state that interests me greatly so much so I have acquired a home there and expect to occupy it in old age. So to bed.

Broadway was recently regaled with details of a terrific early a. m. battle in which a highly exploited stage beauty received a moused eye. Amazonian ladies are numerous along the Playful Path. They swing from the ankle with the agility of a Dempsey.

It used to be when a lady felt her dignity had suffered in a public place she withdrew in tears and as a final rebuke quit speaking to the offender. Today suffering such an effront, she will leap from the table to claw, punch and bite or perhaps bend a bottle over some bobbed head.

There are any number of Broadway women, beautiful in their flashy way, who are known as scrappers and when they show signs of temper there is a white faced silence and a lot of conciliatory petting. Cafés would rather have men battle than women.

Men are easily separated in such quarrels and with a few more drinks probably snap into a waltz. The female of the species differs. Once she has determined to battle she is difficult to stop and will likely turn on anyone who interferes.

A group of football enthusiasts arriving on a special car a few weeks ago brought along one of the characters of their small town—an amiable half wit. Somehow he got separated from them and wandered about New York streets in a fog of bewilderment. When finally found it was discovered he had not eaten for three days and had developed symptoms of pneumonia from exposure. There is something cruel about such a lark.

In our town Silly Joe has roamed the streets for more than 50 years. They smile at him behind his back but there isn't a man in town who wouldn't fight to save him from mistreatment.

A spendthrift New Yorker is reported to have paid a fat fee to have a sky writer trace the name of his girl friend against the clouds while she looked on admiringly. That's money going up in smoke with a vengeance.

Two manicure girls in Wall Street have retired with comfortable fortunes made from market tips given them by customers. An assistant hotel manager recently returned to Cheko-Slovakia after three years in New York with $190,000. He gave his first $1,000 to a broker who lived in the hotel and the fortune resulted. These are, of course, high lights in speculation. The deep shadows are the growing thousands who lose all and drift to despairing poverty.

Despite warnings and exposures of worthless stocks, shady brokers can afford to chuckle. The public continues to buy two billions worth a year. Burnt children in Wall Street are not afraid of the fire. They romp back for fresh blisters. One of the shrewdest of fake stock manipulators spend $100,000 a year merely to send glittering mail bait to suckers.

A WARNING WORD TO A FRIEND.

Bob Loftus, a friend of mine out in Cleveland, has relayed this one to me:

According to Loftus, two Irishmen, newly landed, got jobs as laborers in a small machine shop on the second story of a loft-building, so-called, on the lowest West Side of New York. Under the fire regulations smoking by the operatives was not permitted while they were on duty. During their first morning in their new place one of the green hands, whose name was Donlan, craved a few comforting whiffs from his pipe. He voiced his desire and a friendly fellow employee confided to him that in such cases it was customary to ask leave of the foreman to go to the washroom and there to steal a clandestine smoke.

Thus advised, Donlan approached his boss and inquired the whereabouts of the washroom.

"Go down the hall," said the foreman, "and take the first turn to the right, and the second door you come to after that is the door to the lavatory."

Donlan undertook to follow instructions but he made a mistake. In the darkness he took a turn to the left instead of the righthand turn and opening a second door stepped into the elevator shaft and struck with a bump on the ground floor.

Presently he came back upstairs. He was sweeping up rubbish when O'Day, his buddy, asked him where the washroom was. O'Day also felt the need of the solace of tobacco.

Donlan gave him the direction as he remembered it and as O'Day turned to go he called out to him:

"But say, Larry, look out for the top step—it's a son-of-a-gun!"

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Production of Precious Stones.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Somebody is always taking the joy out of life with dismal prophecies. Not long ago a warning was sounded to the effect that the population of the world was increasing so rapidly that in a comparatively short time enough food could not be produced to feed all the people.

A little later came the petroleum scare. Oil and its products were being consumed at such a rate that the world's supply would be exhausted in seven or eight years. A new fuel would have to be invented for automotive vehicles, to take the place of gasoline, or people would have to return to the good old natural engine that operated on oats and hay.

Then came the distressing news in the form of a report that there was in prospect a serious shortage in the production of diamonds. This was almost enough to create a panic among chorus girls and queens who depend upon a steady output of the premier gem in order to keep them supplied with bracelets, anklets, tiaras, crowns, stomachers, and the like. Also it was a severe jolt to the marriage business. How can folks become engaged without solitaires, or married without the narrow jeweled bands that have superseded the old balloon tire type of wedding ring?

Happily, however, the report about the failure of the diamond crop was erroneous. It is true that the sales for 1925 exceeded the output by a substantial amount, but that is explained by the steadying of the market by the new diamond syndicate, which was interested in having the excess yield of the previous year absorbed.

In fact, the Union of South Africa, which contiaues to be the leading producer of diamonds has at present known reserves that are sufficient to keep up the supply for a hundred years or more. During 1925 the Union produced about 70 per cent of the value of the world's production of diamonds, and if the mandated territory of Southwest Africa be included, the proposition is raised to over 81 per cent.

Diamonds By the Ton.

Diamonds are valued and sold by the carat, but the mines of the Union of South Africa have produced them by the ton. Production began about 60 years ago, in 1867, to be exact, and since that time the total production has amounted to approximately 40 tons, valued at more than $1,250,000,000. If there are no more new discoveries in that territory, which is almost inconceivable, the visible supply will last for a century or more. And 40 tons of diamonds, it has been estimated, would make more than 200,000,000 fair-sized engagement rings.

George Frederick Kunz, of New York, who is recognized as one of the world's leading experts on precious stones, says that the jewel market at present is on the up and up. There has never been a greater demand for large, choice gems than at the present time, he says, especially for ring stones and single stones, whether a diamond, sapphire, ruby, or emerald, in counter-distinction to clusters and other ornaments. The emerald cut and square-cut diamonds are especially desired and stones to more than 20 carats are being worn.

This would not have been the case a dozen years ago, says Mr. Kunz. He might have added that there are numerous families in which 20-carat diamonds, however fashionable they may be, are not being worn now and never will be worn.

But in explaining what is the mode, the expert says that in 1925 the tendency to wear large single-stone diamonds in preference to groups has been more than counterbalanced by the sale of the small stones in jewel bracelets. Never have so many bracelets been worn and so many worn at one time, exceeding even a dozen on one arm, and in turn varying from a single row of stones to bracelets of more than an inch and a quarter in width. These are worn in connection with ruby, sapphire, and emerald bracelets, all colors on one arm, making a space of from four to six inches of solid jeweling.

Queen Marie of Rumania was reported on one occasion during her tour of the United States to have worn so many bracelets on one arm that it was in effect gauntleted from wrist to elbow. What the queen did, other women will be doing, if they can garner the gems to make the splurge.

Imports Show an Increase.

Mr. Kunz compiles the statistics of precious stones every year, not only on production, but on imports into the United States. For 1925 the import figures totaled $75,270,956, of which about $60,000,000 was in diamonds. Pearls constituted an item of roughly $6,800,000, other precious and semi-precious stones came to almost $5,000,000, and imitation precious stones that were dutiable amounted to more than $2,000,000.

The total diamond production for the year was 4,298,128 carats, valued at 11,853,123 pounds sterling. It will thus be seen that the United States alone supplied a greater market for diamonds in 1925 than the total diamond production. Next to the Union of South Africa the Belgian Congo with

And this in spite of the fact that they wear lighter clothing, and less of it.

The mystery used to be explained by the theory that women were upholstered with layers of fat, like whales or seals, and so didn't feel the cold so much. That theory hardly holds water at a time when women, by starvation diet, are making themselves thinner than men for fashion's sake.

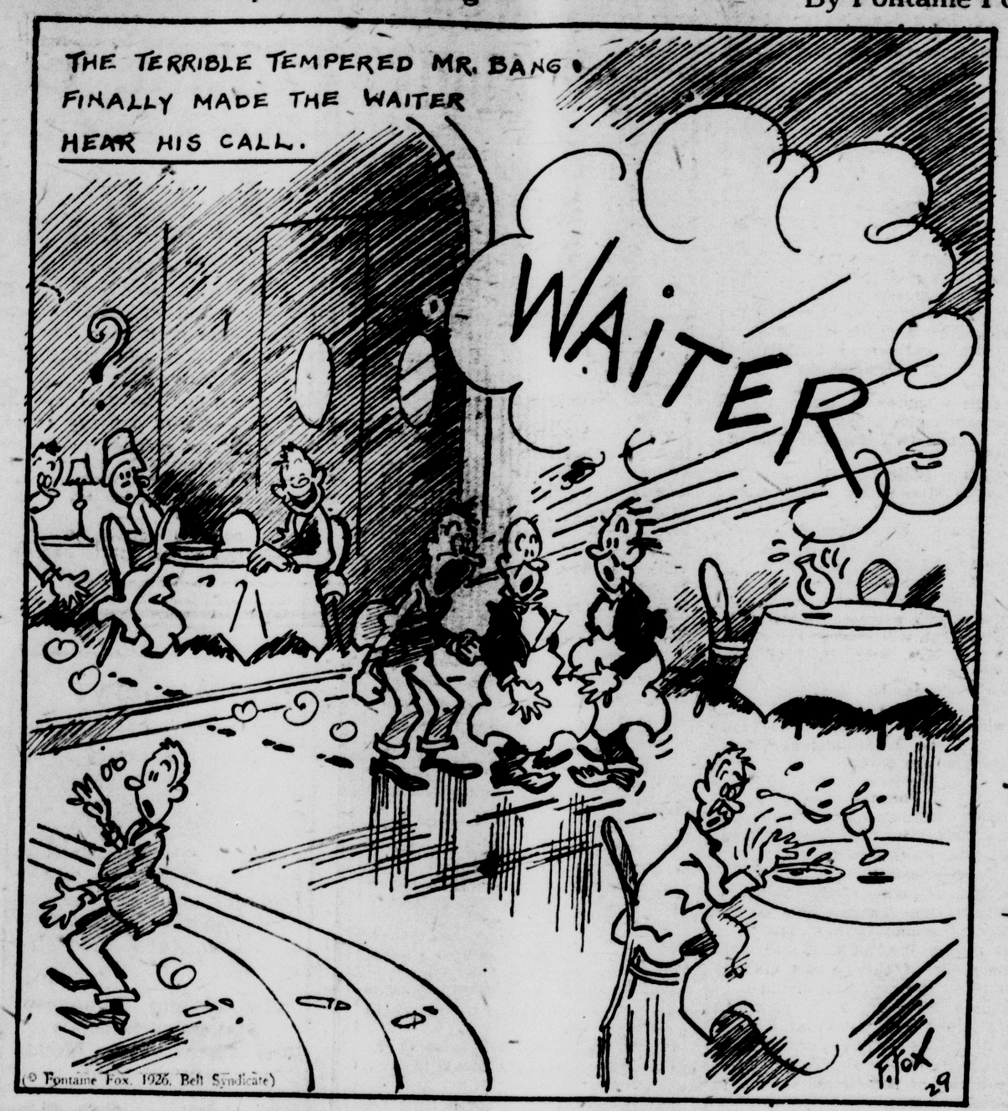

We're driven to admit that women are naturally hardier than men physically, or else have more courage.

We seem to have incurred a lot of unpopularity by going into war, and would have incurred a great deal more if we had stayed out of it.

The war, after all, has not been fought in vain. There is peace at last in Marie's entourage.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Diary of a modern Pepys: Up and a fine sun shining and set out to walk meeting Frank Case, the inn keeper, and he told of his stay in Europe and also saw Somerset Maugham idling before a window and was tempted to speak with him, admiring his writings greatly.

Home at my stint and Anita Loos enroute to California, came, and sat awhile and a brilliant lady she is. Casting my accounts I find myself without debts but with little put by which is a pity yet I sometimes feel happier harassed by financial worries.

In the evening to a dinner and talked to Colonel E. M. House about Texas, a state that interests me greatly so much so I have acquired a home there and expect to occupy it in old age. So to bed.

Broadway was recently regaled with details of a terrific early a. m. battle in which a highly exploited stage beauty received a moused eye. Amazonian ladies are numerous along the Playful Path. They swing from the ankle with the agility of a Dempsey.

It used to be when a lady felt her dignity had suffered in a public place she withdrew in tears and as a final rebuke quit speaking to the offender. Today suffering such an effront, she will leap from the table to claw, punch and bite or perhaps bend a bottle over some bobbed head.

There are any number of Broadway women, beautiful in their flashy way, who are known as scrappers and when they show signs of temper there is a white faced silence and a lot of conciliatory petting. Cafés would rather have men battle than women.

Men are easily separated in such quarrels and with a few more drinks probably snap into a waltz. The female of the species differs. Once she has determined to battle she is difficult to stop and will likely turn on anyone who interferes.

A group of football enthusiasts arriving on a special car a few weeks ago brought along one of the characters of their small town—an amiable half wit. Somehow he got separated from them and wandered about New York streets in a fog of bewilderment. When finally found it was discovered he had not eaten for three days and had developed symptoms of pneumonia from exposure. There is something cruel about such a lark.

In our town Silly Joe has roamed the streets for more than 50 years. They smile at him behind his back but there isn't a man in town who wouldn't fight to save him from mistreatment.

A spendthrift New Yorker is reported to have paid a fat fee to have a sky writer trace the name of his girl friend against the clouds while she looked on admiringly. That's money going up in smoke with a vengeance.

Two manicure girls in Wall Street have retired with comfortable fortunes made from market tips given them by customers. An assistant hotel manager recently returned to Cheko-Slovakia after three years in New York with $190,000. He gave his first $1,000 to a broker who lived in the hotel and the fortune resulted. These are, of course, high lights in speculation. The deep shadows are the growing thousands who lose all and drift to despairing poverty.

Despite warnings and exposures of worthless stocks, shady brokers can afford to chuckle. The public continues to buy two billions worth a year. Burnt children in Wall Street are not afraid of the fire. They romp back for fresh blisters. One of the shrewdest of fake stock manipulators spend $100,000 a year merely to send glittering mail bait to suckers.

A WARNING WORD TO A FRIEND.

Bob Loftus, a friend of mine out in Cleveland, has relayed this one to me:

According to Loftus, two Irishmen, newly landed, got jobs as laborers in a small machine shop on the second story of a loft-building, so-called, on the lowest West Side of New York. Under the fire regulations smoking by the operatives was not permitted while they were on duty. During their first morning in their new place one of the green hands, whose name was Donlan, craved a few comforting whiffs from his pipe. He voiced his desire and a friendly fellow employee confided to him that in such cases it was customary to ask leave of the foreman to go to the washroom and there to steal a clandestine smoke.

Thus advised, Donlan approached his boss and inquired the whereabouts of the washroom.

"Go down the hall," said the foreman, "and take the first turn to the right, and the second door you come to after that is the door to the lavatory."

Donlan undertook to follow instructions but he made a mistake. In the darkness he took a turn to the left instead of the righthand turn and opening a second door stepped into the elevator shaft and struck with a bump on the ground floor.

Presently he came back upstairs. He was sweeping up rubbish when O'Day, his buddy, asked him where the washroom was. O'Day also felt the need of the solace of tobacco.

Donlan gave him the direction as he remembered it and as O'Day turned to go he called out to him:

"But say, Larry, look out for the top step—it's a son-of-a-gun!"

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Production of Precious Stones.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Somebody is always taking the joy out of life with dismal prophecies. Not long ago a warning was sounded to the effect that the population of the world was increasing so rapidly that in a comparatively short time enough food could not be produced to feed all the people.

A little later came the petroleum scare. Oil and its products were being consumed at such a rate that the world's supply would be exhausted in seven or eight years. A new fuel would have to be invented for automotive vehicles to take the place of gasoline, or people would have to return to the good old natural engine that operated on oats and hay.

Then came the distressing news in the form of a report that there was in prospect a serious shortage in the production of diamonds. This was almost enough to create a panic among chorus girls and queens who depend upon a steady output of the premier gem in order to keep them supplied with bracelets, anklets, tiaras, crowns, stomachers and the like. Also it was a severe jolt to the marriage business. How can folks become engaged without solitaires, or married without the narrow jeweled bands that have superseded the old balloon tire type of wedding ring?

Happily, however, the report about the failure of the diamond crop was erroneous. It is true that the sales for 1925 exceeded the output by a substantial amount, but that is explained by the steadying of the market by the new diamond syndicate, which was interested in having the excess yield of the previous year absorbed.

In fact, the Union of South Africa, which contiaues to be the leading producer of diamonds has at present known reserves that are sufficient to keep up the supply for a hundred years or more. During 1925 the Union produced about 70 per cent of the value of the world's production of diamonds, and if the mandated territory of Southwest Africa be included, the proposition is raised to over 81 per cent.

Diamonds By the Ton.

Diamonds are valued and sold by the carat, but the mines of the Union of South Africa have produced them by the ton. Production began about 60 years ago, in 1867, to be exact, and since that time the total production has amounted to approximately 40 tons, valued at more than $1,250,000,000. If there are no more new discoveries in that territory, which is almost inconceivable, the visible supply will last for a century or more. And 40 tons of diamonds, it has been estimated, would make more than 200,000,000 fair-sized engagement rings.

George Frederick Kunz, of New York, who is recognized as one of the world's leading experts on precious stones, says that the jewel market at present is on the up and up. There has never been a greater demand for large, choice gems than at the present time, he says, especially for ring stones and single stones, whether a diamond, sapphire, ruby, or emerald, in counter-distinction to clusters and other ornaments. The emerald cut and square-cut diamonds are especially desired and stones to more than 20 carats are being worn.

This would not have been the case a dozen years ago, says Mr. Kunz. He might have added that there are numerous families in which 20-carat diamonds, however fashionable they may be, are not being worn now and never will be worn.

But in explaining what is the mode, the expert says that in 1925 the tendency to wear large single-stone diamonds in preference to groups has been more than counterbalanced by the sale of the small stones in jewel bracelets. Never have so many bracelets been worn and so many worn at one time, exceeding even a dozen on one arm, and in turn varying from a single row of stones to bracelets of more than an inch and a quarter in width. These are worn in connection with ruby, sapphire, and emerald bracelets, all colors on one arm, making a space of from four to six inches of solid jeweling.

Queen Marie of Rumania was reported on one occasion during her tour of the United States to have worn so many bracelets on one arm that it was in effect gauntleted from wrist to elbow. What the queen did, other women will be doing, if they can garner the gems to make the splurge.

Imports Show an Increase.

Mr. Kunz compiles the statistics of precious stones every year, not only on production, but on imports into the United States. For 1925 the import figures totaled $75,270,956, of which about $60,000,000 was in diamonds. Pearls constituted an item of roughly $6,800,000, other precious and semi-precious stones came to almost $5,000,000, and imitation precious stones that were dutiable amounted to more than $2,000,000.

The total diamond production for the year was 4,298,128 carats, valued at 11,853,128 pounds sterling. It will thus be seen that the United States alone supplied a greater market for diamonds in 1925 than the total diamond production. Next to the Union of South Africa the Belgian Congo with

"Everything Henry Ford does," says his friend, Thomas A. Edison, "is done for publicity." In this respect, as in others, Ford usually gets what he goes after, because his ideas are so striking that, whether right or wrong, they can soldom be ignored.

Nobody should want to ignore his latest project, which is fighting the devil in the younger generation by putting it to work.

"As an experiment," he announced the other day, his company has instructed its employment heads to take on 5,000 boys between the ages of 16 and 20 as quickly as possible, giving them men's work and "independence" wages.

He doesn't take any stock in the prevalent notion that boys and girls have degenerated, says Mr. Ford. But he does realize that the time following their release from school, before they take up any regular occupation, is a critical period. If they do not find satisfactory work after a short quest, they may drift into thriftless or evil ways. He airs to catch the boys and get them into self-respecting habits of industry before they start drifting.

It is doubtless good psychology to give a boy "man's work," if there is enough of it to go around. Also to pay the boy what a man would be paid for the same work. Boys tend to rise to such treatment, doing what is expected of them. Every boy likes to feel himself a man. It is an experiment that will be observed with widespread interest.

Money For Instruction

Yale's call for a large sum of money to be employed entirely in improving her instruction is greeted as a startling innovation in college fund campaigns. New buildings, stadiums, physical equipment of all sorts, are the usual allurements offered by institutions of higher learning in asking people to donate money to endowment funds.

The quality of instruction in Yale and elsewhere probably needs and deserves more attention and more money spent on it. As colleges and universities have felt the inrush of increasing numbers of students, classes have grown large. Personal contact between pupils and teachers has almost vanished. Youthful instructors with little experience, fresh from their own college days, have stepped into collegiate teaching positions.

More teachers, better equipped teachers, teachers with a special gift for research and others with a special gift for developing and inspiring their young pupils, are needed on the faculties of most colleges and universities. That one of the older and larger universities should recognize and act upon this need so frankly is a hopeful educational sign.

Foresighted Forestry

New York State's reforestation activities are gaining in size and effectiveness. The state conservation commissioner reports that 20,481,112 trees were distributed from state nurseries in 1926 as compared with 10,380,000 in 1925. This year's total planting, in fact, exceeds the combined plantings of 1924 and 1925, and a trifle more than equals the aggregate plantings in the first 14 years of the New York movement.

Where are all these trees being set out and cared for? All over the state. Municipalities, schools, industrial concerns get the trees from the state nurseries and plant them. The State itself is reforesting large tracts of land. Private landowners, too, are following the public example and setting out trees in unprecedented numbers. The Roosevelt Forest is such a public plantation of 2,000,000 trees set out this year on a 2,000-acre tract.

Along with the planting of trees goes the development of better protection for them in the matter of fire control and prevention.

New York sets a fine example to every community or individual or family owning land suitable for tree-planting.

Wines-Vincent Wedding Solemnized Saturday Afternoon

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Pauline Wines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wines of Riley avenue, and William Vincent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Vincent, of Dresden avenue. The ceremony took place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Methodist Protestant church of New Cumberland, W. Va., with Rev. W. S. Hamilton officiating. The bridegroom's parents were the attendants.

The bride was gowned in cream lace over pink satin, and wore a hat to match. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Shook of New Cumberland. Places were arranged for the members of the immediate families.

Dandruff Is a Pity

By Edna Wallace Hopper

When I see dandruff on a man or woman's shoulder I want to say:

Dear sir (or dear lady), that will ruin your hair. It will form a scale to clog the scalp, to stifle hair roots. Then hair may wither and fall out. It may lose its color and grow gray.

Look at my hair. It is thick and lustrous, more luxuriant than 40 years ago. I have never known falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray. Just because French experts, years ago, gave me ways to combat dandruff, to stimulate and tone the scalp.

I had those methods all combined in a single preparation. All toilet counters now supply it as Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth. It is highly concentrated, so one needs but little. I apply it with an eyedropper directly to the scalp. Just enough to dampen the scalp. It takes but one minute daily, and results are what you see.

I know that many ways are offered to fight dandruff and promote the hair. But I know that nothing excels Hair Youth. No one wants anything better.

Get a bottle today. You will see great results in one night. You will know at once that my Hair Youth does what you want done. 50c and $1.00 with eye dropper.

Don't Risk Pneumonia By Neglecting a Cold

If you have a cough or cold, don't neglect it during this pneumonia weather. A cough or cold paves the way for pneumonia because it irritates the linings of throat, chest and bronchial tubes, often the lungs themselves, if neglected too long. And it is in these inflamed linings—when a neglected cold has broken down your resistance—that dreaded pneumonia is quickest to start—often proving fatal in a few days.

Don't just dread pneumonia! Take measures to prevent it, by getting rid of a threatening cough or cold immediately—before pneumonia starts to develop.

By its powerful double action, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral quickly breaks up coughs and colds. With the very first swallow you feel its comforting, healing warmth. Quickly and unfailingly it goes straight to the seat of danger, penetrating through and through the irritated membranes.

The soothing, healing powers of this hospital-tested medicine are absorbed by the linings of throat, chest and bronchial tubes just as ink is absorbed by a blotter. This is why Ayer's Cherry Pectoral so quickly stops the cough, drives out the cold and brings sure, lasting relief.

If "pneumonia" has developed call your doctor at once. If it has not developed, but you have a threatening cough or cold, take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once! Keep your throat, bronchial tubes and lungs healthy and strong. At all druggists, 60c, twice as much, $1.00. sp34c

By Edna Wallace Hopper

When I see dandruff on a man or woman's shoulder I want to say:

Dear sir (or dear lady), that will ruin your hair. It will form a scale to clog the scalp, to stifle hair roots. Then hair may wither and fall out. It may lose its color and grow gray.

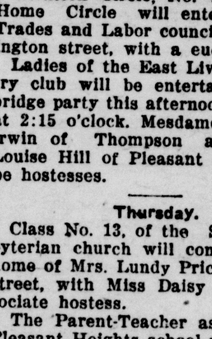

Look at my hair. It is thick and lustrous, more luxuriant than 40 years ago. I have never known falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray. Just because French experts, years ago, gave me ways to combat dandruff, to stimulate and tone the scalp.

I had those methods all combined in a single preparation. All toilet counters now supply it as Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth. It is highly concentrated, so one needs but little. I apply it with an eyedropper directly to the scalp. Just enough to dampen the scalp. It takes but one minute daily, and results are what you see.

I know that many ways are offered to fight dandruff and promote the hair. But I know that nothing excels Hair Youth. No one wants anything better.

Get a bottle today. You will see great results in one night. You will know at once that my Hair Youth does what you want done. 50c and $1.00 with eye dropper.

Don't Risk Pneumonia By Neglecting a Cold

If you have a cough or cold, don't neglect it during this pneumonia weather. A cough or cold paves the way for pneumonia because it irritates the linings of throat, chest and bronchial tubes, often the lungs themselves, if neglected too long. And it is in these inflamed linings—when a neglected cold has broken down your resistance—that dreaded pneumonia is quickest to start—often proving fatal in a few days.

Don't just dread pneumonia! Take measures to prevent it, by getting rid of a threatening cough or cold immediately—before pneumonia starts to develop.

By its powerful double action, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral quickly breaks up coughs and colds. With the very first swallow you feel its comforting, healing warmth. Quickly and unfailingly it goes straight to the seat of danger, penetrating through and through the irritated membranes.

The soothing, healing powers of this hospital-tested medicine are absorbed by the linings of throat, chest and bronchial tubes just as ink is absorbed by a blotter. This is why Ayer's Cherry Pectoral so quickly stops the cough, drives out the cold and brings sure, lasting relief.

If "pneumonia" has developed call your doctor at once. If it has not developed, but you have a threatening cough or cold, take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once! Keep your throat, bronchial tubes and lungs healthy and strong. At all druggists, 60c, twice as much, $1.00. sp34c

Wines-Vincent Wedding Solemnized Saturday Afternoon

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Pauline Wines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wines of Riley avenue, and William Vincent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Vincent, of Dresden avenue. The ceremony took place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Methodist Protestant church of New Cumberland, W. Va., with Rev. W. S. Hamilton officiating. The bridegroom's parents were the attendants.

The bride was gowned in cream lace over pink satin, and wore a hat to match. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Shoob of New Cumberland. Places were arranged for the members of the immediate families.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent will reside temporarily with the bride's parents. The bridegroom is employed by the Dresden Pottery company.

The ENTERTAINING ANGEL

SAMUEL MERWIN — By Samuel Merwin. Released Through Central Press Assn

SYNOPSIS.

Julian Reed is wandering southern California in his little roadster. He is aimless and amiable. At luncheon in a small restaurant he meets, by chance, a charming, rather wistful young woman. She has missed connections with a troupe of vagabonding actors and he offers, in spite of his natural bashfulness, to drive her to the troupe's next stopping place, La Jolla. She accepts his offer. He tries to "explain" himself. He has money, but is suffering from a bad case of "dual personality." He is obviously greatly bothered about something, some conflict within himself. She, like Julian, is from the East. They overtake and pass the trucks bearing the rest of the troup. As they stop for dinner, the others come in. Julian meets Watt, the chief of the "Wayside Theatre;" Sadie, an ex-chorus girl trouper, and the rest of the cast. Sadies is attracted to him. She tells him how Hester risked everything to try for the leading role in a movie of a play written by "Robert Johns," failed and joined the troupe as a last resort. That night, after the performance, Julian and Hester, in his car, confide in one another and Julian kisses Hester. But next morning she learns of his financial help to Watt, is angry and will have nothing to do with him. Watt offers him a half interest in the enterprise for $4,000 and he accepts. Then he goes to Hollywood. While there he buys a snappy little roadster and new clothes preparatory to interviewing the Interstellar Picture company. In the meantime Watt is to give a dinner to the troupe, introducing a new member, a college boy.

CHAPTER TWELVE.

The director, indeed, was ascending the steps with an air of gracious majesty, smiling at the world. He wore a white stock about his neck, a flowing tie, a youthful outing coat that was belted in tightly, the white flannel trousers and white shoes. And he swung his walking stick jauntily. Beside him walked a tall youth in knickerbockers with big shoulders and the face of a boy.

"I'll say he's good-looking," observed Sadie, appraising the young man with expert eyes.

The troupe was soon assembled, a merry group buzzing with friendly chatter and eyeing the tall person of the director with shrewdly controlled curosity. Something far out of the routine was on the cards. But for once J. Murry Watt clung splendidly to his secret. He led the way with his stateliest stride to a private dining room overlooking the ocean where glass and silverware glittered on a long table.

Sadie arched her plucked eye-brows and murmured, "My word, but are'nt we the Ritzy troupe!" And Hester smiled a little. She moved sedately enough, but her pulse was high. However much the director's childish expasiveness might disturb her native Yankee thrift, she found it stirring after a long and dusty succession of wayside lunch roms, to yield her starved senses to this bit of luxury.

She was covertly watching the new young man. He moved with a springy step like an athlete. He had twinkling blue eyes and a nice smile. He wasn't self-conscious, or even shy; but stood quietly waiting, taking in the scene. She wondered how old he was. Studying from beneath lowered lashes the fresh glowing skin, she decided he could hardly be twenty. Seven or eight years younger than her small self. Probably he'd dismiss her as an old lady.

Without a thought of appearances, unawares that Sadie's sharp eyes were following her, she moved nearer him. She tried to tell herself that it would be merely decent to make him feel at home in this helter-skelter atmosphere, but the explanation of her conduct carried little weight.

She felt boldness in him, the casual good humor and the easy daring of youth, and it drew her like a magnet. He wasn't looking toward her. And she didn't speak. In her preoccupation with this alarming boldness in herself, she couldn't. And it came about, as the party settled down about the table to make an occasion of it—trust them to do that, these irresponsible children of the theater—that she found herself next to him. Their elbows touched.

The hand he rested on the table was big and brown, with a fine down growing on the back. The second finger was enlarged into a knot at the second joint, and the little finger bent in. Probably from baseball.

The others were laughing and shouting. Henry Harper, the wizened character man, had appropriated the entire dish of celery. His dry voice cracked protestingly above the gay sounds. She couldn't laugh with them, but sat very still, considering her own sober thoughts. Julian Reed's words sounded at her inner ear—"You have the very spirit of youth." What would this boy think?

The noise subsided. All had turned expectantly toward the head of the table. Surely their director had something of announcement to make. But his loosely Roman features merely expanded in a benign and inclusive smile as he spread his hands and said, in the familiar resonant tones: "We are here, my dear young people for the excellent purpose of eating and making merry. The Wayside Theater expects every boy and girl to do his duty."

With another shout and a responsible little burst of applause, all fell to. All but Hester. She could only look down at her soup and finger her spoon. The young man hadn't glanced at her. Grace Appleby, who played character women, had his attention. Grace was thin, but had lovely red hair of which she made much. Hester was thinking that she didn't know his name, nor he hers.

Then she thought of the Robert Johns play, "Hunger." It dealt, that play, with a wistful girl who longed for beauty in a civilization of pig iron and oil and salesmanship and tariffs. It was a delicate tragedy of the human spirit. A year earlier she had felt at one with that girl. But she was changing. Bitterly she sensed that. Her own hunger was now a different thing .... for youth and love.

The strange shy hand of Julian Reed had torn away a veil from her native reserve. Yes, she was changing. She couldn't help it. Might as well accept the fact fatalistically. After all, hadn't it been that warm urge that had driven her at the beginning away from home and into this half-outlawed, emotional little cosmos of the theatre?

All solitary workers in the arts must be driven by that inner fire. It had to be an emotional business. And you couldn't forever keep the fire down. It would blaze up. Hers was a complicated nature, of course. She had to accept that fact. The common gallantry of the male creature repelled her. She knew that she could be capricious and resistant when stirred. Particularly when stirred. Perhaps is was best to take it all merrily and lightly, as Sadie did, as most of them did. But she wasn't light and had never been merry. It wasn't in her blood.

She was looking again, covertly, at the big hand that was so near here. Her eyes were filling. That wouldn't do. She straightened her little shoulders and made herself eat. Always up to now, she had been able to make herself do things. But now she might turn reckless.

"We haven't been introduced, Miss Kemble." At last he had turned to her. And he did know her name. "Perhaps you don't mind. I'm only a stage hand you know."

"Of course I don't mind.' She couldn't have designed that intimate tone of voice.

"My name is Joe Maybury."

He looked even more boyish when he smiled. She thought in a panic that she must be all of ten years his elder.

"Well," he chuckled—no lack of merriment there—"in a sense. In a sense."

She chuckled, too. It brought some relief. "I don't quite understand that."

"I was kicked my freshman year at Berkley. The dad wouldn't stand for it, so I went out on my own. Last summer. Been working around, here and there. It's amusing."

"It must be, if you can take it that way."

"Why not? There's time enough."

Time enough! Hester held her breath.

"By the way, Miss Kemble, I saw your show last night. Drove out from town with a crowd. You were wonderful.

She sat motionless, trying think. Finally, very low, she replied, "How awfully nice of you!"

"You should have heard our crowd talk. Didn't your ears burn?"

She smiled. She was glad that he, too, had lowered his voice.

"They're all wild about you. In that last play . . what's called?"

"'Better to Have Loved and Won.'"

"Yes, that one. One of the boys was so crazy to hang around and try to meet you tha the girls got mad. He just couldn't behave." And he chuckled again. "Honest, it was the dandiest performance I ever saw."

Her lashes drooped again, as she felt the color creeping into he cheeks. He knew how to talke to an actress, this very young Mr. Maybury. His assurance was unlimited. But then, boys were like that nowadays.

"I don't mind saying I was a little on the run myself. You did have me going. You don't mind my telling you right out?"

"I'm afraid I rather . . . . like it."

SAMUEL MERWIN — Copy Samuel Merwin Released Through Central Press Assn

SYNOPSIS.

Julian Reed is wandering southern California in his little roadster. He is aimless and amiable. At luncheon in a small restaurant he meets, by chance, a charming, rather wistful young woman. She has missed connections with a troupe of vagabonding actors and he offers, in spite of his natural bashfulness, to drive her to the troupe's next stopping place, La Jolla. She accepts his offer. He tries to "explain" himself. He has money, but is suffering from a bad case of "dual personality." He is obviously greatly bothered about something, some conflict within himself. She, like Julian, is from the East. They overtake and pass the trucks bearing the rest of the troup. As they stop for dinner, the others come in. Julian meets Watt, the chief of the "Wayside Theatre;" Sadie, an ex-chorus girl trouper, and the rest of the cast. Sadies is attracted to him. She tells him how Hester risked everything to try for the leading role in a movie of a play written by "Robert Johns," failed and joined the troupe as a last resort. That night, after the performance, Julian and Hester, in his car, confide in one another and Julian kisses Hester. But next morning she learns of his financial help to Watt, is angry and will have nothing to do with him. Watt offers him a half interest in the enterprise for $4,000 and he accepts. Then he goes to Hollywood. While there he buys a snappy little roadster and new clothes preparatory to interviewing the Interstellar Picture company. In the meantime Watt is to give a dinner to the troupe, introducing a new member, a college boy.

CHAPTER TWELVE.

The director, indeed, was ascending the steps with an air of gracious majesty, smiling at the world. He wore a white stock about his neck, a flowing tie, a youthful outing coat that was belted in tightly, the white flannel trousers and white shoes. And he swung his walking stick jauntily. Beside him walked a tall youth in knickerbockers with big shoulders and the face of a boy.

"I'll say he's good-looking," observed Sadie, appraising the young man with expert eyes.

The troupe was soon assembled, a merry group buzzing with friendly chatter and eyeing the tall person of the director with shrewdly controlled curosity. Something far out of the routine was on the cards. But for once J. Murry Watt clung splendidly to his secret. He led the way with his statellest stride to a private dining room overlooking the ocean where glass and silverware glittered on a long table.

Sadie arched her plucked eye-brows and murmured, "My word, but aren't we the Ritzy troupe!" And Hester smiled a little. She moved sedately enough, but her pulse was high. However much the director's childish expasiveness might disturb her native Yankee thrift, she found it stirring after a long and dusty succession of wayside lunch roms, to yield her starved senses to this bit of luxury.

She was covertly watching the new young man. He moved with a springy step like an athlete. He had twinkling blue eyes and a nice smile. He wasn't self-conscious, or even shy; but stood quietly waiting, taking in the scene. She wondered how old he was. Studying from beneath lowered lashes the fresh glowing skin, she decided he could hardly be twenty. Seven or eight years younger than her small self. Probably he'd dismiss her as an old lady.

Without a thought of appearances, unawares that Sadie's sharp eyes were following her, she moved nearer him. She tried to tell herself that it would be merely decent to make him feel at home in this helter-skelter atmosphere, but the explanation of her conduct carried little weight.

She felt boldness in him, the casual good humor and the easy daring of youth, and it drew her like a magnet. He wasn't looking toward her. And she didn't speak. In her preoccupation with this alarming boldness in herself, she couldn't. And it came about, as the party settled down about the table to make an occasion of it—trust them to do that, these irresponsible children of the theater—that she found herself next to him. Their elbows touched.

The hand he rested on the table was big and brown, with a fine down growing on the back. The second finger was enlarged into a knot at the second joint, and the little finger bent in. Probably from baseball.

The others were laughing and shouting. Henry Harper, the wizened character man, had appropriated the entire dish of celery. His dry voice cracked protestingly above the gay sounds. She couldn't laugh with them, but sat very still, considering her own sober thoughts. Julian Reed's words sounded at her inner ear—"You have the very spirit of youth." What would this boy think?

The noise subsided. All had turned expectantly toward the head of the table. Surely their director had something of announcement to make. But his loosely Roman features merely expanded in a benign and inclusive smile as he spread his hands and said, in the familiar resonant tones: "We are here, my dear young people, for the excellent purpose of eating and making merry. The Wayside Theater expects every boy and girl to do his duty."

With another shout and a responsible little burst of applause, all fell to. All but Hester. She could only look down at her soup and finger her spoon. The young man hadn't glanced at her. Grace Appleby, who played character women, had his attention. Grace was thin, but had lovely red hair of which she made much. Hester was thinking that she didn't know his name, nor he hers.

Then she thought of the Robert Johns play, "Hunger." It dealt, that play, with a wistful girl who longed for beauty in a civilization of pig iron and oil and salesmanship and tariffs. It was a delicate tragedy of the human spirit. A year earlier she had felt at one with that girl. But she was changing. Bitterly she sensed that. Her own hunger was now a different thing . . . . for youth and love.

The strange shy hand of Julian Reed had torn away a veil from her native reserve. Yes, she was changing. She couldn't help it. Might as well accept the fact fatalistically. After all, hadn't it been that warm urge that had driven her at the beginning away from home and into this half-outlawed, emotional little cosmos of the theatre?

All solitary workers in the arts must be driven by that inner fire. It had to be an emotional business. And you couldn't forever keep the fire down. It would blaze up. Hers was a complicated nature, of course. She had to accept that fact. The common gallantry of the male creature repelled her. She knew that she could be capricious and resistant when stirred. Particularly when stirred. Perhaps is was best to take it all merrily and lightly, as Sadie did, as most of them did. But she wasn't light and had never been merry. It wasn't in her blood.

She was looking again, covertly, at the big hand that was so near here. Her eyes were filling. That wouldn't do. She straightened her little shoulders and made herself eat. Always up to now, she had been able to make herself do things. But now she might turn reckless.

"We haven't been introduced, Miss Kemble." At last he had turned to her. And he did know her name. "Perhaps you don't mind. I'm only a stage hand you know."

"Of course I don't mind.' She couldn't have designed that intimate tone of voice.

"My name is Joe Maybury."

He looked even more boyish when he smiled. She thought in a panic that she must be all of ten years his elder.

"Well," he chuckled—no lack of merriment there—"in a sense. In a sense."

She chuckled, too. It brought some relief. "I don't quite understand that."

"I was kicked my freshman year at Berkley. The dad wouldn't stand for it, so I went out on my own. Last summer. Been working around, here and there. It's amusing."

"It must be, if you can take it that way."

"Why not? There's time enough."

Time enough! Hester held her breath.

"By the way, Miss Kemble, I saw your show last night. Drove out from town with a crowd. You were wonderful.

She sat motionless, trying think. Finally, very low, she replied, "How awfully nice of you!"

GRID BANQUET HERE TONIGHT

Chester High Football Squad Will be Guests of Club.

Plans have been perfected for the banquet to be given this evening at 6:30 in honor of the Chester high school football squad in the Masonic temple, First street.

The affair is being sponsored by the newly formed Purple and Gold club composed of citizens of the city who are interested in promoting high school athletics. Robert Douglass, president of the organization, will be the toastmaster.

The principal address will be delivered by Bo McMillin, coachof the Geneva college football team. Dinner will be served by members of Crescent chapter No. 49, Order of Eastern Star.

The event is expected to draw a large crowd including members of the high school faculty and board of education.

Chester high eleven has just closed one of the most successful football seasons in its history. The team won the championship of Hancock county by trimming New Cumberland last Thursday at the county seat. It scored a victory over Toronto and lost a hard fought game to East Liverpool.

WEIRTON MAN IS FOUND DEAD

William M. Seevers, 59 years old, was found dead yesterday at noon in his home, Avenue F, Weirton.

Coroner George A. Arner, of Chester, who conducted an inquest in the case, returned a verdict that death had been caused by heart disease.

Mr. Seevers is survived by one niece.

Rogers Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. H. B. Rogers, 56 years old, were held yesterday afternoon in the home near the Franklin school, in charge of Rev. R. C. Ehrheart, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church. Burial was made in Locust Hill cemetery.

Social Here Tonight.

Members of the Girls Friendly society will hold a "poverty social" tonight in the Guild hall of St. Mathew's Episcopal church, Fourth street and Indiana avenue.

Church Meets Listed.

Members of the executive board of the First Methodist Episcopal church Sunday school will meet this evening. Official board of the church will meet tomorrow night in the church.

COUNTY FACES CORN QUARANTINE

The European corn borer, the latest pest to invade West Virginia and threaten its products with quarantine has been discovered in portions of the northern panhandle and how extensively its ravages there have been awaits determination by further investigation.

The state department of agriculture at Charleston has received this information from W. E. Rumsey, its entomologist, who says that it has been found in Hancock county and may appear in other of the Panhandle counties upon investigation. Although no official notice of a federal quarantine has been received it is expected that Hancock county, at least, and possibly the others, will be included in the quarantine area that already covers a number of counties in Ohio and Pennsylvania, from which shipment of corn is banned.

The West Virginia corn crop in 1926 had a value of $18,469,000 of which about $700,000 was represented by the crop produced in the northern panhandle counties. The value in Hancock county was computed as $80,000, the least of the four counties, the values in the others increasing to $111,000 in Brooke, $127,000 in Ohio and reaching a maximum of $392,000 in Marshall county.

The only other federal quarantine now in force in the state is that directed against the potato wart and applied to Tucker and Randolph counties.

Fancywork Club to Meet.

Members of the Franklin Fancywork club will meet Wedesday afternoon with Mrs. Allen Pugh at her home, 208 East Third street, East Liverpool. Officers will be elected at this session.

LEGION MEETING IS POSTPONED

Regular meeting of the Chester American Legion post scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Wednesday evening owing to the high school football team banquet.

Members of the post will hold a euchre party Thursday night in the First National bank building, Third street and Carolina avenue.

PLAYLET WILL BE GIVEN HERE

Chester Shrine Club is Sponsoring Production Tomorrow.

Final rehearsal will be held tonight for the production of the playlet, "An Old Fashioned Mother," which will be presented tomorrow afternoon and evening in the Lincoln theatre under the auspices of the Chester Shrine club.

The cast will be headed by Fleda McMillin, who has also been in charge of the rehearsals. Special feature will be selections by a quartet composed of Virgil Hasson, Paul Finley, Ralph Stephenson and Herbert Patton.

Matinee for children will be given in the afternoon.

The cast of characters follow:

Deborah Underhill, a mother in Israel ..... Fleda McMillin
Widder Bill Pindle, leader of the choir ..... Mary Hindman

MAKE MORE MONEY

Healthy, vigorous men land life's best prizes. Buoyant step, bright eyes, clear complexion and exuberant vitality denote a system free from impurities. Constipation poisons the whole system, slows the step, saps energy, destroys confidence and cuts down the earning power.

Rid your system of constipation and its poisons. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets remove them gently, tone up the system, clear the eyes and complexion and bring back normal vigor. A compound of vegetable ingredients, prescribed to patients for 20 years in place of calomel. They act easily and quickly on bowels and liver.

Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets and keep fit for the daily grind. Thousands of happy men and women use them regularly as an aid to success in their everyday tasks. Know them by their olive color, 15c 30c, 60c.

CONTRACTOR ASKS RECEIVER

Dissolution Suit Filed by Martin McLaughlin.

Martin McLaughlin, through his attorneys, Lones, Hill & Davidson, has filed a petition in common pleas court asking for the appointment of a receiver, and accounting and dissolution of the contracting partnership, Tatgenhorst & McLaughlin, of which he is a member.

The plaintiff charges that there has been no accounting on road contracting jobs which the company has completed in recent years. The petition declares that the company made a profit of $14,000 on the West Eighth street improvement in East Liverpool last spring and that the plaintiff has not received his share of the net earnings.

Carl Tatgenhorst, the other member of the firm, claims that McLaughlin signed an agreement to sell his interests in the company to Tatgenhorst last October 7 for $2,000.

Brookes & Thompson, of East Liverpool and George T. Farrell, Lisbon, have been engaged to represent Tatgenhorst in the action.

COUNTY FACES CORN QUARANTINE

The European corn borer, the latest pest to invade West Virginia and threaten its products with quarantine has been discovered in portions of the northern panhandle and how extensively its ravages there have been awaits determination by further investigation.

The state department of agriculture at Charleston has received this information from W. E. Rumsey, its entomologist, who says that it has been found in Hancock county and may appear in other of the Panhandle counties upon investigation. Although no official notice of a federal quarantine has been received it is expected that Hancock county, at least, and possibly the others, will be included in the quarantine area that already covers a number of counties in Ohio and Pennsylvania, from which shipment of corn is banned.

The West Virginia corn crop in 1926 had a value of $18,469,000 of which about $700,000 was represented by the crop produced in the northern panhandle counties. The value in Hancock county was computed as $80,000, the least of the four counties, the values in the others increasing to $111,000 in Brooke, $127,000 in Ohio and reaching a maximum of $392,000 in Marshall county.

The only other federal quarantine now in force in the state is that directed against the potato wart and applied to Tucker and Randolph counties.

Fancywork Club to Meet.

Members of the Franklin Fancywork club will meet Wedesday afternoon with Mrs. Allen Pugh at her home, 208 East Third street, East Liverpool. Officers will be elected at this session.

LEGION MEETING IS POSTPONED

Regular meeting of the Chester American Legion post scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Wednesday evening owing to the high school football team banquet.

Members of the post will hold a euchre party Thursday night in the First National bank building, Third street and Carolina avenue.

ARRESTS FORECAST IN ALLEGED GIGANTIC RUM PLOT

BANK OFFICER AND 50 OTHERS ARE INDICTED BY U. S. COURT

Conspiracy to Smuggle $900,000 Cargo is Charged.

BOSTON INQUIRY

Accused Banker Says Allegations are "Deliberate Lie."

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Arrests in New York and Boston were forecast today in connection with the alleged gigantic bootlegging plot, uncovered by federal prohibition authorities.

Lewis H. Rothchild, 28, youngest bank vice president in the United States and former Andover and Princeton football player, is named with 50 others in indictments, according to word from New York.

A steamship warped into a Boston dock last July, laden apparently with cement. The steamship was the Cretan and she carried an enormous alcohol cargo. The uncovering of the cargo was the beginning of the uncovering of the alleged gigantic scheme.

The fifty-one persons indicted are charged with conspiracy to smuggle into the United States 83,000 gallons of alcohol, valued at $900,000.

Will Fight Case.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Lewis H. Rothchild, vice president of the Chelsea Exchange bank, who is under indictment with fifty other men charged with operating a huge rum ring doing business on a million dollar scale, today characterized the charges as "a deliberate lie."

At the Ritz Carlton the young banker stated that there was no foundation for the government allegations, and added that he would fight the case to the finish.

According to the authorities Rothchild was the head of the combine, which had important connections in Philadelphia, New Jersey and New York, with its base in Boston.

Two other members of the Chelsea bank were indicted. It is charged that the men planned to take up the alcohol and sell it at $4 a quart for a total of $5,472,000, which would return them a profit of about $3,000,000.

Citizens of Maine Go to Polls to Name Member of Senate

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 29. — There was every indication of a heavy vote as citizens went to the polls today to cast their ballots in a special election, which will decide the balance of power in the United States senate.

It was a special election to fill the seat made vacant by the death of Senator Bert M. Fernald. Arthur R. Gould, prosperous business man of Presque Isle, a Republican, was opposed by Fulton L. Redman, Democrat, a lawyer with offices in New York and homes in Bar Harbor and Newark, N. J.

Charges that Gould and his friends spent huge sums in the primary campaign have made the result of the election in doubt. The Ku Klux Klan, a strong factor in the Pine Tree state, was said to have been behind the bringing of the charges and to have decided to support Redman. After a hearing Secretary of State Ball decided that the charges were unfounded.

Governor Ralph O. Brewster, of Maine, Republican, refused to campaign for Gould.

Tris Speaker Quits Cleveland Indians And National Game

CLEVELAND, Nov. 29.—Tris Speaker, veteran manager of the Cleveland Indians, who lead the club to an American league pennant and a world series title, resigned today, and announced his retirement from baseball.

"I submitted by resignation to the club management today," Speaker said. "I am retiring from baseball, and I will enter business. I have several good offers, and am considering them all, but at present the one to become associated with Geometric Stamping company, of Cleveland, appears to be the best bet."

The big Texan denied that his resignation was caused by any differences with the owners of the club, and said that no proposal to reduce his salary, reported to be $50,000 a year, had been made.

Wealthy Widow, 65, And Her Chauffeur, 21, Secretly Married

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Society here was astounded today upon learning of the secret elopment last month of Mrs. Estella Woodward, wealthy widow of South Deerfield, Mass., and Herman Latourneau, her chauffeur. They were secretly married at Kingston, N. Y., on Oct. 6.

The bridegroom is 21 and Mrs. Woodward is 65. She is a cousin of Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James, whose millionaire husband is a well-known New York yachtsman.

Mrs. Latourneau has three children, all grown.

That's putting it mildly. Madame Kollontai believes in " a school of love" and that school "requires great delicacy of soul, attentive tenderness and psychological wakefulness." The woman of today, says this Russian lady, 'feel that marriage is a shackle even if it is an informal marriage without external bonds."

And the new woman makes more demands on her lover than did the old-fashion woman. 'She can forgive many slights, even infidelity which the old fashioned woman could not forgive, but she forgives no slight to her spiritual ego."

It will be hard for the new man to keep up with the new woman. This Madame Kollontai will learn from Brtish, French, German Italian and Norwegian history, that while marriage may be "a big strain on romance" as the wife grows pudgy and the husband grows dull, absence of marriage laws creates a greater strain.

Men have been caught, married, signed up, tied down, because the process is absolutely necessary to civilization. The strange thing is that modern women, not men should attack the marriage institution that with all its imperfections is the only hope of women and children.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Industrial stocks displayed an irregular tone at the beginning of trading today. Continuance of the 5 per cent call loan rate was a handicap to the rally in the speculative leaders, as also were the reports of curtailment in steel mills operations in the Mahoning valley. The steel stocks were freely offered in this period, and United States Steel lost more than a point at 149.

Firmness characterized the motor stocks. General Motors, Chrysler, Studebaker, Hudson and White Motor attracted considerable buying at a higher range of values. Phillips petroleum sold up more than a point to a new high at 54¾, while Skelly and Marland Oil made fractional gains in a fairly active market.

After an early decline to 157, Baldwin Locomotive ran up briskly to above 160. Mack trucks and other speculative leaders which had felt the weight of profit taking and shortly selling in the first period also recovered the bulk of their early losses.

INDIFFERENCE OF MAN GREAT TRAGEDY, SAYS REV. O. A. NEWLIN

Evangelist Speaks in United Presbyterian Church.

SUNDAY SERVICES

Delivers Address at Women's Meet in Baptist Church.

Man's indifference, culminating in spiritual lethargy and due to a lack of acquaintanceship with God was characterized by Rev. O. A. Newlin, evangelist now holding a series of meetings at the First United Presbyterian church, as the world's greatest tragedy on Sunday evening when he addressed a large assemblage of persons that included many from other congregations in the city.

Earlier in the day he had thrice spoken before. He established an evangelistic precedent by addressing a men's service in the afternoon and at its conclusion rushing to the First Baptist church where he spoke again to women only. "A Successful Man's Failure" was the theme of the former and "Polished Corner Stones" that of the latter. In the morning he had discussed "The Essence of the Gospel."

Tall of form with commanding appearance Rev. Mr. Newlin strongly impressed his hearers by his mastery of his chosen subjects in all of which he exhibited unquestioned knowledge of the truths he essayed to impart.

Living in Winona Lake, Ind., and associated with Dr. W. E. Biederwolf in the conduct of the famous Bible school there, Rev. Mr. Newlin is disclosed as an intimate friend of "Billy" Sunday, Homer Rodeheaver, James Heaton, "Bob" Jones and other well known personages who have in recent years held outstanding revivals in East Liverpool.

During the majority of Sundays in December he is to take Dr. Biederwolf's place in a steel tabernacle at Indianapolis, Ind., which will seat 10,000 persons. The latter up to the first of the year will hold services in West Palm Beach, Fla.

Dr. Biederwolf, he said, has just completed an engagement in the Seattle, Wash., church of which the famed Dr. Mark Matthews is the well known pastor.

Having been an evangelist for years Rev. Mr. Newlin will hold revivals at Bluffton, Ind.; Muskogen, Okla., and Dennison, Ill., early next year, while also acting as the chairman of the speaking committee of the Winona Lake Bible Conference which arranges the presence each of the world's outstanding clergymen at this gathering as an inspiration for ministers who meet to study and spend their vacations at the same time during the summer months.

Service, starting promptly at 7:30 o'clock, will be held this week, except on Saturday night. Rev. Mr. Newlin's subject for this period will be as follows: Monday—"The Source of Permanent Joy;" Tuesday—"The Pearl of Parables;" Wednesday—"The Most Prevalent Sin;" Thursday—"The Unpardonable Sin;" Friday—"The Futility of Excuses."

In charge of the music of the campaign is Prof. John C. Usher, of Emsworth, Pa., who daily will make the trip to and from Pittsburgh where he is engaged in business.

With Miss Wilda Warner he sang a duet at the evening service: "My Saviour and My Lord." In the afternoon the church's male chorus augmented by Messrs. Oliver Johnson, Phillip Fuhrer and Norman Pilgrim, of the First Presbyterian choir sang a series of songs. The regular choral organization of the congregation contributed the anthem: "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" by Campbell.

The introductory prayer of the night service was made by the pastor Rev. L. W. Davidson and the invocation was by Rev. Mr. Cheeks, pastor of the Calcutta United Presbyterian church.

Preliminary to the sermon of the evening Rev. Mr. Davidson stressed the individual responsibility of the church's members as to their duty during the revival period. "It is as important that you attend and bring others needing to hear the gospel," he said, "as it is for the evangelist to preach."

During a brief reading of the Scriptures Rev. Mr. Newlin pointed out the prominence of Godly invitation that ran the entire length of the Bible. "God's first invitation to man and noted in Genesis was to Noah," he said, when "'The Lord said unto Noah, Come into the Ark.' And the last, a royal one, between which were hundreds of others is chronicled in the concluding passages of Revelation: 'And the spirit and the bride (the church) say come. Let him that heareth, who is athirst; let all who will come and take the water of life freely.' He also alluded to Jesus' invitation, 'Come for all things are now ready.'"

The words: "Acquaint now thyself with God and great good will come to thee" formed Rev. Mr. Newlin's evening text.

"It has been truly said 'the secrets of the Lord are with those who know him,'" affirmed the evangelist. With such an acquaintance there is a peace that elsewhere can not be found. It pays to serve Jesus. The cry: 'O that I might where to find him' was not one of despair, but rather that of hope. It is a strange fact that man, created in his image, does not know God."

He told of an immigrant to America walking along the railway tracks with a pack upon his back. When ordered off the right of way he produced what he thought was a permit to do so. The words on it "good for first class package" were explained to him to be a ticket for a train upon which he later completed his long journey to a distant point.

"There are people in East Liverpool like that" he pointed out. "They carry even heavier burdens than the ignorant immigrant yet they do not know the 'great burden bearer' to whom they would find instant relief if they would but know Him well enough to act upon the injunction: 'Cast thy burden upon the Lord.'"

How neighbors sometimes refuse to permit kindly intentioned folks to penetrate their reserves and build a proper acquaintanceship that would be fraught with mutual good was indicated. "You would not persist in such an effort after repeated refusals to your better natured intentions," he said. "But God has tried for years to enter many of your hearts. In childhood, at marriage, when children came, in prosperity and adversity 'behold He stood at the door of your heart and knocked."

The 3:00 o'clock afternoon talk to women at the First Baptist church was well attended. All in all the evangelist, speaking four times, put in a most strenuous day.

PROGRESS MADE IN BUSINESS DURING YEAR

Restoration of Soundness Out of Post-War Chaos.

OUTLOOK IS O. K.

American Loans and Investments Total $1,250,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Checking up the loose ends of a world economic survey for 1926, experts at the treasury and commerce department declared today that a recapitulation discloses that out of post-war chaos is gradually coming a restoration of soundness in governmental and business conduct.

This year was described as productive of the most important economic progress since the war. American officials feel that the groundwork has been established for still more progress toward stability in 1927.

Among the outstanding developments of 1926 were:

1—Removal of trade barriers bringing about a more even flow of commerce throughout Europe.

2—Currency stabilization of restoration of gold standard in most of the trading countries.

3—Continued flow of American capital abroad, aiding in rehabilitation.

Officials estimated that American loans and direct investments abroad in 1926 will amount to $1,250,000,000, of which about half is accounted for by European governments or corporations. There is reason to believe that this rate will be contined for some years to come.

Secretary of Navy Named in $250,000 Suit for Damages

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Suit for $250,000 damages against Secretary of the Navy Wilbur was filed today by Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, U. S. N., retired, for alleged infringement on his patent on "a method and apparatus for delivery of submarine torpedoes from airships."

Named with Wilbur in the suit were Rear Admirals Charles B. McVay, Jr., William A. Moffett, and Claude C. Bloch.

Fiske declared he perfected what is now known as the "torpedo-plane" and that the navy appropriated it, despite patent rights issued to him in 1912.

CARDINALS' PAY IS NOW $850

ROME, Nov. 29.—Due to the increased cost of living the pope has doubled the salary of cardinals, from 20,000 to 40,000 lire a year, approximately $850.

There has been an agitation for some time for an increased allotment for the cardinal attached to the Vatican, it being maintained that many of them were unable to secure more than a bare existence upon their salaries.

ACCUSED WIDOW COOL AS SHE FACES SIMPSON

Black Garbed Defendant Meets Verbal Barrage.

VOICE IS LOW

By James L. Kilgallen.

COURTHOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall resumed the witness stand at the Hall-Mills rial at 10:16 this morning for cross-examination.

A cool, indifferent expression on her pallid face, the black garbed defendant calmly surveyed Prosecutor Alexander Simpson as he launched his verbal barrage.

"Did you spend part of 1922 at Mannesquan (a small town near Asbury park)?" was Simpson's opening question.

"No," she replied in a very low voice.

"Did you spend any time at any shore resort with Rev. Hall that year?"

"No."

Used Word "Casualty."

"You say you never saw anything suspicious between Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills in the church and you attended the church every Sunday?"

"No, I did not," she said firmly.

"Did you say during the investigation in 1922 at New Brunswick in describing your movements that you 'had not slept on the night of the crime?'"

"Yes,"

"Didn't you use the word 'casualty' when you called up the police inquiring about your husband the morning after the murder—didn't you say 'were there any casulties?'"

"Yes."

"Didn't you say on Saturday that the word "casualty" meant a violent death?"

"No."

"What time did you get up on Friday morning, the day after the crime?"

"Between 6 and 7."

"What was the first time you saw Mr. Mills after that?"

"Between 7 and 9 a. m.

"How did you meet him (Mills)?"

"In front of the church."

"What did you say to him?"

"I just talked things over with him."

"Don't you remember saying to Mr. Mills that 'they had been together and had been murdered?"

"I did not say that."

"What did you say then to Mr. Mills?"

"I made no such statement," she retorted.

Spectators Listen Intently.

The spectators, occupying every room and choking the aisles, listened intently to every word.

"You say you never saw anything suspicious between Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills?"

"Never."

"You saw a concealed camera in court here Saturday and asked the court to remove it."

"It wasn't concealed."

"Yet you were living with your husband every day and never saw anything to arouse your suspicions."

"No, never."

Her replies were very low. At times she was barely audible.

"Do you now say," continued Simpson relentlessly, "that you told no one in the prosecutor's office that you told Mr. Mills 'they've been together and they've been murdered?'"

"I didn't say that."

"Now you say you telephoned Mr. Hall's sister the day after your husband failed to come home—now where did you telephone from?"

"From the drug store half a mile from my house."

"What time?"

"About 10 a. m."

"Who did you telephone to?"

"Mrs. Voorhees."

"What did you say to her?"

"That Dr. Hall had gone out and had not returned."

"Why didn't you tell the police on Friday?"

"I told Mr. Florence to notify them for me."

Met Singer's Husband.

Mrs. Hall then testified that shortly afterward both Dr. Hall's sisters, Mrs. Paul Bonner and Mrs. Francis Voorhees, arrived at the station at New Brunswick about noon—and went to her house.

She said she went down to the station and on her way back saw James Mills and learned that his wife was missing.

"When you learned that both Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were missing why did you 'put them together' when you talked with James Mills?"

"I did not."

"If your husband was out all night, why did you think he was out with Mrs. Mills?"

"Mrs. Mills was the last person whom he said he was going to see."

Her Glance Seems Deadly.

"All day Friday you were waiting for news?"

"Yes."

Mrs. Hall's eyes narrowed as she regarded Simpson. Her voice was low, but firm. Her glance seemed deadly as she regarded the little prosecutor.

"Why did you sit at home all day the next day waiting for news?" demanded Simpson.

Robert H. McCarter, senior counsel for the defense, objected and a hot legal tilt followed.

The objection was sustained.

By now Mrs. Hall seemed somewhat laggard and tired. Simpson's questions came with the rapidity of a machine gun.

"You knew where the hospital were in New Brunswick?"

"Yes."

"And you had an automobile?"

"Yes."

Never Went to Hospitals.

"And you let the day drag by, you fearing your husband had been hurt and never went near the hospitals?"

"No, I had telephoned the police."

"Why did you say on September 26, 1922, that 'they were both out together and met the same fate?'" Simpson reiterated.

"I don't recall saying that," she said quietly.

She ignored Simpson when he said "now come on Mrs. Hall; give me an answer one way or the other. We haven't got all day. Let's get out of here."

"Did you testify under oath that the thought occurred to you that they might have been together and that they might have met the same fate?" Simpson again asked.

"I told you," said Mrs. Hall wearily, "I knew Mr. Hall was going to see Mrs. Mills about the hospital bills and I knew that they were together that evening."

"You knew where your husband's body was after it was found Saturday?"

"Yes."

"Yet you never visited the undertaker's parlors or made any effort to have the body brought to your home?"

"I was told it was wiser that the body remain at the undertakers."

"Yet this husband, to whom you were devoted, whom you never suspected of a disloyal act, who had met a violent death, but whose hands you did not know, you let his body lie at the undertaker's from Saturday to Monday, and be buried without regular pall-bearers?"

(A previous witness testified the carriage drivers acted as pallbearers.)

"I don't remember whether there were pall-bearers."

Sought Lawyer's Advice.

"Why did you want advice from a lawyer 10 days after the crime, if you weren't involved?" suddenly shouted Simpson.

"I thought it was necessary to have such advice," she replied evenly.

Mrs. Hall glaced at the clock. She seemed to be impatient with the long drawn ordeal. She was not weakening, however. Simpson's repetition of questions and his insistence upon answers the way he wanted them angered her. Her manner became increasingly disdainful.

"Now Mrs. Hall, 10 days after the murder you engaged Mr. Pfeiffer. What advice did you want, advice could not restore the husband who you say was everything in the world to you?"

"What should be done about it? A murder had been done. I wanted advice about what should be done."

"By the authorities?"

"Yes."

"Did you omit to state in your first statement to Totten that you came in early Friday morning? At what part of your recital did you put that in?"

"I was in a very agitated state of mind. He told me a woman had been seen coming into my home Friday morning and I said 'yes, I was that woman.'"

"You knew nothing of a love affair between your husband and Mrs. Mills?"

"No."

"Did you ever look over his shoulder while he was writing to Mrs. Mills and see what he was writing?"

"No."

"I never did."

Mrs. Hall's Denial

that some one else got a letter left in a hymn book for him?"

Asks About Trip to Italy.

Simpson asked her about her trip to Italy after the tragedy and then asked her, if on her return, she had said she "hoped the pig woman (Mrs. Jane Gibson "eye-witness" of the crime who identified Mrs. Hall and her brothers as having been on the scene) was dead."

"I did not say that," she said firmly.

The relentness prosecutor wanted to know if at that time she didn't also say that "the only mistake made was sending my coat away to be dyed; I should have burned it."

"I did not say that neither," replied Mrs. Hall, her narrowed eyes gleaming.

Simpson asked her if she had communicated with her brother, Henry Stevens, of Lavallette, N. J., the morning after her husband failed to come home. She said she did not.

Then the prosecutor showed her some letters and said: "Here are your letters to your brother. Did you ever write a single word to him about the man you loved dearly who had gone to death the September before?"

Her chief counsel, Robert H. McCarter, leaped to his feet objecting, asserting the letters "spoke for themselves." The court sustained objection.

Simpson asked her if the letters were her's and she replied that they were. The prosecutor had them marked for identification.

ment of the street were filed as provided by law.

As a result of the decision legislation must be re-enacted by council. All bids for the improvement received about six weeks ago have been rejected.

Swaney obtained the injunction after the city awarded the contract to George B. Patterson, Wellsville. The street was to have been surfaced with concrete, according to Patterson's bid.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors who showed their sympathy in our bereavement in the death of our husband and father, Thomas A. Beaver. Especially do we thank Rev. J. F. Dimit and Rev. F. G. Fowler and singers, also the employes of D. E. McNicol and those who sent sent their beautiful floral offerings.

NELLIS FIRM GETS N. B. O. P. BUILDING JOB

Contract is Awarded for Two-story Addition.

BID IS $41,000

Seven Contractors Submitted Proposals to Committee.

Contract for the two-story brick addition to the Sixth street headquarters building of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters was awarded by the building committee and East Liverpool members of the executive board Saturday night to D. F. Nellis & Sons, local contractors. The bid was $41,000.

Nellis company was one of seven contracting firms to submit estimates. Their contract is for the building only and does not include the heating system, contract for which will be awarded later. Work will be started within the next few days.

Plans call for a structure having a frontage of 45 feet on Sixth street and extending through to Rural lane 130 feet deep. It will match the present one-story building on the site.

Four large rooms, each having an ante-room, will be on the second floor for use of the subordinate unions. An assembly hall for dances and social purposes will be on main floor back of the present offices. In the basement will be a kitchen, banquet room, heating plant and stock equipment quarters for The Potters' Herald, official organ of the Brotherhood.

Plans for the addition were prepared by J. C. Cunningham, Ikirt building architect, who will also supervise its erection.

CANTON TROOPS CONTROL HANKOW

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Cantonese troops have assumed control of the Hankow area, isolating the French, British and Japanese concessions, according to a Central News dispatch from Hankow.

American marines are patrolling the Japanese concession.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Naval forces have been landed at Hankow to preserve order there, according to advices received here from Shanghai.

BANDITS MAKE $1,000 CLEAN-UP

CINCINNATI, Nov. 29. — Police today were looking for three youthful bandits who held up Max Schwartz theatre proprietor and his two daughters, Sarah and Ethel, late last night The bandits escaped with more than $1,000, the receipts of a Sunday night show, which Schwartz was carrying, police said.

Chevrolet Coupe Abandoned.

Constable Lawrence Chamberlain, Calcutta, notified police today that a Chevrolet coupe had been abandoned in the Calcutta district. The machine carried no license plates and the battery had been removed. Its speedometer showed it to have been driven about 1,200 miles. It is believed to have been stolen.

not be used against him in a subsequent criminal proceeding.

Letter Also Admitted.

Government counsel contended the statute did not cover this particular case as Doheny had been a voluntary witness before the senate committee, and had given the story to the committee by his own volition.

Admitted along with the Doheny statement was the letter written to the senate committee by Fall in which he claimed he had borrowed the money in dispute and had never even approached Doheny or his associates.

Thus, the government placed before the jury conflicting statements by the two defendants and at the same time laid the foundation for its case.

Justice Cites Law.

Justice Hoehling, who, since last Friday has been considering the question of admissibility of this evidence, took three quarters of an hour to hand down his ruling. He went exhaustively into every phase of the law, for the defense objection was based on a section of the code over 70 years old, but never before applied to a criminal case.

Hoehling accepted the government views and regarded Doheny as a voluntary witness before the senate committee, who did not testify under compulsion. As for the Fall letter, the judge held it not even to be testimony in that it was not sworn to.

Frank J. Hogan, for Doheny, immediately noted an exception to all of the testimony and Wilton J. Lambert did likewise for Fall.

Fall's Letter Read.

Peyton Gordon, the district attorney, read to the jury the Fall letter.

In the letter Fall expressed surprise and some ire that the committee had been looking into his private affairs, but volunteered considerable information.

Justice Hoehling, referring to the letter in his ruling, said:

"If it be testimony then the giver of it, if any of its material statements be untrue, would remain subject to a prosecution for perjury under the provisions of section 859."

(This was the section under which the defense had declared the letter to be inadmissible.)

ARRESTS FORECAST IN ALLEGED GIGANTIC RUM PLOT

BANK OFFICER AND 50 OTHERS ARE INDICTED BY U. S. COURT

Conspiracy to Smuggle $900,000 Cargo is Charged.

BOSTON INQUIRY

Accused Banker Says Allegations are "Deliberate Lie."

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Arrests in New York and Boston were forecast today in connection with the alleged gigantic bootlegging plot, uncovered by federal prohibition authorities.

Lewis H. Rothchild, 28, youngest bank vice president in the United States and former Andover and Princeton football player, is named with fifty others in indictments, according to word from New York.

A steamship warped into a Boston dock last July, laden apparently with cement. The steamship was the Cretan and she carried an enormous alcohol cargo. The uncovering of the cargo was the beginning of the uncovering of the alleged gigantic scheme.

The fifty-one persons indicted are charged with conspiracy to smuggle into the United States 83,000 gallons of alcohol, valued at $900,000.

Will Fight Case.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Lewis H. Rothchild, vice president of the Chelsea Exchange bank, who is under indictment with fifty other men charged with operating a huge rum ring doing business on a million dollar scale, today characterized the charges as "a deliberate lie."

At the Ritz Carlton the young banker stated that there was no foundation for the government allegations, and added that he would fight the case to the finish.

According to the authorities Rothchild was the head of the combine, which had important connections in Philadelphia, New Jersey and New York, with its base in Boston.

Two other members of the Chelsea bank were indicted. It is charged that the men planned to take up the alcohol and sell it at $4 a quart for a total of $5,472,000, which would return them a profit of about $3,000,000.

Citizens of Maine Go to Polls to Name Member of Senate

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 29. — There was every indication of a heavy vote as citizens went to the polls today to cast their ballots in a special election, which will decide the balance of power in the United States senate.

It was a special election to fill the seat made vacant by the death of Senator Bert M. Fernald. Arthur R. Gould, prosperous business man of Presque Isle, a Republican, was opposed by Fulton L. Redman, Democrat, a lawyer with offices in New York and homes in Bar Harbor and Newark, N. J.

Charges that Gould and his friends spent huge sums in the primary campaign have made the result of the election in doubt. The Ku Klux Klan, a strong factor in the Pine Tree state, was said to have been behind the bringing of the charges and to have decided to support Redman. After a hearing Secretary of State Ball decided that the charges were unfounded.

Governor Ralph O. Brewster, of Maine, Republican, refused to campaign for Gould.

Tris Speaker Quits Cleveland Indians And National Game

CLEVELAND, Nov. 29.—Tris Speaker, veteran manager of the Cleveland Indians, who lead the club to an American league pennant and a world series title, resigned today, and announced his retirement from baseball.

"I submitted by resignation to the club management today," Speaker said. "I am retiring from baseball, and I will enter business. I have several good offers, and am considering them all, but at present the one to become associated with Geometric Stamping company, of Cleveland, appears to be the best bet."

The big Texan denied that his resignation was caused by any differences with the owners of the club, and said that no proposal to reduce his salary, reported to be $50,000 a year, had been made.

Wealthy Widow, 65, And Her Chauffeur, 21, Secretly Married

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Society here was astounded today upon learning of the secret elopment last month of Mrs. Estella Woodward, wealthy widow of South Deerfield, Mass., and Herman Latourneau, her chauffeur. They were secretly married at Kingston, N. Y., on Oct. 6.

The bridegroom is 21 and Mrs. Woodward is 65. She is a cousin of Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James, whose millionaire husband is a well-known New York yachtsman.

Mrs. Latourneau has three children, all grown.

That's putting it mildly. Madame Kollontai believes in " a school of love" and that school "requires great delicacy of soul, attentive tenderness and psychological wakefulness." The woman of today, says this Russian lady, 'feel that marriage is a shackle even if it is an informal marriage without external bonds."

And the new woman makes more demands on her lover than did the old-fashion woman. 'She can forgive many slights, even infidelity which the old fashioned woman could not forgive, but she forgives no slight to her spiritual ego."

"It will be hard for the new man to keep up with the new woman. This Madame Kollontai will learn from Brtish, French, German Italian and Norwegian history, that while marriage may be "a big strain on romance' as the wife grows pudgy and the husband grows dull, absence of marriage laws creates a greater strain.

Men have been caught, married, signed up, tied down, because the process is absolutely necessary to civilization. The strange thing is that modern women, not men should attack the marriage institution that with all its imperfections is the only hope of women and children.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Industrial stocks displayed an irregular tone at the beginning of trading today. Continuance of the 5 per cent call loan rate was a handicap to the rally in the speculative leaders, as also were the reports of curtailment in steel mills operations in the Mahoning valley. The steel stocks were freely offered in this period, and United States Steel lost more than a point at 149.

Firmness characterized the motor stocks. General Motors, Chrysler, Studebaker, Hudson and White Motor attracted considerable buying at a higher range of values. Phillips petroleum sold up more than a point to a new high at 54¾, while Skelly and Marland Oil made fractional gains in a fairly active market.

After an early decline to 157, Baldwin Locomotive ran up briskly to above 160. Mack trucks and other speculative leaders which had felt the weight of profit taking and shortly selling in the first period also recovered the bulk of their early losses.

INDIFFERENCE OF MAN GREAT TRAGEDY, SAYS REV. O. A. NEWLIN

Evangelist Speaks in United Presbyterian Church.

Delivers Address at Women's Meet in Baptist Church.

Man's indifference, culminating in spiritual lethargy and due to a lack of acquaintanceship with God was characterized by Rev. O. A. Newlin, evangelist now holding a series of meetings at the First United Presbyterian church, as the world's greatest tragedy on Sunday evening when he addressed a large assemblage of persons that included many from other congregations in the city.

Earlier in the day he had thrice spoken before. He established an evangelistic precedent by addressing a men's service in the afternoon and at its conclusion rushing to the First Baptist church where he spoke again to women only. "A Successful Man's Failure" was the theme of the former and "Polished Corner Stones" that of the latter. In the morning he had discussed "The Essence of the Gospel."

Tall of form with commanding appearance Rev. Mr. Newlin strongly impressed his hearers by his mastery of his chosen subjects in all of which he exhibited unquestioned knowledge of the truths he essayed to impart.

Living in Winona Lake, Ind., and associated with Dr. W. E. Biederwolf in the conduct of the famous Bible school there, Rev. Mr. Newlin is disclosed as an intimate friend of "Billy" Sunday, Homer Rodeheaver, James Heaton, "Bob" Jones and other well known personages who have in recent years held outstanding revivals in East Liverpool.

During the majority of Sundays in December he is to take Dr. Biederwolf's place in a steel tabernacle at Indianapolis, Ind., which will seat 10,000 persons. The latter up to the first of the year will hold services in West Palm Beach, Fla.

Dr. Biederwolf, he said, has just completed an engagement in the Seattle, Wash., church of which the famed Dr. Mark Matthews is the well known pastor.

Having been an evangelist for years Rev. Mr. Newlin will hold revivals at Bluffton, Ind.; Muskogen, Okla., and Dennison, Ill., early next year, while also acting as the chairman of the speaking committee of the Winona Lake Bible Conference which arranges the presence each of the world's outstanding clergymen at this gathering as an inspiration for ministers who meet to study and spend their vacations at the same time during the summer months.

Service, starting promptly at 7:30 o'clock, will be held this week, except on Saturday night. Rev. Mr. Newlin's subject for this period will be as follows: Monday—"The Source of Permanent Joy;" Tuesday—"The Pearl of Parables;" Wednesday—"The Most Prevalent Sin;" Thursday—"The Unpardonable Sin;" Friday—"The Futility of Excuses."

In charge of the music of the campaign is Prof. John C. Usher, of Emsworth, Pa., who daily will make the trip to and from Pittsburgh where he is engaged in business.

With Miss Wilda Warner he sang a duet at the evening service: "My Saviour and My Lord." In the afternoon the church's male chorus augmented by Messrs. Oliver Johnson, Phillip Fuhrer and Norman Pilgrim, of the First Presbyterian choir sang a series of songs. The regular choral organization of the congregation contributed the anthem: "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" by Campbell.

The introductory prayer of the night service was made by the pastor Rev. L. W. Davidson and the invocation was by Rev. Mr. Cheeks, pastor of the Calcutta United Presbyterian church.

Preliminary to the sermon of the evening Rev. Mr. Davidson stressed the individual responsibility of the church's members as to their duty during the revival period. "It is as important that you attend and bring others needing to hear the gospel," he said, "as it is for the evangelist to preach."

During a brief reading of the Scriptures Rev. Mr. Newlin pointed out the prominence of Godly invitation that ran the entire length of the Bible. "God's first invitation to man and noted in Genesis was to Noah," he said, when "'The Lord said unto Noah, Come into the Ark.' And the last, a royal one, between which were hundreds of others is chronicled in the concluding passages of Revelation: 'And the spirit and the bride (the church) say come. Let him that heareth, who is athirst; let all who will come and take the water of life freely.' He also alluded to Jesus' invitation, 'Come for all things are now ready.'"

The words: "Acquaint now thyself with God and great good will come to thee" formed Rev. Mr. Newlin's evening text.

"It has been truly said 'the secrets of the Lord are with those who know him,'" affirmed the evangelist. With such an acquaintance there is a peace that elsewhere can not be found. It pays to serve Jesus. The cry: 'O that I might where to find him' was not one of despair, but rather that of hope. It is a strange fact that man, created in his image, does not know God."

He told of an immigrant to America walking along the railway tracks with a pack upon his back. When ordered off the right of way he produced what he thought was a permit to do so. The words on it "good for first class package" were explained to him to be a ticket for a train upon which he later completed his long journey to a distant point.

"There are people in East Liverpool like that" he pointed out. "They carry even heavier burdens than the ignorant immigrant yet they do not know the 'great burden bearer' to whom they would find instant relief if they would but know Him well enough to act upon the injunction: 'Cast thy burden upon the Lord.'"

How neighbors sometimes refuse to permit kindly intentioned folks to penetrate their reserves and build a proper acquaintanceship that would be fraught with mutual good was indicated. "You would not persist in such an effort after repeated refusals to your better natured intentions," he said. "But God has tried for years to enter many of your hearts. In childhood, at marriage, when children came, in prosperity and adversity 'behold He stood at the door of your heart and knocked."

The 3:00 o'clock afternoon talk to women at the First Baptist church was well attended. All in all the evangelist, speaking four times, put in a most strenuous day.

PROGRESS MADE IN BUSINESS DURING YEAR

Restoration of Soundness Out of Post-War Chaos.

OUTLOOK IS O. K.

American Loans and Investments Total $1,250,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Checking up the loose ends of a world economic survey for 1926, experts at the treasury and commerce department declared today that a recapitulation discloses that out of post-war chaos is gradually coming a restoration of soundness in governmental and business conduct.

This year was described as productive of the most important economic progress since the war. American officials feel that the groundwork has been established for still more progress toward stability in 1927.

Among the outstanding developments of 1926 were:

1—Removal of trade barriers bringing about a more even flow of commerce throughout Europe.

2—Currency stabilization of restoration of gold standard in most of the trading countries.

3—Continued flow of American capital abroad, aiding in rehabilitation.

Officials estimated that American loans and direct investments abroad in 1926 will amount to $1,250,000,000, of which about half is accounted for by European governments or corporations. There is reason to believe that this rate will be contined for some years to come.

Secretary of Navy Named in $250,000 Suit for Damages

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Suit for $250,000 damages against Secretary of the Navy Wilbur was filed today by Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, U. S. N., retired, for alleged infringement on his patent on "a method and apparatus for delivery of submarine torpedoes from airships."

Named with Wilbur in the suit were Rear Admirals Charles B. McVay, Jr., William A. Moffett, and Claude C. Bloch.

Fiske declared he perfected what is now known as the "torpedo-plane" and that the navy appropriated it, despite patent rights issued to him in 1912.

CARDINALS' PAY IS NOW $850

ROME, Nov. 29.—Due to the increased cost of living the pope has doubled the salary of cardinals, from 20,000 to 40,000 lire a year, approximately $850.

There has been an agitation for some time for an increased allotment for the cardinal attached to the Vatican, it being maintained that many of them were unable to secure more than a bare existence upon their salaries.

ACCUSED WIDOW COOL AS SHE FACES SIMPSON

Black Garbed Defendant Meets Verbal Barrage.

VOICE IS LOW

By James L. Kilgallen.

COURTHOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall resumed the witness stand at the Hall-Mills rial at 10:16 this morning for cross-examination.

A cool, indifferent expression on her pallid face, the black garbed defendant calmly surveyed Prosecutor Alexander Simpson as he launched his verbal barrage.

"Did you spend part of 1922 at Mannesquan (a small town near Asbury park)?" was Simpson's opening question.

"No," she replied in a very low voice.

"Did you spend any time at any shore resort with Rev. Hall that year?"

"No."

Used Word "Casualty."

"You say you never saw anything suspicious between Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills in the church and you attended the church every Sunday?"

"No, I did not," she said firmly.

"Did you say during the investigation in 1922 at New Brunswick in describing your movements that you 'had not slept on the night of the crime?'"

"Yes."

"Didn't you use the word 'casualty' when you called up the police inquiring about your husband the morning after the murder—didn't you say 'were there any casulties?'"

"Yes."

"Didn't you say on Saturday that the word "casualty" meant a violent death?"

"No."

"What time did you get up on Friday morning, the day after the crime?"

"Between 6 and 7."

"What was the first time you saw Mr. Mills after that?"

"Between 7 and 9 a. m.

"How did you meet him (Mills)?"

"In front of the church."

"What did you say to him?"

"I just talked things over with him."

"Don't you remember saying to Mr. Mills that 'they had been together and had been murdered?"

"I did not say that."

"What did you say then to Mr. Mills?"

"I made no such statement," she retorted.

Spectators Listen Intently.

The spectators, occupying every room and choking the aisles, listened intently to every word.

"You say you never saw anything suspicious between Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills?"

"Never."

"You saw a concealed camera in court here Saturday and asked the court to remove it."

"It wasn't concealed."

"Yet you were living with your husband every day and never saw anything to arouse your suspicions."

"No, never."

Her replies were very low. At times she was barely audible.

"Do you now say," continued Simpson relentlessly, "that you told no one in the prosecutor's office that you told Mr. Mills 'they've been together and they've been murdered?'"

"I didn't say that."

"Now you say you telephoned Mr. Hall's sister the day after your husband failed to come home—now where did you telephone from?"

"From the drug store half a mile from my house."

"What time?"

"About 10 a. m."

"Who did you telephone to?"

"Mrs. Voorhees."

"What did you say to her?"

"That Dr. Hall had gone out and had not returned."

"Why didn't you tell the police on Friday?"

"I told Mr. Florence to notify them for me."

Met Singer's Husband.

Mrs. Hall then testified that shortly afterward both Dr. Hall's sisters, Mrs. Paul Bonner and Mrs. Francis Voorhees, arrived at the station at New Brunswick about noon—and went to her house.

She said she went down to the station and on her way back saw James Mills and learned that his wife was missing.

"When you learned that both Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were missing why did you 'put them together' when you talked with James Mills?"

"I did not."

"If your husband was out all night, why did you think he was out with Mrs. Mills?"

"Mrs. Mills was the last person whom he said he was going to see."

Her Glance Seems Deadly.

"All day Friday you were waiting for news?"

"Yes."

Mrs. Hall's eyes narrowed as she regarded Simpson. Her voice was low, but firm. Her glance seemed deadly as she regarded the little prosecutor.

"Why did you sit at home all day the next day waiting for news?" demanded Simpson.

Robert H. McCarter, senior counsel for the defense, objected and a hot legal tilt followed.

The objection was sustained.

By now Mrs. Hall seemed somewhat laggard and tired. Simpson's questions came with the rapidity of a machine gun.

"You knew where the hospital were in New Brunswick?"

"Yes."

"And you had an automobile?"

"Yes."

Never Went to Hospitals.

"And you let the day drag by, you fearing your husband had been hurt and never went near the hospitals?"

"No, I had telephoned the police."

"Why did you say on September 26, 1922, that 'they were both out together and met the same fate?'" Simpson reiterated.

"I don't recall saying that," she said quietly.

She ignored Simpson when he said "now come on Mrs. Hall; give me an answer one way or the other. We haven't got all day. Let's get out of here."

"Did you testify under oath that the thought occurred to you that they might have been together and that they might have met the same fate?" Simpson again asked.

"I told you," said Mrs. Hall wearily, "I knew Mr. Hall was going to see Mrs. Mills about the hospital bills and I knew that they were together that evening."

"You knew where your husband's body was after it was found Saturday?"

"Yes."

"Yet you never visited the undertaker's parlors or made any effort to have the body brought to your home?"

"I was told it was wiser that the body remain at the undertakers."

"Yet this husband, to whom you were devoted, whom you never suspected of a disloyal act, who had met a violent death, but whose hands you did not know, you let his body lie at the undertaker's from Saturday to Monday, and be buried without regular pall-bearers?"

(A previous witness testified the carriage drivers acted as pallbearers.)

"I don't remember whether there were pall-bearers."

Sought Lawyer's Advice.

"Why did you want advice from a lawyer 10 days after the crime, if you weren't involved?" suddenly shouted Simpson.

"I thought it was necessary to have such advice," she replied evenly.

Mrs. Hall glaced at the clock. She seemed to be impatient with the long drawn ordeal. She was not weakening, however. Simpson's repetition of questions and his insistence upon answers the way he wanted them angered her. Her manner became increasingly disdainful.

"Now Mrs. Hall, 10 days after the murder you engaged Mr. Pfeiffer. What advice did you want, advice could not restore the husband who you say was everything in the world to you?"

"What should be done about it? A murder had been done. I wanted advice about what should be done."

"By the authorities?"

"Yes."

"Did you omit to state in your first statement to Totten that you came in early Friday morning? At what part of your recital did you put that in?"

"I was in a very agitated state of mind. He told me a woman had been seen coming into my home Friday morning and I said 'yes, I was that woman.'"

"You knew nothing of a love affair between your husband and Mrs. Mills?"

"No."

"Did you ever look over his shoulder while he was writing to Mrs. Mills and see what he was writing?"

"I never did."

Mrs. Hall's Denial

that some one else got a letter left in a hymn book for him?"

Asks About Trip to Italy.

Simpson asked her about her trip to Italy after the tragedy and then asked her, if on her return, she had said she "hoped the pig woman (Mrs. Jane Gibson "eye-witness" of the crime who identified Mrs. Hall and her brothers as having been on the scene) was dead."

"I did not say that," she said firmly.

The relentness prosecutor wanted to know if at that time she didn't also say that "the only mistake made was sending my coat away to be dyed; I should have burned it."

"I did not say that neither," replied Mrs. Hall, her narrowed eyes gleaming.

Simpson asked her if she had communicated with her brother, Henry Stevens, of Lavallette, N. J., the morning after her husband failed to come home. She said she did not.

Then the prosecutor showed her some letters and said: "Here are your letters to your brother. Did you ever write a single word to him about the man you loved dearly who had gone to death the September before?"

Her chief counsel, Robert H. McCarter, leaped to his feet objecting, asserting the letters "spoke for themselves." The court sustained objection.

Simpson asked her if the letters were her's and she replied that they were. The prosecutor had them marked for identification.

NELLIS FIRM GETS N. B. O. P. BUILDING JOB

Contract is Awarded for Two-story Addition.

Seven Contractors Submitted Proposals to Committee.

Contract for the two-story brick addition to the Sixth street headquarters building of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters was awarded by the building committee and East Liverpool members of the executive board Saturday night to D. F. Nellis & Sons, local contractors. The bid was $41,000.

Nellis company was one of seven contracting firms to submit estimates. Their contract is for the building only and does not include the heating system, contract for which will be awarded later. Work will be started within the next few days.

Plans call for a structure having a frontage of 45 feet on Sixth street and extending through to Rural lane 130 feet deep. It will match the present one-story building on the site.

Four large rooms, each having an ante-room, will be on the second floor for use of the subordinate unions. An assembly hall for dances and social purposes will be on main floor back of the present offices. In the basement will be a kitchen, banquet room, heating plant and stock equipment quarters for The Potters' Herald, official organ of the Brotherhood.

Plans for the addition were prepared by J. C. Cunningham, Ikirt building architect, who will also supervise its erection.

CANTON TROOPS CONTROL HANKOW

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Cantonese troops have assumed control of the Hankow area, isolating the French, British and Japanese concessions, according to a Central News dispatch from Hankow.

American marines are patrolling the Japanese concession.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Naval forces have been landed at Hankow to preserve order there, according to advices received here from Shanghai.

BANDITS MAKE $1,000 CLEAN-UP

CINCINNATI, Nov. 29. — Police today were looking for three youthful bandits who held up Max Schwartz theatre proprietor and his two daughters, Sarah and Ethel, late last night The bandits escaped with more than $1,000, the receipts of a Sunday night show, which Schwartz was carrying, police said.

Chevrolet Coupe Abandoned.

Constable Lawrence Chamberlain, Calcutta, notified police today that a Chevrolet coupe had been abandoned in the Calcutta district. The machine carried no license plates and the battery had been removed. Its speedometer showed it to have been driven about 1,200 miles. It is believed to have been stolen.

not be used against him in a subsequent criminal proceeding.

Letter Also Admitted.

Government counsel contended the statute did not cover this particular case as Doheny had been a voluntary witness before the senate committee, and had given the story to the committee by his own volition.

Admitted along with the Doheny statement was the letter written to the senate committee by Fall in which he claimed he had borrowed the money in dispute and had never even approached Doheny or his associates.

Thus, the government placed before the jury conflicting statements by the two defendants and at the same time laid the foundation for its case.

Justice Cites Law.

Justice Hoehling, who, since last Friday has been considering the question of admissibility of this evidence, took three quarters of an hour to hand down his ruling. He went exhaustively into every phase of the law, for the defense objection was based on a section of the code over 70 years old, but never before applied to a criminal case.

Hoehling accepted the government views and regarded Doheny as a voluntary witness before the senate committee, who did not testify under compulsion. As for the Fall letter, the judge held it not even to be testimony in that it was not sworn to.

Frank J. Hogan, for Doheny, immediately noted an exception to all of the testimony and Wilton J. Lambert did likewise for Fall.

Fall's Letter Read.

Peyton Gordon, the district attorney, read to the jury the Fall letter.

In the letter Fall expressed surprise and some ire that the committee had been looking into his private affairs, but volunteered considerable information.

Justice Hoehling, referring to the letter in his ruling, said:

"If it be testimony then the giver of it, if any of its material statements be untrue, would remain subject to a prosecution for perjury under the provisions of section 859."

(This was the section under which the defense had declared the letter to be inadmissible.)

ARRESTS FORECAST IN ALLEGED GIGANTIC RUM PLOT

BANK OFFICER AND 50 OTHERS ARE INDICTED BY U. S. COURT

Conspiracy to Smuggle $900,000 Cargo is Charged.

BOSTON INQUIRY

Accused Banker Says Allegations are "Deliberate Lie."

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Arrests in New York and Boston were forecast today in connection with the alleged gigantic bootlegging plot, uncovered by federal prohibition authorities.

Lewis H. Rothchild, 28, youngest bank vice president in the United States and former Andover and Princeton football player, is named with fifth others in indictments, according to word from New York.

A steamship warped into a Boston dock last July, laden apparently with cement. The steamship was the Cretan and she carried an enormous alcohol cargo. The uncovering of the cargo was the beginning of the uncovering of the alleged gigantic scheme.

The fifty-one persons indicted are charged with conspiracy to smuggle into the United States 83,000 gallons of alcohol, valued at $900,000.

Will Fight Case.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Lewis H. Rothchild, vice president of the Chelsea Exchange bank, who is under indictment with fifty other men charged with operating a huge rum ring doing business on a million dollar scale, today characterized the charges as "a deliberate lie."

At the Ritz Carlton the young banker stated that there was no foundation for the government allegations, and added that he would fight the case to the finish.

According to the authorities Rothchild was the head of the combine, which had important connections in Philadelphia, New Jersey and New York, with its base in Boston.

Two other members of the Chelsea bank were indicted. It is charged that the men planned to take up the alcohol and sell it at $4 a quart for a total of $5,472,000, which would return them a profit of about $3,000,000.

Citizens of Maine Go to Polls to Name Member of Senate

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 29. — There was every indication of a heavy vote as citizens went to the polls today to cast their ballots in a special election, which will decide the balance of power in the United States senate.

It was a special election to fill the seat made vacant by the death of Senator Bert M. Fernald. Arthur R. Gould, prosperous business man of Presque Isle, a Republican, was opposed by Fulton L. Redman, Democrat, a lawyer with offices in New York and homes in Bar Harbor and Newark, N. J.

Charges that Gould and his friends spent huge sums in the primary campaign have made the result of the election in doubt. The Ku Klux Klan, a strong factor in the Pine Tree state, was said to have been behind the bringing of the charges and to have decided to support Redman. After a hearing Secretary of State Ball decided that the charges were unfounded.

Governor Ralph O. Brewster, of Maine, Republican, refused to campaign for Gould.

Tris Speaker Quits Cleveland Indians And National Game

CLEVELAND, Nov. 29.—Tris Speaker, veteran manager of the Cleveland Indians, who lead the club to an American league pennant and a world series title, resigned today, and announced his retirement from baseball.

"I submitted by resignation to the club management today," Speaker said. "I am retiring from baseball, and I will enter business. I have several good offers, and am considering them all, but at present the one to become associated with Geometric Stamping company, of Cleveland, appears to be the best bet."

The big Texan denied that his resignation was caused by any differences with the owners of the club, and said that no proposal to reduce his salary, reported to be $50,000 a year, had been made.

Wealthy Widow, 65, And Her Chauffeur, 21, Secretly Married

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Society here was astounded today upon learning of the secret elopment last month of Mrs. Estella Woodward, wealthy widow of South Deerfield, Mass., and Herman Latourneau, her chauffeur. They were secretly married at Kingston, N. Y., on Oct. 6.

The bridegroom is 21 and Mrs. Woodward is 65. She is a cousin of Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James, whose millionaire husband is a well-known New York yachtsman.

Mrs. Latourneau has three children, all grown.

That's putting it mildly. Madame Kollontai believes in " a school of love" and that school "requires great delicacy of soul, attentive tenderness and psychological wakefulness." The woman of today, says this Russian lady, 'feel that marriage is a shackle even if it is an informal marriage without external bonds."

And the new woman makes more demands on her lover than did the old-fashion woman. 'She can forgive many slights, even infidelity which the old fashioned woman could not forgive, but she forgives no slight to her spiritual ego."

It will be hard for the new man to keep up with the new woman. This Madame Kollontai will learn from Brtish, French, German Italian and Norwegian history, that while marriage may be "a big strain on romance' as the wife grows pudgy and the husband grows dull, absence of marriage laws creates a greater strain.

Men have been caught, married, signed up, tied down, because the process is absolutely necessary to civilization. The strange thing is that modern women, not men should attack the marriage institution that with all its imperfections is the only hope of women and children.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Industrial stocks displayed an irregular tone at the beginning of trading today. Continuance of the 5 per cent call loan rate was a handicap to the rally in the speculative leaders, as also were the reports of curtailment in steel mills operations in the Mahoning valley. The steel stocks were freely offered in this period, and United States Steel lost more than a point at 149.

Firmness characterized the motor stocks. General Motors, Chrysler, Studebaker, Hudson and White Motor attracted considerable buying at a higher range of values. Phillips petroleum sold up more than a point to a new high at 54¾, while Skelly and Marland Oil made fractional gains in a fairly active market.

After an early decline to 157, Baldwin Locomotive ran up briskly to above 160. Mack trucks and other speculative leaders which had felt the weight of profit taking and shortly selling in the first period also recovered the bulk of their early losses.

INDIFFERENCE OF MAN GREAT TRAGEDY, SAYS REV. O. A. NEWLIN

Evangelist Speaks in United Presbyterian Church.

Delivers Address at Women's Meet in Baptist Church.

Man's indifference, culminating in spiritual lethargy and due to a lack of acquaintanceship with God was characterized by Rev. O. A. Newlin, evangelist now holding a series of meetings at the First United Presbyterian church, as the world's greatest tragedy on Sunday evening when he addressed a large assemblage of persons that included many from other congregations in the city.

Earlier in the day he had thrice spoken before. He established an evangelistic precedent by addressing a men's service in the afternoon and at its conclusion rushing to the First Baptist church where he spoke again to women only. "A Successful Man's Failure" was the theme of the former and "Polished Corner Stones" that of the latter. In the morning he had discussed "The Essence of the Gospel."

Tall of form with commanding appearance Rev. Mr. Newlin strongly impressed his hearers by his mastery of his chosen subjects in all of which he exhibited unquestioned knowledge of the truths he essayed to impart.

Living in Winona Lake, Ind., and associated with Dr. W. E. Biederwolf in the conduct of the famous Bible school there, Rev. Mr. Newlin is disclosed as an intimate friend of "Billy" Sunday, Homer Rodeheaver, James Heaton, "Bob" Jones and other well known personages who have in recent years held outstanding revivals in East Liverpool.

During the majority of Sundays in December he is to take Dr. Biederwolf's place in a steel tabernacle at Indianapolis, Ind., which will seat 10,000 persons. The latter up to the first of the year will hold services in West Palm Beach, Fla.

Dr. Biederwolf, he said, has just completed an engagement in the Seattle, Wash., church of which the famed Dr. Mark Matthews is the well known pastor.

Having been an evangelist for years Rev. Mr. Newlin will hold revivals at Bluffton, Ind.; Muskogen, Okla., and Dennison, Ill., early next year, while also acting as the chairman of the speaking committee of the Winona Lake Bible Conference which arranges the presence each of the world's outstanding clergymen at this gathering as an inspiration for ministers who meet to study and spend their vacations at the same time during the summer months.

Service, starting promptly at 7:30 o'clock, will be held this week, except on Saturday night. Rev. Mr. Newlin's subject for this period will be as follows: Monday—"The Source of Permanent Joy;" Tuesday—"The Pearl of Parables;" Wednesday—"The Most Prevalent Sin;" Thursday—"The Unpardonable Sin;" Friday—"The Futility of Excuses."

In charge of the music of the campaign is Prof. John C. Usher, of Emsworth, Pa., who daily will make the trip to and from Pittsburgh where he is engaged in business.

With Miss Wilda Warner he sang a duet at the evening service: "My Saviour and My Lord." In the afternoon the church's male chorus augmented by Messrs. Oliver Johnson, Phillip Fuhrer and Norman Pilgrim, of the First Presbyterian choir sang a series of songs. The regular choral organization of the congregation contributed the anthem: "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" by Campbell.

The introductory prayer of the night service was made by the pastor Rev. L. W. Davidson and the invocation was by Rev. Mr. Cheeks, pastor of the Calcutta United Presbyterian church.

Preliminary to the sermon of the evening Rev. Mr. Davidson stressed the individual responsibility of the church's members as to their duty during the revival period. "It is as important that you attend and bring others needing to hear the gospel," he said, "as it is for the evangelist to preach."

During a brief reading of the Scriptures Rev. Mr. Newlin pointed out the prominence of Godly invitation that ran the entire length of the Bible. "God's first invitation to man and noted in Genesis was to Noah," he said, when "'The Lord said unto Noah, Come into the Ark.' And the last, a royal one, between which were hundreds of others is chronicled in the concluding passages of Revelation: 'And the spirit and the bride (the church) say come. Let him that heareth, who is athirst; let all who will come and take the water of life freely.' He also alluded to Jesus' invitation, 'Come for all things are now ready.'"

The words: "Acquaint now thyself with God and great good will come to thee" formed Rev. Mr. Newlin's evening text.

"It has been truly said 'the secrets of the Lord are with those who know him,'" affirmed the evangelist. With such an acquaintance there is a peace that elsewhere can not be found. It pays to serve Jesus. The cry: 'O that I might where to find him' was not one of despair, but rather that of hope. It is a strange fact that man, created in his image, does not know God."

He told of an immigrant to America walking along the railway tracks with a pack upon his back. When ordered off the right of way he produced what he thought was a permit to do so. The words on it "good for first class package" were explained to him to be a ticket for a train upon which he later completed his long journey to a distant point.

"There are people in East Liverpool like that" he pointed out. "They carry even heavier burdens than the ignorant immigrant yet they do not know the 'great burden bearer' to whom they would find instant relief if they would but know Him well enough to act upon the injunction: 'Cast thy burden upon the Lord.'"

How neighbors sometimes refuse to permit kindly intentioned folks to penetrate their reserves and build a proper acquaintanceship that would be fraught with mutual good was indicated. "You would not persist in such an effort after repeated refusals to your better natured intentions," he said. "But God has tried for years to enter many of your hearts. In childhood, at marriage, when children came, in prosperity and adversity 'behold He stood at the door of your heart and knocked."

The 3:00 o'clock afternoon talk to women at the First Baptist church was well attended. All in all the evangelist, speaking four times, put in a most strenuous day.

PROGRESS MADE IN BUSINESS DURING YEAR

Restoration of Soundness Out of Post-War Chaos.

OUTLOOK IS O. K.

American Loans and Investments Total $1,250,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Checking up the loose ends of a world economic survey for 1926, experts at the treasury and commerce department declared today that a recapitulation discloses that out of post-war chaos is gradually coming a restoration of soundness in governmental and business conduct.

This year was described as productive of the most important economic progress since the war. American officials feel that the groundwork has been established for still more progress toward stability in 1927.

Among the outstanding developments of 1926 were:

1—Removal of trade barriers bringing about a more even flow of commerce throughout Europe.

2—Currency stabilization of restoration of gold standard in most of the trading countries.

3—Continued flow of American capital abroad, aiding in rehabilitation.

Officials estimated that American loans and direct investments abroad in 1926 will amount to $1,250,000,000, of which about half is accounted for by European governments or corporations. There is reason to believe that this rate will be contined for some years to come.

Secretary of Navy Named in $250,000 Suit for Damages

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Suit for $250,000 damages against Secretary of the Navy Wilbur was filed today by Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, U. S. N., retired, for alleged infringement on his patent on "a method and apparatus for delivery of submarine torpedoes from airships."

Named with Wilbur in the suit were Rear Admirals Charles B. McVay, Jr., William A. Moffett, and Claude C. Bloch.

Fiske declared he perfected what is now known as the "torpedo-plane" and that the navy appropriated it, despite patent rights issued to him in 1912.

CARDINALS' PAY IS NOW $850

ROME, Nov. 29.—Due o the increased cost of living the pope has doubled the salary of cardinals, from 20,000 to 40,000 lire a year, approximately $850.

There has been an agitation for some time for an increased pilotment for the cardinal attached to the Vatican, it being maintained that many of them were unable to secure more than a bare existence upon their salaries.

ACCUSED WIDOW COOL AS SHE FACES SIMPSON

Black Garbed Defendant Meets Verbal Barrage.

VOICE IS LOW

By James L. Kilgallen.

COURTHOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall resumed the witness stand at the Hall-Mills rial at 10:16 this morning for cross-examination.

A cool, indifferent expression on her pallid face, the black garbed defendant calmly surveyed Prosecutor Alexander Simpson as he launched his verbal barrage.

"Did you spend part of 1922 at Mannesquan (a small town near Asbury park)?" was Simpson's opening question.

"No," she replied in a very low voice.

"Did you spend any time at any shore resort with Rev. Hall that year?"

"No."

Used Word "Casualty."

"You say you never saw anything suspicious between Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills in the church and you attended the church every Sunday?"

"No, I did not," she said firmly.

"Did you say during the investigation in 1922 at New Brunswick in describing your movements that you had not slept on the night of the crime?"

"Yes."

"Didn't you use the word 'casualty' when you called up the police inquiring about your husband the morning after the murder—didn't you say 'were there any casulties?'"

"Yes."

"Didn't you say on Saturday that the word "casualty" meant a violent death?"

"No."

"What time did you get up on Friday morning, the day after the crime?"

"Between 6 and 7."

"What was the first time you saw Mr. Mills after that?"

"Between 7 and 9 a. m.

"How did you meet him (Mills)?"

"In front of the church."

"What did you say to him?"

"I just talked things over with him."

"Don't you remember saying to Mr. Mills that 'they had been together and had been murdered?"

"I did not say that."

"What did you say then to Mr. Mills?"

"I made no such statement," she retorted.

Spectators Listen Intently.

The spectators, occupying every room and choking the aisles, listened intently to every word.

"You say you never saw anything suspicious between Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills?"

"Never."

"You saw a concealed camera in court here Saturday and asked the court to remove it."

"It wasn't concealed."

"Yet you were living with your husband every day and never saw anything to arouse your suspicions."

"No, never."

Her replies were very low. At times she was barely audible.

"Do you now say," continued Simpson relentlessly, "that you told no one in the prosecutor's office that you told Mr. Mills 'they've been together and they've been murdered?'"

"I didn't say that."

"Now you say you telephoned Mr. Hall's sister the day after your husband failed to come home—now where did you telephone from?"

"From the drug store half a mile from my house."

"What time?"

"About 10 a. m."

"Who did you telephone to?"

"Mrs. Voorhees."

"What did you say to her?"

"That Dr. Hall had gone out and had not returned."

"Why didn't you tell the police on Friday?"

"I told Mr. Florence to notify them for me."

Met Singer's Husband.

Mrs. Hall then testified that shortly afterward both Dr. Hall's sisters, Mrs. Paul Bonner and Mrs. Francis Voorhees, arrived at the station at New Brunswick about noon—and went to her house.

She said she went down to the station and on her way back saw James Mills and learned that his wife was missing.

"When you learned that both Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were missing why did you 'put them together' when you talked with James Mills?"

"I did not."

"If your husband was out all night, why did you think he was out with Mrs. Mills?"

"Mrs. Mills was the last person whom he said he was going to see."

Her Glance Seems Deadly.

"All day Friday you were waiting for news?"

"Yes."

Mrs. Hall's eyes narrowed as she regarded Simpson. Her voice was low, but firm. Her glance seemed deadly as she regarded the little prosecutor.

"Why did you sit at home all day the next day waiting for news?" demanded Simpson.

Robert H. McCarter, senior counsel for the defense, objected and a hot legal tilt followed.

The objection was sustained.

By now Mrs. Hall seemed somewhat laggard and tired. Simpson's questions came with the rapidity of a machine gun.

"You knew where the hospital were in New Brunswick?"

"Yes."

"And you had an automobile?"

"Yes."

Never Went to Hospitals.

"And you let the day drag by, you fearing your husband had been hurt and never went near the hospitals?"

"No, I had telephoned the police."

"Why did you say on September 26, 1922, that 'they were both out together and met the same fate?'" Simpson reiterated.

"I don't recall saying that," she said quietly.

She ignored Simpson when he said "now come on Mrs. Hall; give me an answer one way or the other. We haven't got all day. Let's get out of here."

"Did you testify under oath that the thought occurred to you that they might have been together and that they might have met the same fate?" Simpson again asked.

"I told you," said Mrs. Hall wearily, "I knew Mr. Hall was going to see Mrs. Mills about the hospital bills and I knew that they were together that evening."

"You knew where your husband's body was after it was found Saturday?"

"Yes."

"Yet you never visited the undertaker's parlors or made any effort to have the body brought to your home?"

"I was told it was wiser that the body remain at the undertakers."

"Yet this husband, to whom you were devoted, whom you never suspected of a disloyal act, who had met a violent death, but whose hands you did not know, you let his body lie at the undertaker's from Saturday to Monday, and be buried without regular pall-bearers?"

(A previous witness testified the carriage drivers acted as pallbearers.)

"I don't remember whether there were pall-bearers."

Sought Lawyer's Advice.

"Why did you want advice from a lawyer 10 days after the crime, if you weren't involved?" suddenly shouted Simpson.

"I thought it was necessary to have such advice," she replied evenly.

Mrs. Hall glaced at the clock. She seemed to be impatient with the long drawn ordeal. She was not weakening, however. Simpson's repetition of questions and his insistence upon answers the way he wanted them angered her. Her manner became increasingly disdainful.

"Now Mrs. Hall, 10 days after the murder you engaged Mr. Pfeiffer. What advice did you want, advice could not restore the husband who you say was everything in the world to you?"

"What should be done about it? A murder had been done. I wanted advice about what should be done."

"By the authorities?"

"Yes."

"Did you omit to state in your first statement to Totten that you came in early Friday morning? At what part of your recital did you put that in?"

"I was in a very agitated state of mind. He told me a woman had been seen coming into my home Friday morning and I said 'yes, I was that woman.'"

"You knew nothing of a love affair between your husband and Mrs. Mills?"

"No."

"Did you ever look over his shoulder while he was writing to Mrs. Mills and see what he was writing?"

"I never did."

Mrs. Hall's Denial

that some one else got a letter left in a hymn book for him?"

"No," she answered wearily.

Asks About Trip to Italy.

Simpson asked her about her trip to Italy after the tragedy and then asked her, if on her return, she had said she "hoped the pig woman (Mrs. Jane Gibson "eye-witness" of the crime who identified Mrs. Hall and her brothers as having been on the scene) was dead."

"I did not say that," she said firmly.

The relentness prosecutor wanted to know if at that time she didn't also say that "the only mistake made was sending my coat away to be dyed; I should have burned it."

"I did not say that neither," replied Mrs. Hall, her narrowed eyes gleaming.

Simpson asked her if she had communicated with her brother, Henry Stevens, of Lavallette, N. J., the morning after her husband failed to come home. She said she did not.

Then the prosecutor showed her some letters and said: "Here are your letters to your brother. Did you ever write a single word to him about the man you loved dearly who had gone to death the September before?"

Her chief counsel, Robert H. McCarter, leaped to his feet objecting, asserting the letters "spoke for themselves." The court sustained objection.

Simpson asked her if the letters were her's and she replied that they were. The prosecutor had them marked for identification.

ment of the street were filed as provided by law.

As a result of the decision legislation must be re-enacted by council. All bids for the improvement received about six weeks ago have been rejected.

Swaney obtained the injunction after the city awarded the contract to George B. Patterson, Wellsville. The street was to have been surfaced with concrete, according to Patterson's bid.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors who showed their sympathy in our bereavement in the death of our husband and father, Thomas A. Beaver. Especially do we thank Rev. J. F. Dimit and Rev. F. G. Fowler and singers, also the employes of D. E. McNicol and those who sent sent their beautiful floral offerings.

NELLIS FIRM GETS N. B. O. P. BUILDING JOB

Contract is Awarded for Two-story Addition.

Seven Contractors Submitted Proposals to Committee.

Contract for the two-story brick addition to the Sixth street headquarters building of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters was awarded by the building committee and East Liverpool members of the executive board Saturday night to D. F. Nellis & Sons, local contractors. The bid was $41,000.

Nellis company was one of seven contracting firms to submit estimates. Their contract is for the building only and does not include the heating system, contract for which will be awarded later. Work will be started within the next few days.

Plans call for a structure having a frontage of 45 feet on Sixth street and extending through to Rural lane 130 feet deep. It will match the present one-story building on the site.

Four large rooms, each having an ante-room, will be on the second floor for use of the subordinate unions. An assembly hall for dances and social purposes will be on main floor back of the present offices. In the basement will be a kitchen, banquet room, heating plant and stock equipment quarters for The Potters' Herald, official organ of the Brotherhood.

Plans for the addition were prepared by J. C. Cunningham, Ikirt building architect, who will also supervise its erection.

CANTON TROOPS CONTROL HANKOW

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Cantonese troops have assumed control of the Hankow area, isolating the French, British and Japanese concessions, according to a Central News dispatch from Hankow.

American marines are patrolling the Japanese concession.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Naval forces have been landed at Hankow to preserve order there, according to advices received here from Shanghai.

Chevrolet Coupe Abandoned.

Constable Lawrence Chamberlain, Calcutta, notified police today that a Chevrolet coupe had been abandoned in the Calcutta district. The machine carried no license plates and the battery had been removed. Its speedometer showed it to have been driven about 1,200 miles. It is believed to have been stolen.

U. S. Scores in Oil Case

not be used against him in a subsequent criminal proceeding.

Letter Also Admitted.

Government counsel contended the statute did not cover this particular case as Doheny had been a voluntary witness before the senate committee, and had given the story to the committee by his own volition.

Admitted along with the Doheny statement was the letter written to the senate committee by Fall in which he claimed he had borrowed the money in dispute and had never even approached Doheny or his associates.

Thus, the government placed before the jury conflicting statements by the two defendants and at the same time laid the foundation for its case.

Justice Cites Law.

Justice Hoehling, who, since last Friday has been considering the question of admissibility of this evidence, took three quarters of an hour to hand down his ruling. He went exhaustively into every phase of the law, for the defense objection was based on a section of the code over 70 years old, but never before applied to a criminal case.

Hoehling accepted the government views and regarded Doheny as a voluntary witness before the senate committee, who did not testify under compulsion. As for the Fall letter, the judge held it not even to be testimony in that it was not sworn to.

Frank J. Hogan, for Doheny, immediately noted an exception to all of the testimony and Wilton J. Lambert did likewise for Fall.

Fall's Letter Read.

Peyton Gordon, the district attorney, read to the jury the Fall letter.

In the letter Fall expressed surprise and some ire that the committee had been looking into his private affairs, but volunteered considerable information.

Justice Hoehling, referring to the letter in his ruling, said:

"If it be testimony then the giver of it, if any of its material statements be untrue, would remain subject to a prosecution for perjury under the provisions of section 859."

(This was the section under which the defense had declared the letter to be inadmissible.)

Winter Garden's Dance Team Comes to Ceramic in Revue

Earl and Marie Gates Added Attraction With Adolphe Menjou Picture, "The Ace of Cads."

The Earl and Marie Gates Revue, featuring the two dancing stars of Henry W. Savage's "Clining Vine Company" as an added attraction with the Adolphe Menjou picture, "The Ace of Cads," opened a three-day engage ment at the Ceramic theatre today.

Earl and Marie Gates were one-time stars with Winter Garden revues, and also were featured several years ago in the Ziegfeld Midnight Frolic.

They have surrounded themselves with clever musicians and singers, and are offering an act of class, refinement and speed, together with a variety in music and general entertainment.

Adolphe Menjou has been a villain in many pictures. He has been the hero in others. But not until recently did he attempt playing both roles in the same vehicle. "The Ace of Cads" presents Menjou as the hero who purposely became a villain in the eyes of the girl he loved him. Paramount's popular star declares it the most remarkable character he has ever portrayed in that he plays the same episode twice, first as the hero and then as the villain.

This picturization of Michael Arlen's popular short story, directed by Luther Reed, proffers Menjou as a young English Guards lieutenant very much in love with Alice Joyce. A comrade, Philip Strange, "frames" him and Miss Joyce finds her fiance in a compromising situation. She breaks the engagement and marries Strange.

Twenty years pass. Menjou discovers the daughter of his former sweetheart, Suzanne Fleming, enamored of him. When the mother asks that he leave the child alone, he makes himself a cad—an ace of cads—by telling the girl a story.

Without using names, he depicts her father as the betrayed and himself the betrayer. One see Menjou and Strange performing the identical action of the earlier sequence with Menjou enacting the false friend.

Here is a novel idea, "the new twist," which stamps this picture as something distinctly different and unique.

ROSE-MARIE BOOKED HERE

"Indian Love Call" at Ceramic on December 7.

"Rose-Marie" will sound her "Indian Love Call" at the Ceramic theatre for one day only, Tuesday, December 7.

The producer of "Rose Marie," Arthur Hammerstein, has been particularly wise in using discretion when selecting his instrumentalists, because the score of the work is a delicate atmospheric piece of architecture and especially needs expert care. It is well provided with flowing melodies of the sort that follow the listener home after the curtain falls and linger pleasantly in the memory the next morning. It demands much from the violins and the harp—from the softened and muted brass. The accompaniments, frequently have a poetic lusciousness seldom in evidence among the light opera scores of the last few years. From beginning to end, there is evidence of a serious effort to produce music of quality while courting popularity. The person who is not pleased with the haunting "Rose-Marie" with "The Indian Love Call," with the virile, stirring rhythms of the song of the Canadian Mounted Police, and with "Totem Tom Tom" a ballet number that stands out for novelty, costuming and surprises, among the ballets of several seasons, we say the person who is not pleased with these things is exceedingly hard to satisfy.

"Rose-Marie" has a story. The scene for the first hour and a half is in the Canadian Northwest, then at Black Eagle's cabin where the action becomes tragic for a moment, and a little later on at Totem Pole Lodge and then to beautiful scenes in historic Quebec. The staging is fresh and gorgeously artistic, and the costumes in keeping with it are elaborate and are designed in fetching and striking color combinations.

To dignify this luxurious background Hammerstein has provided a splendid cast that includes Ethel Louise Wright, Paul Donch, Grace Wells, Charles Meakins, Peggy Pates, Frank Harrington, Karyl Kunkel, James Moore, Houston Richards, Neil Moore, and over ninety others.

KEEP LIVER AND BOWELS REGULAR WITH "CASCARETS"

No more Headache, Bad Colds, sour stomach and constipation

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most of the ills of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become cross, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, tongue coated, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle cleansing of the bowels—but don't try to force a nauseating dose of oil into the little one's already sick stomach—it is cruel, needless and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets Candy Cathartic which acts gently—never gripe or produce the slightest uneasiness—though they cleanse the little one's system, sweeten the stomach and put the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grown-ups in each package.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this gentle, thorough laxative which costs only 10 cents a box at any drug store.

COUNTY STOCK BREEDERS MEET

New Directors Elected at Annual Meeting Held Saturday.

Charles Lemley of East Palestine and Earl Beddell of Berlin Center, Mahoning county, were elected directors for three years by the Columbiana Live Stock Co-Operative association at the annual meeting at the office of the county farm bureau Saturday afternoon.

Other directors who have held over are: E. Y. Gamble, Butler township; W. J. Hays, Hanoverton; Fred Schoeni, Knox township, and Charles Hull, Center township. The board of directors will meet at the farm bureau office this week for the purpose of organizing and electing officers.

Lieut. C. E. Rowland, former county agent, but now county agent located at Elyria, attended this meeting, as the association was formed during Mr. Rowland's term of office in Columbiana county.

A review of marketing conditions, the kind of stock that is in demand and the method of grading live stock for market, in order that top prices can be obtained and larger returns made shippers was given by L. C. Breidenbaugh, manager of the Producers' Cooperative Commission company at Pittsburgh, Pa., to which all stock from this county is shipped.

The annual report of County Service Manager Phil E. Heim, who has charge of all co-operative live stock shipping out of Columbiana county presented the following report:

Total cars shipped, 59.
Local shipments, 8.
Individual shippers, 637.
Cattle shipped, 892; net weight, 810,502 pounds.
Calves shipped, 200; net weight, 32,004 pounds.
Hogs shipped, 708; net weight 149,969 pounds.
Sheep shipped, 370; net weight, 34,660 pounds.
Total market weight, 1,026,685 pounds.
Gross market value, $56,885.01.
Freight, $2,313.56.
Total terminal expense, $4,536.63.
Net to shippers, $52,656.93.
Expense per cwt., 70.2c.
Shrink: Calves, 5.5 per cent; hogs, 3.8 per cent; sheep, 8.1 per cent; cattle, not given.

This report shows there was an increase of 60 per cent in the number of pounds of live stock shipped out of the county during the last fiscal year. Receipts for the previous year which totaled $34,674.41 were increased this year to $56,885.01, or an increase of about 40 per cent.

The shipping cost was reduced from 76.6 per hundred pounds in 1925 to 70.2 cents per hundred in 1926.

Money Appropriated.

County commissioners have appropriated under the state code, $1,500 to be paid to the Ohio State university for the support of the county extension agent, as the agent is the representative of the agricultural college and closely cooperating with the farm bureau. It was recently reported that the appropriation of $1,500 made by the commissioners was to be credited to the county farm bureau.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

CLARKSON GRANGE OFFICERS NAMED

Clarkson Grange No. 1802 at its last meeting elected the following officers:

Master, Glenn Gaston; overseer, Clyde Gibson; lecturer, Mrs. Lena Williams; steward, Lawrence Huston; assistant steward, Richard Lyons; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Feezel; treasurer, C. V. Warrick; secretary, James F. Veness; gatekeeper, Ross McCoy; Cereas, Vera Huston; Pomona, Mildred Bloor; Flora, Stella McCoy; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Gladys Lyons; business agent, William Wilson; pianist, Mildred Bloor.

At this meeting the grange made partial arrangements and appointed committees for the sixth annual farmers' institute to be held Dec. 14-15. The institute this year will be under the independent classification, sponsored as usual by the grange co-operating, also the county board of education, county board of health and the county farm bureau.

During the meeting on December 8, an oyster supper will be served by the women members. This event will be in charge, however, of Past Master Denver S. Williams, assisted by Master R. V. Hedges.

The new officers will assume their various offices at the first meeting in January.

Public Water Supply Of Lisbon Village Held Unsatisfactory

The public water supply of the village of Lisbon is unsatisfactory, according to an analysis just completed under the direction of the state department of health, a report of which has been received by County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church, clerk of the Lisbon council Lloyd Binsley and to the council of the village of Lisbon.

"The report confirms the previous tests in that contamination is reaching the public water supply from some unknown source," the letter from the health department reveals. "Contamination shows up in the samples obtained from individual wells. This department in view of the unsatisfactory reports would recommend the immediate installation of chlorine equipment.

"Additional samples of the public water supply of Lisbon for the purpose of confirming results already observed, will be collected during the week of Nov. 29th."

During the last summer samples of water taken from the drinking pump in the Lisbon public square also disclosed contamination.

It is probable that council will take some action upon the report of the health department at its next meeting, December 6.

Tuberculosis Claimed 63 Lives in County During Past Year

Tuberculosis, for years one of the leading causes of death, took a toll of 63 lives in Columbiana during 1925, George L. Lafferty, of the county Christmas seal committee has been informed by the Ohio Public Health league, upon information furnished by the bureau of vital statistics of the Ohio state department of health.

This made a death rate for the county from tuberculosis 72.5 per 100,000 population, compared with a rate of 76.1 per 100,000 for the entire state during 1925.

Application of this ratio, according to Mr. Lafferty, to the county figure, shows that there are now in the county probably 567 active cases of tuberculosis.

Funds raised from the sale of Christmas seals have been used for years to finance the campaign against tuberculosis, Mr. Lafferty explains, and the entire sale this year will be thrown into the battle against the disease.

HEALTH BOARD HOLDS SESSION

At a meeting of the county board of health Mrs. Helen O'Brien of Lisbon, was re-elected clerk and Miss Mary Masters was re-elected county health nurse.

The 1927 budget was presented, and this revealed that no funds were appropriated for the employment of a county sanitary officer for next year. A fund of $600, however, was appropriated for the expense of this office.

A total of 16 cases of communicable diseases were reported by County Health Commissioner T. T. Church. Three of these were located at Leetonia and one each in Butler and Fairfield townships. There were two such diseases each in Salem and Liverpool township and seven in Perry township.

During November 55 health conferences were held and 32 schools were visited, where 2,199 children were enrolled. Working certificates have been issued to 13 children.

MINE PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

The coal property on the Lisbon-Leetonia road formerly owned and operated by the Miller Coal company, has been taken over by J. L. Harris and W. A. Sparrow of Kent. It is said the entire output of this operation has been absorbed by the Erie Railroad company, which is also taking the output of the mines of the Seger Fuel company, at West Point and also that of the mine of the Beaver Coal & Clay company, at Coleman.

Stripping operations are also now being actively conducted by the Central Mining company, in Elkrun township near Gilmores' Crossing. With the Central and Miller properties in operations, all of the larger mining operations in this county are now on a production basis.

Business Expanding.

Nine presses are now in opration at the plant of the Standard Porcelain company, at Leetonia, which recently removed its business there from the former Brunt pottery building at East Liverpool. An additional press may be added early in 1926.

The company is also considering the plan to erect an additional kiln, as with only one kiln now in operation, delay is being encountered in obtaining finished stock.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found how to save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for results. It gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

This made a death rate for the county from tuberculosis 72.5 per 100,000 population, compared with a rate of 76.1 per 100,000 for the entire state during 1925.

Application of this ratio, according to Mr. Lafferty, to the county figure, shows that there are now in the county probably 567 active cases of tuberculosis.

Funds raised from the sale of Christmas seals have been used for years to finance the campaign against tuberculosis, Mr. Lafferty explains, and the entire sale this year will be thrown into the battle against the disease.

HEALTH BOARD HOLDS SESSION

At a meeting of the county board of health Mrs. Helen O'Brien of Lisbon, was re-elected clerk and Miss Mary Masters was re-elected county health nurse.

The 1927 budget was presented, and this revealed that no funds were appropriated for the employment of a county sanitary officer for next year. A fund of $600, however, was appropriated for the expense of this office.

A total of 16 cases of communicable diseases were reported by County Health Commissioner T. T. Church. Three of these were located at Leetonia and one each in Butler and Fairfield townships. There were two such diseases each in Salem and Liverpool township and seven in Perry township.

During November 55 health conferences were held and 32 schools were visited, where 2,199 children were enrolled. Working certificates have been issued to 13 children.

MINE PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

The coal property on the Lisbon-Leetonia road formerly owned and operated by the Miller Coal company, has been taken over by J. L. Harris and W. A. Sparrow of Kent. It is said the entire output of this operation has been absorbed by the Erie Railroad company, which is also taking the output of the mines of the Seger Fuel company, at West Point and also that of the mine of the Beaver Coal & Clay company, at Coleman.

Stripping operations are also now being actively conducted by the Central Mining company, in Elkrun township near Gilmores' Crossing. With the Central and Miller properties in operations, all of the larger mining operations in this county are now on a production basis.

Business Expanding.

Nine presses are now in opration at the plant of the Standard Porcelain company, at Leetonia, which recently removed its business there from the former Brunt pottery building at East Liverpool. An additional press may be added early in 1926.

The company is also considering the plan to erect an additional kiln as with only one kiln now in operation, delay is being encountered in obtaining finished stock.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found how to save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for results. It gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

COUNTY STOCK BREEDERS MEET

New Directors Elected at Annual Meeting Held Saturday.

Charles Lemley of East Palestine and Earl Beddell of Berlin Center, Mahoning county, were elected directors for three years by the Columbiana Live Stock Co-Operative association at the annual meeting at the office of the county farm bureau Saturday afternoon.

Other directors who have held over are: E. Y. Gamble, Butler township; W. J. Hays, Hanoverton; Fred Schoeni, Knox township, and Charles Hull, Center township. The board of directors will meet at the farm bureau office this week for the purpose of organizing and electing officers.

Lieut. C. E. Rowland, former county agent, but now county agent located at Elyria, attended this meeting, as the association was formed during Mr. Rowland's term of office in Columbiana county.

A review of marketing conditions, the kind of stock that is in demand and the method of grading live stock for market, in order that top prices can be obtained and larger returns made shippers was given by L. C. Breidenbaugh, manager of the Producers' Cooperative Commission company at Pittsburgh, Pa., to which all stock from this county is shipped.

The annual report of County Service Manager Phil E. Heim, who has charge of all co-operative live stock shipping out of Columbiana county presented the following report:

Total cars shipped, 59.
Local shipments, 8.
Individual shippers, 637.
Cattle shipped, 892; net weight, 810,502 pounds.
Calves shipped, 200; net weight, 32,004 pounds.
Hogs shipped, 708; net weight 149,969 pounds.
Sheep shipped, 370; net weight, 34,660 pounds.
Total market weight, 1,026,6$5 pounds.
Gross market value, $56,885.01.
Freight, $2,313.56.
Total terminal expense, $4,536.63.
Net to shippers, $52,656.93.
Expense per cwt., 70.2c.
Shrink: Calves, 5.5 per cent; hogs, 3.8 per cent; sheep, 8.1 per cent; cattle, not given.

This report shows there was an increase of 60 per cent in the number of pounds of live stock shipped out of the county during the last fiscal year. Receipts for the previous year which totaled $34,674.41 were increased this year to $56,885.01, or an increase of about 40 per cent.

The shipping cost was reduced from 76.6 per hundred pounds in 1925 to 70.2 cents per hundred in 1926.

Money Appropriated.

County commissioners have appropriated under the state code, $1,500 to be paid to the Ohio State university for the support of the county extension agent, as the agent is the representative of the agricultural college and closely cooperating with the farm bureau. It was recently reported that the appropriation of $1,500 made by the commissioners was to be credited to the county farm bureau.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

CLARKSON GRANGE OFFICERS NAMED

Clarkson Grange No. 1802 at its last meeting elected the following officers:

Master, Glenn Gaston; overseer, Clyde Gibson; lecturer, Mrs. Lena Williams; steward, Lawrence Huston; assistant steward, Richard Lyons; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Feezel; treasurer, C. V. Warrick; secretary, James F. Veness; gatekeeper, Ross McCoy; Cereas, Vera Huston; Pomona, Mildred Bloor; Flora, Stella McCoy; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Gladys Lyons; business agent, William Wilson; pianist, Mildred Bloor.

At this meeting the grange made partial arrangements and appointed committees for the sixth annual farmers' institute to be held Dec. 14-15. The institute this year will be under the independent classification, sponsored as usual by the grange co-operating, also the county board of education, county board of health and the county farm bureau.

During the meeting on December 8, an oyster supper will be served by the women members. This event will be in charge, however, of Past Master Denver S. Williams, assisted by Master R. V. Hedges.

The new officers will assume their various offices at the first meeting in January.

Public Water Supply Of Lisbon Village Held Unsatisfactory

The public water supply of the village of Lisbon is unsatisfactory, according to an analysis just completed under the direction of the state department of health, a report of which has been received by County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church, clerk of the Lisbon council Lloyd Binsley and to the council of the village of Lisbon.

"The report confirms the previous tests in that contamination is reaching the public water supply from some unknown source," the letter from the health department reveals. "Contamination shows up in the samples obtained from individual wells. This department in view of the unsatisfactory reports would recommend the immediate installation of chlorine equipment.

"Additional samples of the public water supply of Lisbon for the purpose of confirming results already observed, will be collected during the week of Nov. 29th."

During the last summer samples of water taken from the drinking pump in the Lisbon public square also disclosed contamination.

It is probable that council will take some action upon the report of the health department at its next meeting, December 6.

Tuberculosis Claimed 63 Lives in County During Past Year

Tuberculosis, for years one of the leading causes of death, took a toll of 63 lives in Columbiana during 1925, George L. Lafferty, of the county Christmas seal committee has been informed by the Ohio Public Health league, upon information furnished by the bureau of vital statistics of the Ohio state department of health.

This made a death rate for the county from tuberculosis 72.5 per 100,000 population, compared with a rate of 76.1 per 100,000 for the entire state during 1925.

Application of this ratio, according to Mr. Lafferty, to the county figure, shows that there are now in the county probably 567 active cases of tuberculosis.

Funds raised from the sale of Christmas seals have been used for years to finance the campaign against tuberculosis, Mr. Lafferty explains, and the entire sale this year will be thrown into the battle against the disease.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found how to save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for results. It gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

delicious fruit fritters

DEEP FRIED WITHOUT SMOKE OR ODOR

SOME time when you have company for dinner, or when you wish to give your family a delicious treat, serve one of these delightful fruit fritters as an entree.

Deep-fried in Crisco they retain all of the delicious, natural fruit flavor and are never greasy. And remember, too, that when you use Crisco in frying you are never troubled with smoke or unpleasant odors in your kitchen. Crisco does not smoke at proper frying temperature.

Lots of Other Good Things, Too

Crisco is by no means limited to frying. I find that with Crisco I can make light, tender cakes, fluffy biscuits, flaky pie crust and lots of other good things too. It is the only shortening and cooking fat I need have in the house.

KEEP LIVER AND BOWELS REGULAR WITH "CASCARETS"

No more Headache, Bad Colds, sour stomach and constipation

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most of the ills of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become cross, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, tongue coated, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle cleansing of the bowels—but don't try to force a nauseating dose of oil into the little one's already sick stomach—it is cruel, needless and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets Candy Cathartic which acts gently—never gripe or produce the slightest uneasiness—though they cleanse the little one's system, sweeten the stomach and put the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grown-ups in each package.

New Directors Elected at Annual Meeting Held Saturday.

Charles Lemley of East Palestine and Earl Beddell of Berlin Center, Mahoning county, were elected directors for three years by the Columbiana Live Stock Co-Operative association at the annual meeting at the office of the county farm bureau Saturday afternoon.

Other directors who have held over are: E. Y. Gamble, Butler township; W. J. Hays, Hanoverton; Fred Schoeni, Knox township, and Charles Hull, Center township. The board of directors will meet at the farm bureau office this week for the purpose of organizing and electing officers.

Lieut. C. E. Rowland, former county agent, but now county agent located at Elyria, attended this meeting, as the association was formed during Mr. Rowland's term of office in Columbiana county.

A review of marketing conditions, the kind of stock that is in demand and the method of grading live stock for market, in order that top prices can be obtained and larger returns made shippers was given by L. C. Breidenbaugh, manager of the Producers' Cooperative Commission company at Pittsburgh, Pa., to which all stock from this county is shipped.

The annual report of County Service Manager Phil E. Heim, who has charge of all co-operative live stock shipping out of Columbiana county presented the following report:

Total cars shipped, 59.
Local shipments, 8.
Individual shippers, 637.
Cattle shipped, 892; net weight, 810,502 pounds.
Calves shipped, 200; net weight, 32,004 pounds.
Hogs shipped, 708; net weight 149,969 pounds.
Sheep shipped, 370; net weight, 34,660 pounds.
Total market weight, 1,026,685 pounds.
Gross market value, $56,885.01.
Freight, $2,313.56.
Total terminal expense, $4,536.63.
Net to shippers, $52,656.93.
Expense per cwt., 70.2c.
Shrink: Calves, 5.5 per cent; hogs, 3.8 per cent; sheep, 8.1 per cent; cattle, not given.

This report shows there was an increase of 60 per cent in the number of pounds of live stock shipped out of the county during the last fiscal year. Receipts for the previous year which totaled $34,674.41 were increased this year to $56,885.01, or an increase of about 40 per cent.

The shipping cost was reduced from 76.6 per hundred pounds in 1925 to 70.2 cents per hundred in 1926.

Money Appropriated.

County commissioners have appropriated under the state code, $1,500 to be paid to the Ohio State university for the support of the county extension agent, as the agent is the representative of the agricultural college and closely cooperating with the farm bureau. It was recently reported that the appropriation of $1,500 made by the commissioners was to be credited to the county farm bureau.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

CLARKSON GRANGE OFFICERS NAMED

Clarkson Grange No. 1802 at its last meeting elected the following officers:

Master, Glenn Gaston; overseer, Clyde Gibson; lecturer, Mrs. Lena Williams; steward, Lawrence Huston; assistant steward, Richard Lyons; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Feezel; treasurer, C. V. Warrick; secretary, James F. Veness; gatekeeper, Ross McCoy; Cereas, Vera Huston; Pomona, Mildred Bloor; Flora, Stella McCoy; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Gladys Lyons; business agent, William Wilson; pianist, Mildred Bloor.

At this meeting the grange made partial arrangements and appointed committees for the sixth annual farmers' institute to be held Dec. 14-15. The institute this year will be under the independent classification, sponsored as usual by the grange co-operating, also the county board of education, county board of health and the county farm bureau.

During the meeting on December 8, an oyster supper will be served by the women members. This event will be in charge, however, of Past Master Denver S. Williams, assisted by Master R. V. Hedges.

The new officers will assume their various offices at the first meeting in January.

Public Water Supply Of Lisbon Village Held Unsatisfactory

The public water supply of the village of Lisbon is unsatisfactory, according to an analysis just completed under the direction of the state department of health, a report of which has been received by County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church, clerk of the Lisbon council Lloyd Binsley and to the council of the village of Lisbon.

"The report confirms the previous tests in that contamination is reaching the public water supply from some unknown source," the letter from the health department reveals. "Contamination shows up in the samples obtained from individual wells. This department in view of the unsatisfactory reports would recommend the immediate installation of chlorine equipment.

"Additional samples of the public water supply of Lisbon for the purpose of confirming results already observed, will be collected during the week of Nov. 29th."

During the last summer samples of water taken from the drinking pump in the Lisbon public square also disclosed contamination.

It is probable that council will take some action upon the report of the health department at its next meeting, December 6.

Tuberculosis Claimed 63 Lives in County During Past Year

Tuberculosis, for years one of the leading causes of death, took a toll of 63 lives in Columbiana during 1925, George L. Lafferty, of the county Christmas seal committee has been informed by the Ohio Public Health league, upon information furnished by the bureau of vital statistics of the Ohio state department of health.

This made a death rate for the county from tuberculosis 72.5 per 100,000 population, compared with a rate of 76.1 per 100,000 for the entire state during 1925.

Application of this ratio, according to Mr. Lafferty, to the county figure, shows that there are now in the county probably 567 active cases of tuberculosis.

Funds raised from the sale of Christmas seals have been used for years to finance the campaign against tuberculosis, Mr. Lafferty explains, and the entire sale this year will be thrown into the battle against the disease.

HEALTH BOARD HOLDS SESSION

At a meeting of the county board of health Mrs. Helen O'Brien of Lisbon, was re-elected clerk and Miss Mary Masters was re-elected county health nurse.

The 1927 budget was presented, and this revealed that no funds were appropriated for the employment of a county sanitary officer for next year. A fund of $600, however, was appropriated for the expense of this office.

A total of 16 cases of communicable diseases were reported by County Health Commissioner T. T. Church. Three of these were located at Leetonia and one each in Butler and Fairfield townships. There were two such diseases each in Salem and Liverpool township and seven in Perry township.

During November 55 health conferences were held and 32 schools were visited, where 2,199 children were enrolled. Working certificates have been issued to 13 children.

MINE PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

The coal property on the Lisbon-Leetonia road formerly owned and operated by the Miller Coal company, has been taken over by J. L. Harris and W. A. Sparrow of Kent. It is said the entire output of this operation has been absorbed by the Erie Railroad company, which is also taking the output of the mines of the Seger Fuel company, at West Point and also that of the mine of the Beaver Coal & Clay company, at Coleman.

Stripping operations are also now being actively conducted by the Central Mining company, in Elkrun township near Gilmores' Crossing. With the Central and Miller properties in operations, all of the larger mining operations in this county are now on a production basis.

Business Expanding.

Nine presses are now in opration at the plant of the Standard Porcelain company, at Leetonia, which recently removed its business there from the former Brunt pottery building at East Liverpool. An additional press may be added early in 1926.

The company is also considering the plan to erect an additional kiln, as with only one kiln now in operation, delay is being encountered in obtaining finished stock.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found how to save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for results. It gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

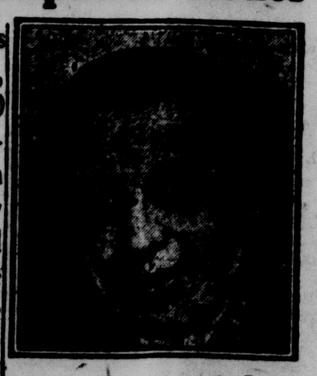

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

delicious fruit fritters

DEEP FRIED WITHOUT SMOKE OR ODOR

SOME time when you have company for dinner, or when you wish to give your family a delicious treat, serve one of these delightful fruit fritters as an entree.

Deep-fried in Crisco they retain all of the delicious, natural fruit flavor and are never greasy. And remember, too, that when you use Crisco in frying you are never troubled with smoke or unpleasant odors in your kitchen. Crisco does not smoke at proper frying temperature.

Lots of Other Good Things, Too

Crisco is by no means limited to frying. I find that with Crisco I can make light, tender cakes, fluffy biscuits, flaky pie crust and lots of other good things too. It is the only shortening and cooking fat I need have in the house.

COUNTY STOCK BREEDERS MEET

New Directors Elected at Annual Meeting Held Saturday.

Charles Lemley of East Palestine and Earl Beddell of Berlin Center, Mahoning county, were elected directors for three years by the Columbiana Live Stock Co-Operative association at the annual meeting at the office of the county farm bureau Saturday afternoon.

Other directors who have held over are: E. Y. Gamble, Butler township; W. J. Hays, Hanoverton; Fred Schoeni, Knox township, and Charles Hull, Center township. The board of directors will meet at the farm bureau office this week for the purpose of organizing and electing officers.

Lieut. C. E. Rowland, former county agent, but now county agent located at Elyria, attended this meeting, as the association was formed during Mr. Rowland's term of office in Columbiana county.

A review of marketing conditions, the kind of stock that is in demand and the method of grading live stock for market, in order that top prices can be obtained and larger returns made shippers was given by L. C. Breidenbaugh, manager of the Producers' Cooperative Commission company at Pittsburgh, Pa., to which all stock from this county is shipped.

The annual report of County Service Manager Phil E. Heim, who has charge of all co-operative live stock shipping out of Columbiana county presented the following report:

Total cars shipped, 59.
Local shipments, 8.
Individual shippers, 637.
Cattle shipped, 892; net weight, 810,502 pounds.
Calves shipped, 200; net weight, 32,004 pounds.
Hogs shipped, 708; net weight 149,969 pounds.
Sheep shipped, 370; net weight, 34,660 pounds.
Total market weight, 1,026,685 pounds.
Gross market value, $56,885.01.
Freight, $2,313.56.
Total terminal expense, $4,536.63.
Net to shippers, $52,656.93.
Expense per cwt., 70.2c.
Shrink: Calves, 5.5 per cent; hogs, 3.8 per cent; sheep, 8.1 per cent; cattle, not given.

This report shows there was an increase of 60 per cent in the number of pounds of live stock shipped out of the county during the last fiscal year. Receipts for the previous year which totaled $34,674.41 were increased this year to $56,885.01, or an increase of about 40 per cent.

The shipping cost was reduced from 76.6 per hundred pounds in 1925 to 70.2 cents per hundred in 1926.

Money Appropriated.

County commissioners have appropriated under the state code, $1,500 to be paid to the Ohio State university for the support of the county extension agent, as the agent is the representative of the agricultural college and closely cooperating with the farm bureau. It was recently reported that the appropriation of $1,500 made by the commissioners was to be credited to the county farm bureau.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

CLARKSON GRANGE OFFICERS NAMED

Clarkson Grange No. 1802 at its last meeting elected the following officers:

Master, Glenn Gaston; overseer, Clyde Gibson; lecturer, Mrs. Lena Williams; steward, Lawrence Huston; assistant steward, Richard Lyons; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Feezel; treasurer, C. V. Warric'.; secretary, James F. Veness; gatekeeper, Ross McCoy; Cereas, Vera Huston; Pomona, Mildred Bloor; Flora, Stella McCoy; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Gladys Lyons; business agent, William Wilson; pianist, Mildred Bloor.

At this meeting the grange made partial arrangements and appointed committees for the sixth annual farmers' institute to be held Dec. 14-15. The institute this year will be under the independent classification, sponsored as usual by the grange co-operating, also the county board of education, county board of health and the county farm bureau.

During the meeting on December 8, an oyster supper will be served by the women members. This event will be in charge, however, of Past Master Denver S. Williams, assisted by Master R. V. Hedges.

The new officers will assume their various offices at the first meeting in January.

Public Water Supply Of Lisbon Village Held Unsatisfactory

The public water supply of the village of Lisbon is unsatisfactory, according to an analysis just completed under the direction of the state department of health, a report of which has been received by County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church, clerk of the Lisbon council Lloyd Binsley and to the council of the village of Lisbon.

"The report confirms the previous tests in that contamination is reaching the public water supply from some unknown source;" the letter from the health department reveals. "Contamination shows up in the samples obtained from individual wells. This department in view of the unsatisfactory reports would recommend the immediate installation of chlorine equipment.

"Additional samples of the public water supply of Lisbon for the purpose of confirming results already observed, will be collected during the week of Nov. 29th."

During the last summer samples of water taken from the drinking pump in the Lisbon public square also disclosed contamination.

It is probable that council will take some action upon the report of the health department at its next meeting, December 6.

Tuberculosis Claimed 63 Lives in County During Past Year

Tuberculosis, for years one of the leading causes of death, took a toll of 63 lives in Columbiana during 1925, George L. Lafferty, of the county Christmas seal committee has been informed by the Ohio Public Health league, upon information furnished by the bureau of vital statistics of the Ohio state department of health.

This made a death rate for the county from tuberculosis 72.5 per 100,000 population, compared with a rate of 76.1 per 100,000 for the entire state during 1925.

Application of this ratio, according to Mr. Lafferty, to the county figure, shows that there are now in the county probably 567 active cases of tuberculosis.

Funds raised from the sale of Christmas seals have been used for years to finance the campaign against tuberculosis, Mr. Lafferty explains, and the entire sale this year will be thrown into the battle against the disease.

HEALTH BOARD HOLDS SESSION

At a meeting of the county board of health Mrs. Helen O'Brien of Lisbon, was re-elected clerk and Miss Mary Masters was re-elected county health nurse.

The 1927 budget was presented, and this revealed that no funds were appropriated for the employment of a county sanitary officer for next year. A fund of $600, however, was appropriated for the expense of this office.

A total of 16 cases of communicable diseases were reported by County Health Commissioner T. T. Church. Three of these were located at Leetonia and one each in Butler and Fairfield townships. There were two such diseases each in Salem and Liverpool township and seven in Perry township.

During November 55 health conferences were held and 32 schools were visited, where 2,199 children were enrolled. Working certificates have been issued to 13 children.

MINE PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

The coal property on the Lisbon-Leetonia road formerly owned and operated by the Miller Coal company, has been taken over by J. L. Harris and W. A. Sparrow of Kent. It is said the entire output of this operation has been absorbed by the Erie Railroad company, which is also taking the output of the mines of the Seger Fuel company, at West Point and also that of the mine of the Beaver Coal & Clay company, at Coleman.

Stripping operations are also now being actively conducted by the Central Mining company, in Elkrun township near Gilmores' Crossing. With the Central and Miller properties in operations, all of the larger mining operations in this county are now on a production basis.

Business Expanding.

Nine presses are now in opration at the plant of the Standard Porcelain company, at Leetonia, which recently removed its business there from the former Brunt pottery building at East Liverpool. An additional press may be added early in 1926.

The company is also considering the plan to erect an additional kiln, as with only one kiln now in operation, delay is being encountered in obtaining finished stock.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found how to save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for results. It gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

delicious fruit fritters

DEEP FRIED WITHOUT SMOKE OR ODOR

SOME time when you have company for dinner, or when you wish to give your family a delicious treat, serve one of these delightful fruit fritters as an entree.

Deep-fried in Crisco they retain all of the delicious, natural fruit flavor and are never greasy. And remember, too, that when you use Crisco in frying you are never troubled with smoke or unpleasant odors in your kitchen. Crisco does not smoke at proper frying temperature.

Lots of Other Good Things, Too

Crisco is by no means limited to frying. I find that with Crisco I can make light, tender cakes, fluffy biscuits, flaky pie crust and lots of other good things too. It is the only shortening and cooking fat I need have in the house.

Apple Fritters

1 cup flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
1 egg
5 or 6 tart apples

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Add milk and well beaten egg. Mix well. Pare and core apples. Cut in sections. Dip each piece of apple in the batter and fry in deep hot Crisco (340 to 375 degrees F.) until brown. Drain on unglazed paper and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Banana Fritters

Peel bananas. Cut through lengthwise and again in pieces 1½ to 2 inches long. Follow recipe for Apple Fritters.

Pineapple Fritters

Cut pineapple in suitable sized pieces. Follow recipe for Apple Fritters.

Peach or Apricot Fritters

New Directors Elected at Annual Meeting Held Saturday.

Charles Lemley of East Palestine and Earl Beddell of Berlin Center, Mahoning county, were elected directors for three years by the Columbiana Live Stock Co-Operative association at the annual meeting at the office of the county farm bureau Saturday afternoon.

Other directors who have held over are: E. Y. Gamble, Butler township; W. J. Hays, Hanoverton; Fred Schoeni, Knox township, and Charles Hull, Center township. The board of directors will meet at the farm bureau office this week for the purpose of organizing and electing officers.

Lieut. C. E. Rowland, former county agent, but now county agent located at Elyria, attended this meeting, as the association was formed during Mr. Rowland's term of office in Columbiana county.

A review of marketing conditions, the kind of stock that is in demand and the method of grading live stock for market, in order that top prices can be obtained and larger returns made shippers was given by L. C. Breidenbaugh, manager of the Producers' Cooperative Commission company at Pittsburgh, Pa., to which all stock from this county is shipped.

The annual report of County Service Manager Phil E. Heim, who has charge of all co-operative live stock shipping out of Columbiana county presented the following report:

Total cars shipped, 59.
Local shipments, 8.
Individual shippers, 637.
Cattle shipped, 892; net weight, 810,502 pounds.
Calves shipped, 200; net weight, 32,004 pounds.
Hogs shipped, 708; net weight 149,969 pounds.
Sheep shipped, 370; net weight, 34,660 pounds.
Total market weight, 1,026,685 pounds.
Gross market value, $56,885.01.
Freight, $2,313.56.
Total terminal expense, $4,536.63.
Net to shippers, $52,656.93.
Expense per cwt., 70.2c.
Shrink: Calves, 5.5 per cent; hogs, 3.8 per cent; sheep, 8.1 per cent; cattle, not given.

This report shows there was an increase of 60 per cent in the number of pounds of live stock shipped out of the county during the last fiscal year. Receipts for the previous year which totaled $34,674.41 were increased this year to $56,885.01, or an increase of about 40 per cent.

The shipping cost was reduced from 76.6 per hundred pounds in 1925 to 70.2 cents per hundred in 1926.

Money Appropriated.

County commissioners have appropriated under the state code, $1,500 to be paid to the Ohio State university for the support of the county extension agent, as the agent is the representative of the agricultural college and closely cooperating with the farm bureau. It was recently reported that the appropriation of $1,500 made by the commissioners was to be credited to the county farm bureau.

Skin troubles are unsightly!

Only those who have undergone them can realize the mental and physical discomforts which many skin affections cause. A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

CLARKSON GRANGE OFFICERS NAMED

Clarkson Grange No. 1802 at its last meeting elected the following officers:

Master, Glenn Gaston; overseer, Clyde Gibson; lecturer, Mrs. Lena Williams; steward, Lawrence Huston; assistant steward, Richard Lyons; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Feezel; treasurer, C. V. Warrick; secretary, James F. Veness; gatekeeper, Ross McCoy; Cereas, Vera Huston; Pomona, Mildred Bloor; Flora, Stella McCoy; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Gladys Lyons; business agent, William Wilson; pianist, Mildred Bloor.

At this meeting the grange made partial arrangements and appointed committees for the sixth annual farmers' institute to be held Dec. 14-15. The institute this year will be under the independent classification, sponsored as usual by the grange co-operating, also the county board of education, county board of health and the county farm bureau.

During the meeting on December 8, an oyster supper will be served by the women members. This event will be in charge, however, of Past Master Denver S. Williams, assisted by Master R. V. Hedges.

The new officers will assume their various offices at the first meeting in January.

Public Water Supply Of Lisbon Village Held Unsatisfactory

The public water supply of the village of Lisbon is unsatisfactory, according to an analysis just completed under the direction of the state department of health, a report of which has been received by County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church, clerk of the Lisbon council Lloyd Binsley and to the council of the village of Lisbon.

"The report confirms the previous tests in that contamination is reaching the public water supply from some unknown source," the letter from the health department reveals. "Contamination shows up in the samples obtained from individual wells. This department in view of the unsatisfactory reports would recommend the immediate installation of chlorine equipment.

"Additional samples of the public water supply of Lisbon for the purpose of confirming results already observed, will be collected during the week of Nov. 29th."

During the last summer samples of water taken from the drinking pump in the Lisbon public square also disclosed contamination.

It is probable that council will take some action upon the report of the health department at its next meeting, December 6.

Tuberculosis Claimed 63 Lives in County During Past Year

Tuberculosis, for years one of the leading causes of death, took a toll of 63 lives in Columbiana during 1925, George L. Lafferty, of the county Christmas seal committee has been informed by the Ohio Public Health league, upon information furnished by the bureau of vital statistics of the Ohio state department of health.

This made a death rate for the county from tuberculosis 72.5 per 100,000 population, compared with a rate of 76.1 per 100,000 for the entire state during 1925.

Application of this ratio, according to Mr. Lafferty, to the county figure, shows that there are now in the county probably 567 active cases of tuberculosis.

Funds raised from the sale of Christmas seals have been used for years to finance the campaign against tuberculosis, Mr. Lafferty explains, and the entire sale this year will be thrown into the battle against the disease.

HEALTH BOARD HOLDS SESSION

At a meeting of the county board of health Mrs. Helen O'Brien of Lisbon, was re-elected clerk and Miss Mary Masters was re-elected county health nurse.

The 1927 budget was presented, and this revealed that no funds were appropriated for the employment of a county sanitary officer for next year. A fund of $600, however, was appropriated for the expense of this office.

A total of 16 cases of communicable diseases were reported by County Health Commissioner T. T. Church. Three of these were located at Leetonia and one each in Butler and Fairfield townships. There were two such diseases each in Salem and Liverpool township and seven in Perry township.

During November 55 health conferences were held and 32 schools were visited, where 2,199 children were enrolled. Working certificates have been issued to 13 children.

MINE PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

The coal property on the Lisbon-Leetonia road formerly owned and operated by the Miller Coal company, has been taken over by J. L. Harris and W. A. Sparrow of Kent. It is said the entire output of this operation has been absorbed by the Erie Railroad company, which is also taking the output of the mines of the Seger Fuel company, at West Point and also that of the mine of the Beaver Coal & Clay company, at Coleman.

Stripping operations are also now being actively conducted by the Central Mining company, in Elkrun township near Gilmores' Crossing. With the Central and Miller properties in operations, all of the larger mining operations in this county are now on a production basis.

Business Expanding.

Nine presses are now in opration at the plant of the Standard Porcelain company, at Leetonia, which recently removed its business there from the former Brunt pottery building at East Liverpool. An additional press may be added early in 1926.

The company is also considering the plan to erect an additional kiln, as with only one kiln now in operation, delay is being encountered in obtaining finished stock.

Stanford And Alabama Will Battle For National Football Title

Notre Dame, Brown, Navy Out of Picture; Lafayette Has Claim

Saddened Tournament of Roses Committee at Pasadena, Cal., Probably Will Break Down and Laugh as Only Two of Three Unbeaten Teams are Lined Up for New Year's Day Game.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Destiny pulled its invisible strings between the rise of one sun on Thursday and the setting or another on Saturday and the football teams of Notre Dame, Brown and the Navy, puppets all, danced obediently into the wings and the shadows beyond where fame is not. Headliners almost to the last, their act proved something of a "flop" at the grand finale.

In consequence, a saddened tournament of roses committee at Pasadena, Cal., probably will break right down and laugh.

There were three unbeaten college football teams of the first rank surviving the regular season's end today and, through some regretable oversight, the committee has lined up only two of them, Stanford and Alabama, for the New Year's day game on the Coast. That game, therefore, will have a far greater bearing on the national situation in football than ever before. In fact, it will establish the winner as more deserving of national recognition than any other contender.

It so happens that there is only one, Lafayette, which finished its season undefeated more than a week ago, at least, has a shouting concession in all arguments.

Chance for Rebuttal.

However, the team that wins at Pasadena can whisper its rebuttal and all will hear with great ease and facility, for it will be the undisputed champion of two great sections, the South and far West, while Lafayette, at best, can claim nothing beyond the purpling shadows of the Alleghenies.

As for the Middle West, Notre Dame's disturbing defeat by Carnegie Tech on Saturday left that section without an accredited national conference contender for the first time in some years. Michigan probably is as good as the next and better than most but the Wolverine merely is co-champion of the Big Ten and, besides, it lost to the Navy.

The latter's 21 to 21 tie with the army on Saturday must be regarded as an act of self-elimination and the same thing applies to Brown's 10 to 10 tie with Colgate.

The fallacy of comparative scores and records of teams that meet no common opponent is well and favorably known among our most intelligent foul balls. Yet how may one rate football teams, except by victories, defeats and ties? The writer cannot rouse himself to three ringing cheers for the Navy's claims when that team plays a tie with the Army, which lost to Notre Dame, which lost to Carnegie Tech, which, in turn, lost to Missouri, which lost to Oklahoma, which lost to Kansas, which lost to nearly everybody and so on, ad infinitum.

Miss-and-Out Affair.

In the same way, Brown's tie with Colgate on Thanksgiving day clearly leaves New England without a contender, Colgate having lost to the Navy. At this point, you repeat the foregoing paragraph until exhausted.

As for Boston college, if its tie with Haskell Indians didn't weaken its claims, the scoreless affair with Holy Cross most certainly did, for Holy Cross was beaten by Boston University, which previously had lost to all manner of sap teams.

No, this national sweepstakes clearly is a miss-and-out affair. Stanford, Alabama and Lafayette didn't miss, so they still are in. If it wasn't otherwise, Bill Tilden probably would hold the heavyweight championship of the world because a punch on the chin wouldn't count.

Notre Dame's defeat was a shock to many but there was nothing illegitimate about it, barring the fact that Rockne was elsewhere. If Rockne had been there, he probably would have tongue-lashed the Irish into making a better showing.

Rockne's Regulars Fail.

As it was, Notre Dame couldn't have won, anyhow, judging by the run of the play. The second team started the game and nothing hapened for a period and a fraction of the next. Then the first team went to bat and Tech ran wild to score its first touchdown. The second followed almost immediately on a blocked punt, after which the Irish were held for downs beyond midfield. Later, after Harpster had kicked two field goals, Notre Dame got a first down inside the 1-yard line and failed to gain the distance in four tries. That incident absolutely closed the case against the Irish.

The Army and Navy merely were two football teams without visible defense or sound judgment. West Point started its second team and I presume that if the Yankees qualify for the world series they won't put Ruth in until well on in the fifth inning. Anyhow, a sub quarterback allowed an eligible receiver to get between himself and the goal to take a pass leading up to the first Navy touchdown. The second was earned against a second team line. Then the Army first stringers came on and ran wild. But I will always feel that the running would have been wilder and the Army score larger if it had spread the Navy defense with a few passes. However—post mortems.

Wilson, Lafayette, High Individual Football Scorer

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Establishing a new record, Mike Wilson, of Lafayette, stood today as the high individual scorer of Eastern college football for the season of 1926. He has tallied 20 touchdown, giving him a total of 120 points. His nearest rival, Williams of Connecticut Aggies, has a total of 90, one point beyond Harry Wilson, of the Army, who finished third. Lane, of Dartmouth, and Weston, of Boston college, were fourth and fifth with 75 and 72 points respectively.

CRACK HOCKEY TEAM DEFEATED

Duluth's Hornets Drill Stingers Into Chicago Cards.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29. — Chicago's Cardinals, American association hockey team, today were smarting under their first defeat of the season. Duluth's Hornets drilled their stingers into the local huskies at the Coliseum last night, 3 to 1.

The struggle was much closer than the score indicates. The teams battled on even terms most of the way, it being one of the hardest fought games ever seen on local ice. A concerted attack in the second period, coupled with lucky breaks, gave Duluth the margin of victory.

The Cards were the first to score, Brydson taking a perfect pass from Reid and slipping the puck past Goal Tender Turner. Ted Dunfield scored two of Duluth's three goals, one in the second period and one in the third. Johnny Loucks scored the third shot toward the close of the third period.

MICKEY WALKER AWAITS CLASH WITH FLOWERS

Sport World Eyes on Middleweight Title Battle.

10-ROUND CLASH

Chicago Will be Scene of Bout Friday Night.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—With the Army-Navy football game out of the way, sporting interest today centered on the impending world's championship fight between Tiger Flowers, middleweight title holder, and Mickey Walker, former welterweight champion, who now believes he is capable of annexing the middleweight crown.

Flowers and Walker will clash in a 10-round decision bout at the Coliseum here Friday night. They entered the home stretch of their training preparations today in practically top form.

Each fighter, with an eye on the impending fray, has been actively engaged in ring work lately. On the same night recently, Walker was beating Jock Malone at Boston, while Flowers was lacing Sailor Eddie Huffman of the Pacific coast, in a local ring. These victories have perked interest in Friday night's affair.

Both champion and challenger have a host of friends who can specify a half dozen reasons why their respective candidate will win. Betting, however, is a shade partial to the challenger.

The present-day Walker—not the Walker who lost the welter crown to Pete Latzo—is viewed as the most formidable challenger match with Tiger since the Georgia deacon won his title. Mickey, who hits hard with either hand, is expected to tear into the champion at the first trace of the bell and keep it up until he has Tiger stretched limp or thoroughly outpointed.

Flowers, according to his followers, may not punch as hard as Walker, but is fast enough and clever enough to stave off Mickey's assault while the champ piles up sufficient points to retain his title.

COLUMBIANA 11 DROPS LAST GAME

Out-weighed, out-played but not outgamed the plucky little team of Columbiana high school bowed in defeat to East Palestine high, the score being 19-0. In spite of the comparative scores, the game was a much better one than that of the previous week with Lisbon high. Coach Miller had worked wonders with his boys in a few intervening days, and they did everything well that they had done poorly the week before. They charged and tackled low and stopped everything that East Palestine had—except Dolan, and that was the margin of victory for Dolan was a team in himself, and assisted a few times by Captain Harvey, made practically all of the gains. When he did not run with it himself, he threw forward passes to others, and he could throw as well as he could make end runs or off-tackle dashes. He never failed of at least a few yards. But let us not forget the Columbiana hero, and there was one. He was "Danny" Detwiler, the smallest player on either team, but the life of the red and white. In every play, he seemed to be the only one who could find holes in the heavy East Palestine line. He was fine on defense, too. Dowd, playing in the backfield in the place of Fellers, who was injured in the Lisbon game, did the kicking and forward-passing and occasionally carried the ball. With the exception of his first three kicks, he did well. In spite of the bad punting in the first quarter, East Palestine was held scoreless, but pushed over two touchdowns in the second, largely as the result of two long forward passes and resulting long runs. Captain Harvey kicked one of the goals. In the third quarter Columbiana played its best football, but in the last quarter, East Palestine made another touchdown, due to Dolan's wonderful individual work. Columbiana only seriously threatened the East Palestine goal once, late in the second quarter, but the time was up before they could make a final necessary play.

There is one important phase of the back swing, with any golf club, that the golfer should acquire, and he can do it either on the course or at home, out in the garage or up in the attic. It is this: When you start the clubhead away from the ball, start it with the hands—then keep on going with the hands and arms. Many players start the club with the hands, but they have an unconscious habit of dropping the hand control of the club about half way back with it, and taking it on from that point by means of a body push or twist. You do not push the club back and up with your body. It is accomplished entirely with the hands, wrists and arms—and with very little wrist action, just enough to let the club naturally turn.

Gene Tunney Busy As He Listens to Bids for Services

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Gene Tunney will be a busy man today. Willing to listen to any and all bids for his services as heavyweight champion, the ex-marine was scheduled to hold successive conferences with Tex Rickard and Humbert J. Fugazy, rival promoters, and a third with his manager, Billy Gibson.

Gibson's meeting with Tunney was inspired by the manager's desire to learn his status, there having been reports that the pair has reached the parting of the ways. Tunney, however, has denied this through his traveling representative, Ray Campbell.

WINTER SPORT AT PINEHURST TO BE VARIED

Season Starts Off With Mid-South Tournament.

LINKS PROGRAM

Only One Tennis Competition is on Calendar.

PINEHURST, N. C.—Pinehurst's winter sport program lists the most varied outdoor schedule ever undertaken at this resort.

The season started off with the seventh annual Mid-South Amateur-Professional Golf tournament and the eleventh annual Carolina tournament in November.

Theree golf tournaments are scheduled for December. The sixth annual Carolina Women's tournament will be played December 7-10, and on December 24 the fifth annual Father and Son tournament. The 24th annual mid-January tournament, January 10, 14, and the 23rd annual mid-February tournament, January 31-Feb. 5.

Three golf tournaments are scheduled during the winter and spring months, winding up April 19-22 with the seventeenth annual mid-April tournament.

Only one tennis tournament will be staged during the season. This, the ninth annual United North and South Championship, will be played April 11-16.

Three trap and rifle events are on the schedule. The 20th annual mid-Winter handicap is set for January 24-29. This will be followed April 18-20 by the ninth annual United North Carolina Amateur handicap tournament. The North Carolina State handicap tournament is scheduled for April 21-23.

The fifth annual fall polo tournament will be played November 29-December 4. From April 6 to 12 comes the annual Spring Round Robin tournament.

The first annual North-South archery championship tournament is set for April 11-15. The tenth annual horse show will be held April 4-5, and the tenth annual field trials January 31-February 5.

Liberty Billiard Eleven Winner in Game at Lisbon

The Liberty Billiard football team defeated the Lisbon semi-pro eleven 15 to 0, on the Lisbon grounds Sunday afternoon.

Mike Lee of the Libertys ran 95 yards for a touchdown while Mundy carried the ball 70 yards for another six points after an intercepted pass.

The Liberty eleven will close the season at Canton next Sunday when they meet the Canton Bluestones.

ALL-AMERICAN GRID CANDIDATES

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

This is a year of good ends but "Chuck" Kassel, wingman with the University of Illinois, need not take a rear seat for any of them, in my opinion.

Illinois' defensive play, which enabled that eleven to hold Pennsylvania and Chicago scoreless and Iowa to a single touchdown, has been featured all season by Kassel's work. He is a big fellow but fleetfooted, a clever man at opening up opponents' plays, and at turning in a play for the rest of his line to handle.

ROBERT B. MACPHAIL

C. E. KASSEL

As a running mate to Lane, Captain Bob McPhail of Dartmouth has performed brilliantly in every department of the game.

That he is a versatile back is attested by the fact that he draws All American consideration in his junior year as a halfback after having played quarter in his sophomore year and fullback in his freshman year on a team that was undefeated all season.

That he is a heady player is indicated by the fact that he was named acting captain this year when Horton was injured and recently was elected captain for next year—his last with the big Green team.

TENNIS STARS IN MATCH HIKE

Misses Sears and Ryan in Gruelling Walk.

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Two of the foremost women athletes of America, Miss Eleanora Sears and Miss Elizabeth Ryan, international tennis star, were walking neck and neck this forenoon in a gruelling hike from Providence to Boston.

At Norwood, 13 miles from the finish, the pair were far ahead of Miss Sears' previous time for the city-to-city walk, made last year in 10 hours and 27 minutes. Going through Norwood, Miss Ryan was setting the pace.

A real wager is said to hang on the hike, resulting from the defeat the Back Bay woman suffered on the tennis court at the hands of Miss Ryan.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

WE'RE going to weaken just once this season to delve into comparative scores to prove something that doesn't mean a thing.

We're doing it just because—well for the same reason that you eat peanuts at a ball game and suffer afterwards.

Lafayette defeated Muhlenberg 35 to 0, Muhlenberg defeated Lehigh 30 to 0, Lehigh defeated Princeton 7 to 6, Princeton defeated Harvard 12 to 0, Harvard shaded Dartmouth 16 to 12 while Dartmouth held Brown to a 10 to 0 score.

Which should give Lafayette something or other in the line of a title. But we can't figure any one out.

Speaking of freak football topics, Will Wedge, in the New York Sun, steps up with his "All" team but he doesn't confine his selection to an "All-American" affair. He makes it an international one.

After selecting the following team because of the nationalities of the players he coyly suggests that Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach, be named mentor of the team so that "the trick plays of this mythical bunch can be copyrighted in all countries, including the Scandinavian."

Here's his team:

Lindenmeyer, German, University of Missouri.

Kevorkian, Armenian, Brown.

Alohahoi, Hawaiian, University of Dayton.

Hageage, Syrian, Georgetown.

Lorio, French, Tulane.

Chief Field, Pawnee Indian, Denison University.

Matsu, Japanese, William and Mary.

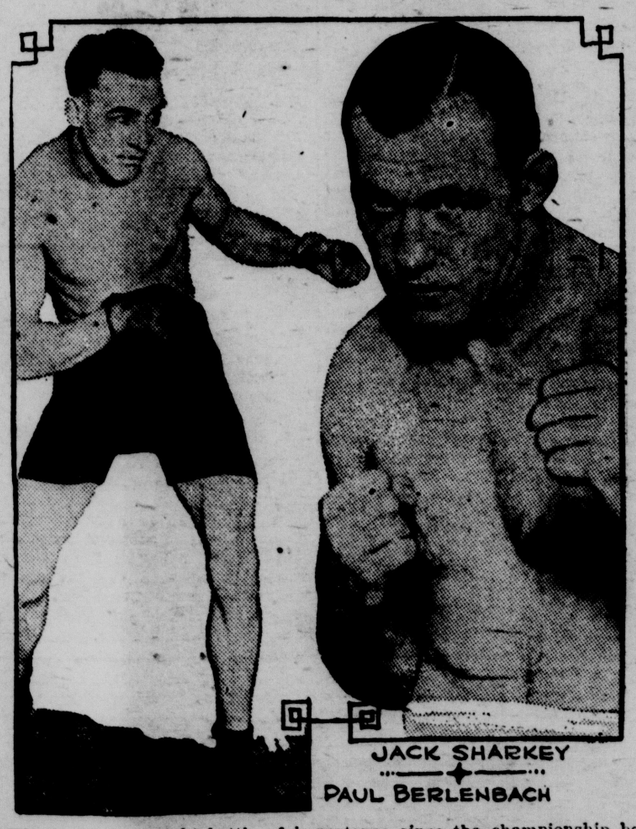

Guarnaccia, Italian, Harvard.

Wascolonis, Lithuanian, Pennsylvania.

Kirkleski, Pole, Lafayette.

Gustafson, Swede, Minnesota.

First Move to Pick Tunney Foe Seen in Berlenbach-Sharkey Go

JACK SHARKEY

PAUL BERLENBACH

THE first heavyweight battle of importance since the championship bout between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney probably will be one between Paul Berlenbach, recent graduate into the "legitimate" heavyweight class, and Jack Sharkey, the man who burst the myth surrounding Harry Wills.

I understand that the men are as good as matched to meet in New York early in January as the first of a series of indoor shows to be run with a view toward choosing a late summer foe for Tunney.

Berlenbach has spent the last few months building up his weight to that of the average heavy. This after proving conclusively in the light heavy ranks that he is a terrific puncher, a fair boxer, and the "go-getter" type the fans like.

Eastern critics dubbed Paul the "Astoria Assassin" when the lad from Astoria began knocking hopefuls loose from their hopes. In 1926, after knocking out Mike McTigue to win the light heavyweight crown, Paul flattened Jimmy Slattery, pride of Buffalo and called a "second Corbett," and then proceeded to win over Jack Delaney. He later, however, lost the crown to Jack.

Sharkey had drawn some attention before the Wills bout. Regardless of the class he showed in that bout, the victory over the talkative negro gave Jack enough prominence to make him a big drawing card—until he gets socked.

If the battle comes off it will be a slugging match—and ought to be a beautiful one. Those in the front rows may spend much of their time pushing one or the other back into the ring.

Stanford And Alabama Will Battle For National Football Title

Notre Dame, Brown, Navy Out of Picture; Lafayette Has Claim

Saddened Tournament of Roses Committee at Pasadena, Cal., Probably Will Break Down and Laugh as Only Two of Three Unbeaten Teams are Lined Up for New Year's Day Game.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Destiny pulled its invisible strings between the rise of one sun on Thursday and the setting or another on Saturday and the football teams of Notre Dame, Brown and the Navy, puppets all, danced obediently into the wings and the shadows beyond where fame is not. Headliners almost to the last, their act proved something of a "flop" at the grand finale.

In consequence, a saddened tournament of roses committee at Pasadena, Cal., probably will break right down and laugh.

There were three unbeaten college football teams of the first rank surviving the regular season's end today and, through some regretable oversight, the committee has lined up only two of them, Stanford and Alabama, for the New Year's day game on the Coast. That game, therefore, will have a far greater bearing on the national situation in football than ever before. In fact, it will establish the winner as more deserving of national recognition than any other contender.

It so happens that there is only one, Lafayette, which finished its season undefeated more than a week ago, at least, has a shouting concession in all arguments.

Liberty Billiard Eleven Winner in Game at Lisbon

The Liberty Billiard football team defeated the Lisbon semi-pro eleven 15 to 0, on the Lisbon grounds Sunday afternoon.

Mike Lee of the Libertys ran 95 yards for a touchdown while Mundy carried the ball 70 yards for another six points after an intercepted pass.

The Liberty eleven will close the season at Canton next Sunday when they meet the Canton Bluestones.

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

This is a year of good ends but "Chuck" Kassel, wingman with the University of Illinois, need not take a rear seat for any of them, in my opinion.

Illinois' defensive play, which enabled that eleven to hold Pennsylvania and Chicago scoreless and Iowa to a single touchdown, has been featured all season by Kassel's work. He is a big fellow but fleetfooted, a clever man at opening up opponents' plays, and at turning in a play for the rest of his line to handle.

ROBERT B. MACPHAIL

C. E. KASSEL

As a running mate to Lane, Captain Bob McPhail of Dartmouth has performed brilliantly in every department of the game.

That he is a versatile back is attested by the fact that he draws All American consideration in his junior year as a halfback after having played quarter in his sophomore year and fullback in his freshman year on a team that was undefeated all season.

That he is a heady player is indicated by the fact that he was named acting captain this year when Horton was injured and recently was elected captain for next year—his last with the big Green team.

TENNIS STARS IN MATCH HIKE

Misses Sears and Ryan in Gruelling Walk.

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Two of the foremost women athletes of America, Miss Eleanora Sears and Miss Elizabeth Ryan, international tennis star, were walking neck and neck this forenoon in a gruelling hike from Providence to Boston.

At Norwood, 13 miles from the finish, the pair were far ahead of Miss Sears' previous time for the city-to-city walk, made last year in 10 hours and 27 minutes. Going through Norwood, Miss Ryan was setting the pace.

A real wager is said to hang on the hike, resulting from the defeat the Back Bay woman suffered on the tennis court at the hands of Miss Ryan.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

WE'RE going to weaken just once this season to delve into comparative scores to prove something that doesn't mean a thing.

We're doing it just because—well for the same reason that you eat peanuts at a ball game and suffer afterwards.

Lafayette defeated Muhlenberg 35 to 0, Muhlenberg defeated Lehigh 30 to 0, Lehigh defeated Princeton 7 to 6, Princeton defeated Harvard 12 to 0, Harvard shaded Dartmouth 16 to 12 while Dartmouth held Brown to a 10 to 0 score.

Which should give Lafayette something or other in the line of a title. But we can't figure any one out.

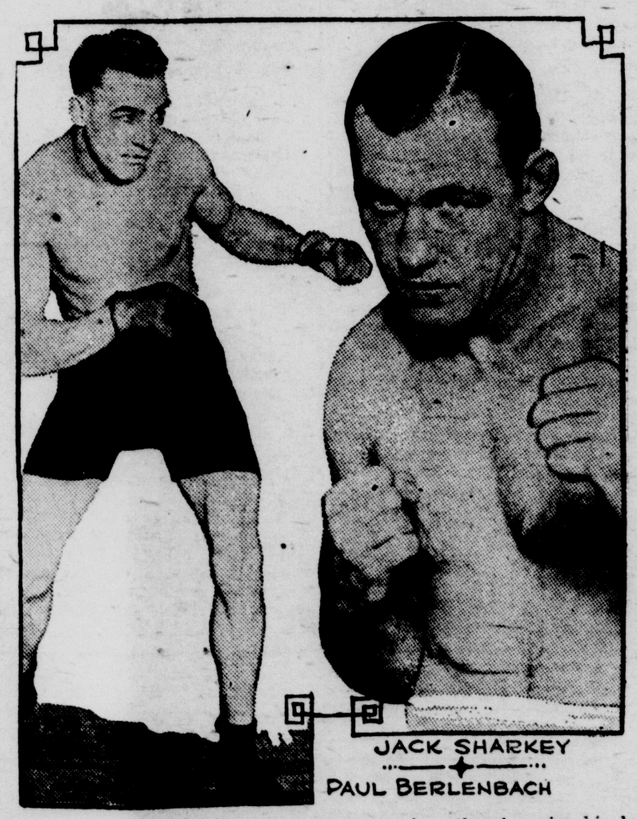

Speaking of freak football topics, Will Wedge, in the New York Sun, steps up with his "All" team but he doesn't confine his selection to an "All-American" affair. He makes it an international one.

After selecting the following team because of the nationalities of the players he coyly suggests that Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach, be named mentor of the team so that "the trick plays of this mythical bunch can be copyrighted in all countries, including the Scandinavian."

Here's his team:

Lindenmeyer, German, University of Missouri.
Kevorkian, Armenian, Brown.
Alohahoi, Hawaiian, University of Dayton.
Hageage, Syrian, Georgetown.

Chief Field, Pawnee Indian, Denison University.

First Move to Pick Tunney Foe Seen in Berlenbach-Sharkey Go

JACK SHARKEY
PAUL BERLENBACH

THE first heavyweight battle of importance since the championship bout between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney probably will be one between Paul Berlenbach, recent graduate into the "legitimate" heavyweight class, and Jack Sharkey, the man who burst the myth surrounding Harry Wills.

I understand that the men are as good as matched to meet in New York early in January as the first of a series of indoor shows to be run with a view toward choosing a late summer foe for Tunney.

Berlenbach has spent the last few months building up his weight to that of the average heavy. This after proving conclusively in the light heavy ranks that he is a terrific puncher, a fair boxer, and the "go-getter" type the fans like.

Eastern critics dubbed Paul the "Astoria Assassin" when the lad from Astoria began knocking hopefuls loose from their hopes. In 1926, after knocking out Mike McTigue to win the light heavyweight crown, Paul flattened Jimmy Slattery, pride of Buffalo and called a "second Corbett," and then proceeded to win over Jack Delaney. He later, however, lost the crown to Jack.

Sharkey had drawn some attention before the Wills bout. Regardless of the class he showed in that bout, the victory over the talkative negro gave Jack enough prominence to make him a big drawing card—until he gets socked.

If the battle comes off it will be a slugging match—and ought to be a beautiful one. Those in the front rows may spend much of their time pushing one or the other back into the ring.

Stanford And Alabama Will Battle For National Football Title

Notre Dame, Brown, Navy Out of Picture; Lafayette Has Claim

Saddened Tournament of Roses Committee at Pasadena, Cal., Probably Will Break Down and Laugh as Only Two of Three Unbeaten Teams are Lined Up for New Year's Day Game.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Destiny pulled its invisible strings between the rise of one sun on Thursday and the setting or another on Saturday and the football teams of Notre Dame, Brown and the Navy, puppets all, danced obediently into the wings and the shadows beyond where fame is not. Headliners almost to the last, their act proved something of a "flop" at the grand finale.

In consequence, a saddened tournament of roses committee at Pasadena, Cal., probably will break right down and laugh.

There were three unbeaten college football teams of the first rank surviving the regular season's end today and, through some regretable oversight, the committee has lined up only two of them, Stanford and Alabama, for the New Year's day game on the Coast. That game, therefore, will have a far greater bearing on the national situation in football than ever before. In fact, it will establish the winner as more deserving of national recognition than any other contender.

It so happens that there is only one, Lafayette, which finished its season undefeated more than a week ago, at least, has a shouting concession in all arguments.

Chance for Rebuttal.

However, the team that wins at Pasadena can whisper its rebuttal and all will hear with great ease and facility, for it will be the undisputed champion of two great sections, the South and far West, while Lafayette, at best, can claim nothing beyond the purpling shadows of the Alleghenies.

As for the Middle West, Notre Dame's disturbing defeat by Carnegie Tech on Saturday left that section without an accredited national conference contender for the first time in some years. Michigan probably is as good as the next and better than most but the Wolverine merely is co-champion of the Big Ten and, besides, it lost to the Navy.

The latter's 21 to 21 tie with the army on Saturday must be regarded as an act of self-elimination and the same thing applies to Brown's 10 to 10 tie with Colgate.

The fallacy of comparative scores and records of teams that meet no common opponent is well and favorably known among our most intelligent foul balls. Yet how may one rate football teams, except by victories, defeats and ties? The writer cannot rouse himself to three ringing cheers for the Navy's claims when that team plays a tie with the Army, which lost to Notre Dame, which lost to Carnegie Tech, which, in turn, lost to Missouri, which lost to Oklahoma, which lost to Kansas, which lost to nearly everybody and so on, ad infinitum.

Miss-and-Out Affair.

In the same way, Brown's tie with Colgate on Thanksgiving day clearly leaves New England without a contender, Colgate having lost to the Navy. At this point, you repeat the foregoing paragraph until exhausted.

As for Boston college, if its tie with Haskell Indians didn't weaken its claims, the scoreless affair with Holy Cross most certainly did, for Holy Cross was beaten by Boston University, which previously had lost to all manner of sap teams.

No, this national sweepstakes clearly is a miss-and-out affair. Stanford, Alabama and Lafayette didn't miss, so they still are in. If it wasn't otherwise, Bill Tilden probably would hold the heavyweight championship of the world because a punch on the chin couldn't count.

Notre Dame's defeat was a shock to many but there was nothing illegitimate about it, barring the fact that Rockne was elsewhere. If Rockne had been there, he probably would have tongue-lashed the Irish into making a better showing.

Rockne's Regulars Fail.

As it was, Notre Dame couldn't have won, anyhow, judging by the run of the play. The second team started the game and nothing hapened for a period and a fraction of the next. Then the first team went to bat and Tech ran wild to score its first touchdown. The second followed almost immediately on a blocked punt, after which the Irish were held for downs beyond midfield. Later, after Harpster had kicked two field goals, Notre Dame got a first down inside the 1-yard line and failed to gain the distance in four tries. That incident absolutely closed the case against the Irish.

The Army and Navy merely were two football teams without visible defense or sound judgment. West Point started its second team and I presume that if the Yankees qualify for the world series they won't put Ruth in until well on in the fifth inning. Anyhow, a sub quarterback allowed an eligible receiver to get between himself and the goal to take a pass leading up to the first Navy touchdown. The second was earned against a second team line. Then the Army first stringers came on and ran wild. But I will always feel that the running would have been wilder and the Army score larger if it had spread the Navy defense with a few passes. However—post mortems.

Wilson, Lafayette, High Individual Football Scorer

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Establishing a new record, Mike Wilson, of Lafayette, stood today as the high individual scorer of Eastern college football for the season of 1926. He has tallied 20 touchdown, giving him a total of 120 points. His nearest rival, Williams of Connecticut Aggies, has a total of 90, one point beyond Harry Wilson, of the Army, who finished third. Lane, of Dartmouth, and Weston, of Boston college, were fourth and fifth with 75 and 72 points respectively.

CRACK HOCKEY TEAM DEFEATED

Duluth's Hornets Drill Stingers Into Chicago Cards.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29. — Chicago's Cardinals, American association hockey team, today were smarting under their first defeat of the season. Duluth's Hornets drilled their stingers into the local huskies at the Coliseum last night, 3 to 1.

The struggle was much closer than the score indicates. The teams battled on even terms most of the way, it being one of the hardest fought games ever seen on local ice. A concerted attack in the second period, coupled with lucky breaks, gave Duluth the margin of victory.

The Cards were the first to score, Brydson taking a perfect pass from Reid and slipping the puck past Goal Tender Turner. Ted Dunfield scored two of Duluth's three goals, one in the second period and one in the third. Johnny Loucks scored the third shot toward the close of the third period.

MICKEY WALKER AWAITS CLASH WITH FLOWERS

Sport World Eyes on Middleweight Title Battle.

10-ROUND CLASH

Chicago Will be Scene of Bout Friday Night.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—With the Army-Navy football game out of the way, sporting interest today centered on the impending world's championship fight between Tiger Flowers, middleweight title holder, and Mickey Walker, former welterweight champion, who now believes he is capable of annexing the middleweight crown.

Flowers and Walker will clash in a 10-round decision bout at the Coliseum here Friday night. They entered the home stretch of their training preparations today in practically top form.

Each fighter, with an eye on the impending fray, has been actively engaged in ring work lately. On the same night recently, Walker was beating Jock Malone at Boston, while Flowers was lacing Sailor Eddie Huffman of the Pacific coast, in a local ring. These victories have perked interest in Friday night's affair.

Both champion and challenger have a host of friends who can specify a half dozen reasons why their respective candidate will win. Betting, however, is a shade partial to the challenger.

The present-day Walker—not the Walker who lost the welter crown to Pete Latzo—is viewed as the most formidable challenger match with Tiger since the Georgia deacon won his title. Mickey, who hits hard with either hand, is expected to tear into the champion at the first trace of the bell and keep it up until he has Tiger stretched limp or thoroughly outpointed.

Flowers, according to his followers, may not punch as hard as Walker, but is fast enough and clever enough to stave off Mickey's assault while the champ piles up sufficient points to retain his title.

COLUMBIANA 11 DROPS LAST GAME

Out-weighed, out-played but not outgamed the plucky little team of Columbiana high school bowed in defeat to East Palestine high, the score being 19-0. In spite of the comparative scores, the game was a much better one than that of the previous week with Lisbon high. Coach Miller had worked wonders with his boys in a few intervening days, and they did everything well that they had done poorly the week before. They charged and tackled low and stopped everything that East Palestine had—except Dolan, and that was the margin of victory for Dolan was a team in himself, and assisted a few times by Captain Harvey, made practically all of the gains. When he did not run with it himself, he threw forward passes to others, and he could throw as well as he could make end runs or off-tackle dashes. He never failed of at least a few yards. But let us not forget the Columbiana hero, and there was one. He was "Danny" Detwiler, the smallest player on either team, but the life of the red and white. In every play, he seemed to be the only one who could find holes in the heavy East Palestine line. He was fine on defense, too. Dowd, playing in the backfield in the place of Fellers, who was injured in the Lisbon game, did the kicking and forward-passing and occasionally carried the ball. With the exception of his first three kicks, he did well. In spite of the bad punting in the first quarter, East Palestine was held scoreless, but pushed over two touchdowns in the second, largely as the result of two long forward passes and resulting long runs. Captain Harvey kicked one of the goals. In the third quarter Columbiana played its best football, but in the last quarter, East Palestine made another touchdown, due to Dolan's wonderful individual work. Columbiana only seriously threatened the East Palestine goal once, late in the second quarter, but the time was up before they could make a final necessary play.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 81 Golf Champions.
"Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

There is one important phase of the back swing, with any golf club, that the golfer should acquire, and he can do it either on the course or at home, out in the garage or up in the attic. It is this: When you start the clubhead away from the ball, start it with the hands—then keep on going with the hands and arms. Many players start the club with the hands, but they have an unconscious habit of dropping the hand control of the club about half way back with it, and taking it on from that point by means of a body push or twist. You do not push the club back and up with your body. It is accomplished entirely with the hands, wrists and arms—and with very little wrist action, just enough to let the club naturally turn.

Gene Tunney Busy As He Listens to Bids for Services

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Gene Tunney will be a busy man today. Willing to listen to any and all bids for his services as heavyweight champion, the ex-marine was scheduled to hold successive conferences with Tex Rickard and Humbert J. Fugazy, rival promoters, and a third with his manager, Billy Gibson.

Gibson's meeting with Tunney was inspired by the manager's desire to learn his status, there having been reports that the pair has reached the parting of the ways. Tunney, however, has denied this through his traveling representative, Ray Campbell.

CHICAGO TRADE BOARD PLANS NEW CLEAN-UP

Sift Complaints of Illegal Practices in Warehouses.

FARMERS ON JOB

Form Organization to Stand Back of Investigation.

CHICAGO, Illinois—Another 'housecleaning' is in order on the Chicago Board of Trade, it is indicated by the recent inquiry of the Illinois Commerce Commission into alleged illegal practices which have grown up in the warehousing of grain at Chicago, according to a statement issued by the Illinois Agricultural association, an organization of 63,000 farmers.

Corrections Needed.

"The association will stand squarely back of the commission in its investigation," Secretary C. A. Fox declared. 'Farmers interests are at stake in this controversy and the evidence given before the commission shows conclusively that there are certain malpractices which need to be corrected."

The hearing brought out charges that owners of public grain warehouses are using their peculiar advantage as owners in deliberately "skinning" grades of grain, substituting low grade grain for higher grades on future deliveries, using their inside information to sell short grain that is spoiling in storage, and appropriating certain advantages with reference to transit billing.

Warehouse Complaints.

The reform movement in the administration of public class "A" warehouses originally was instituted by the Chicago Board of Trade when John R. Mauff, a member, complained that owners of private elevators had unlawful affiliations with the public warehouses and were using such connections to their advantage and to the disadvantage of other members.

The board first petitioned the Illinois Commerce Commission for a franchise to operate the public warehouses under new management subject to its selection, but suddenly withdrew its petition because of "dissension in its own ranks." The inquiry however was continued.

Charley Rosenberg Faces Fight Test In Jersey City

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Charley Phil Rosenberg, bantamweight champion who has been reinstated in New York in order that he might meet Bushey Graham for the title on January 13, tonight will get his first test under fire here in more than a year. He will meet Georgie Mack in a 10-round bout in Jersey City and, while Rosenberg will not make the required weight of his class, it will be possible for him to lose his title, provided Mack weighs in as a bantamweight.

Answers to Questions

Q. How long does a voter require to make and deposit his ballot? C. D.

A. During the last election, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is reported to have used three minutes in the booth, President Coolidge three minutes, and Vice President Dawes eight minutes.

Q. What American cities have elevated railways with motive power supplied by a third rail? J. S. M.

A. The American Electric Railway Association says that New York City, Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia, and Chicago have.

Q. How do manufacturers of cotton dye it? A. S. R.

A. The dye may be applied to the raw cotton, to the yarn, or to the fabric. Under equal conditions dyeing the raw cotton allows better penetration and gives a more lasting effect, although when properly carried out either yarn or piece dyeing may be satisfactory.

Q. In modern times, who first applied the word "Hun" to the German? H. T. L.

A. Kipling. His poem called "The Powers" (1902) is noteworthy for this first use of the word "Hun."

Q. What is the cambium layer of wood? C. B.

A. It is the living tissue which lies under the bark.

Q. Was C. M. Williamson an American writer? A. R. P.

A. The late C. M. Williamson was an English novelist who wrote in collaboration with his American wife, Alice M. Williamson.

Q. How long has capital punishment been used? D. E. W.

A. Capital punishment as a lawful procedure has existed since the history of mankind. You will find it laid down in the Mosaic Law in the books of Leviticus and Deuteronomy.

Q. Where can liquid air be bought? C. L. B.

A. Liquid air is not an article of commerce as it can not be stored for any length of time. It would probably not be shipped by express but would have to be carried by messenger. If you live near a large university or research laboratory, you might be able to obtain some for experimentation.

Q. What is the Institute of Politics? A. N.

A. This is a movement inaugurated by the trustees of William College in September, 1919, and consists of annual sessions at which are discussed foreign affairs so as to promote a more sympathetic understanding of the problems and policies of other nations. This is done by offering courses of public lectures delivered by distinguished scholars and statesmen from foreign countries and by setting up Round Table and Open conferences presided over by recognized authorities.

Q. How many commercial airplane companies are there in Germany? L. M.

A. There are forty-two commercial air lines operating daily to all parts of Central and Eastern Europe, including Moscow. Seventeen lines radiate from Berlin. There are many small companies, all now consolidated with the Deutsche Lufthansa. There are 120 commercial planes; 160 pilots. One hundred and ten planes are constantly in working order. In 1925 the German Commercial Air Service carried approximately 133,639 passengers and 6600 tons of freight. In 1925 the commercial service in passengers and freight carried and miles traveled tripled its volume of business over the preceding year.

Q. What percentage of the population of the United States has had a college education? E. W. R.

A. Two and fourteen hundredths per cent of the population of the United States are college graduates; 4.55 per cent have received part college education; 25.08 part of full high school education; 61.13 part of full common school education.

Q. Has a teacher a legal right to read the Bible in the schools of Illinois or is there a law against it? J. K. N.

A. According to the state law of Illinois, Bible reading is excluded from the public schools by Supreme Court decision (People v. Board of Education 245 111-354). The court in effect holds that the Bible is sectarian.

CHICAGO TRADE BOARD PLANS NEW CLEAN-UP

Sift Complaints of Illegal Practices in Warehouses.

Form Organization to Stand Back of Investigation.

CHICAGO, Illinois—Another 'housecleaning' is in order on the Chicago Board of Trade, it is indicated by the recent inquiry of the Illinois Commerce Commission into alleged illegal practices which have grown up in the warehousing of grain at Chicago, according to a statement issued by the Illinois Agricultural association, an organization of 63,000 farmers.

Corrections Needed.

"The association will stand squarely back of the commission in its investigation," Secretary C. A. Fox declared. 'Farmers interests are at stake in this controversy and the evidence given before the commission shows conclusively that there are certain malpractices which need to be corrected."

The hearing brought out charges that owners of public grain warehouses are using their peculiar advantage as owners in deliberately "skinning" grades of grain, substituting low grade grain for higher grades on future deliveries, using their inside information to sell short grain that is spoiling in storage, and appropriating certain advantages with reference to transit billing.

Warehouse Complaints.

The reform movement in the administration of public class "A" warehouses originally was instituted by the Chicago Board of Trade when John R. Mauff, a member, complained that owners of private elevators had unlawful affiliations with the public warehouses and were using such connections to their advantage and to the disadvantage of other members.

The board first petitioned the Illinois Commerce Commission for a franchise to operate the public warehouses under new management subject to its selection, but suddenly withdrew its petition because of "dissension in its own ranks." The inquiry however was continued.

Charley Rosenberg Faces Fight Test In Jersey City

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Charley Phil Rosenberg, bantamweight champion who has been reinstated in New York in order that he might meet Bushey Graham for the title on January 13, tonight will get his first test under fire here in more than a year. He will meet Georgie Mack in a 10-round bout in Jersey City and, while Rosenberg will not make the required weight of his class, it will be possible for him to lose his title, provided Mack weighs in as a bantamweight.

A. Capital punishment as a lawful procedure has existed since the history of mankind. You will find it laid down in the Mosaic Law in the books of Leviticus and Deuteronomy.

Q. Where can liquid air be bought? C. L. B.

A. Liquid air is not an article of commerce as it can not be stored for any length of time. It would probably not be shipped by express but would have to be carried by messenger. If you live near a large university or research laboratory, you might be able to obtain some for experimentation.

Q. What is the Institute of Politics? A. N.

A. This is a movement inaugurated by the trustees of William College in September, 1919, and consists of annual sessions at which are discussed foreign affairs so as to promote a more sympathetic understanding of the problems and policies of other nations. This is done by offering courses of public lectures delivered by distinguished scholars and statesmen from foreign countries and by setting up Round Table and Open conferences presided over by recognized authorities.

Q. How many commercial airplane companies are there in Germany? L. M.

A. There are forty-two commercial air lines operating daily to all parts of Central and Eastern Europe, including Moscow. Seventeen lines radiate from Berlin. There are many small companies, all now consolidated with the Deutsche Lufthansa. There are 120 commercial planes; 160 pilots. One hundred and ten planes are constantly in working order. In 1925 the German Commercial Air Service carried approximately 133,639 passengers and 6600 tons of freight. In 1925 the commercial service in passengers and freight carried and miles traveled tripled its volume of business over the preceding year.

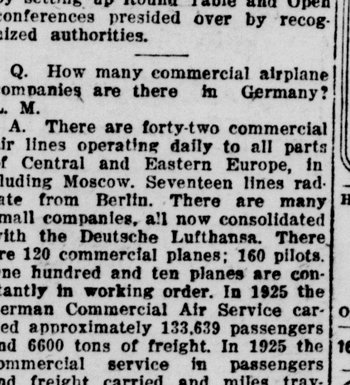

Q. What percentage of the population of the United States has had a college education? E. W. R.

A. Two and fourteen hundredths per cent of the population of the United States are college graduates; 4.55 per cent have received part college education; 25.08 part of full high school education; 61.13 part of full common school education.

Q. Has a teacher a legal right to read the Bible in the schools of Illinois or is there a law against it? J. K. N.

A. According to the state law of Illinois, Bible reading is excluded from the public schools by Supreme Court decision (People v. Board of Education 245 111-354). The court in effect holds that the Bible is sectarian.

CHICAGO TRADE BOARD PLANS NEW CLEAN-UP

Sift Complaints of Illegal Practices in Warehouses.

Form Organization to Stand Back of Investigation.

CHICAGO, Illinois—Another 'housecleaning' is in order on the Chicago Board of Trade, it is indicated by the recent inquiry of the Illinois Commerce Commission into alleged illegal practices which have grown up in the warehousing of grain at Chicago, according to a statement issued by the Illinois Agricultural association, an organization of 63,000 farmers.

Corrections Needed.

"The association will stand squarely back of the commission in its investigation," Secretary C. A. Fox declared. 'Farmers interests are at stake in this controversy and the evidence given before the commission shows conclusively that there are certain malpractices which need to be corrected."

The hearing brought out charges that owners of public grain warehouses are using their peculiar advantage as owners in deliberately "skinning" grades of grain, substituting low grade grain for higher grades on future deliveries, using their inside information to sell short grain that is spoiling in storage, and appropriating certain advantages with reference to transit billing.

Warehouse Complaints.

The reform movement in the administration of public class "A" warehouses originally was instituted by the Chicago Board of Trade when John R. Mauff, a member, complained that owners of private elevators had unlawful affiliations with the public warehouses and were using such connections to their advantage and to the disadvantage of other members.

The board first petitioned the Illinois Commerce Commission for a franchise to operate the public warehouses under new management subject to its selection, but suddenly withdrew its petition because of "dissension in its own ranks." The inquiry however was continued.

Charley Rosenberg Faces Fight Test In Jersey City

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Charley Phil Rosenberg, bantamweight champion who has been reinstated in New York in order that he might meet Bushey Graham for the title on January 13, tonight will get his first test under fire here in more than a year. He will meet Georgie Mack in a 10-round bout in Jersey City and, while Rosenberg will not make the required weight of his class, it will be possible for him to lose his title, provided Mack weighs in as a bantamweight.

Answers to Questions

Q. How long does a voter require to make and deposit his ballot? C. D.

A. During the last election, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is reported to have used three minutes in the booth, President Coolidge three minutes, and Vice President Dawes eight minutes.

Q. What American cities have elevated railways with motive power supplied by a third rail? J. S. M.

A. The American Electric Railway Association says that New York City, Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia, and Chicago have.

Q. How do manufacturers of cotton dye it? A. S. R.

A. The dye may be applied to the raw cotton, to the yarn, or to the fabric. Under equal conditions dyeing the raw cotton allows better penetration and gives a more lasting effect, although when properly carried out either yarn or piece dyeing may be satisfactory.

Q. In modern times, who first applied the word "Hun" to the German? H. T. L.

A. Kipling. His poem called "The Powers" (1902) is noteworthy for this first use of the word "Hun."

Q. What is the cambium layer of wood? C. B.

A. It is the living tissue which lies under the bark.

Q. Was C. M. Williamson an American writer? A. R. P.

A. The late C. M. Williamson was an English novelist who wrote in collaboration with his American wife Alice M. Williamson.

Q. How long has capital punishment been used? D. E. W.

A. Capital punishment as a lawful procedure has existed since the history of mankind. You will find it laid down in the Mosaic Law in the books of Leviticus and Deuteronomy.

Q. Where can liquid air be bought? C. L. B.

A. Liquid air is not an article of commerce as it can not be stored for any length of time. It would probably not be shipped by express but would have to be carried by messenger. If you live near a large university or research laboratory, you might be able to obtain some for experimentation.

Q. What is the Institute of Politics? A. N.

A. This is a movement inaugurated by the trustees of William College in September, 1919, and consists of annual sessions at which are discussed foreign affairs so as to promote a more sympathetic understanding of the problems and policies of other nations. This is done by offering courses of public lectures delivered by distinguished scholars and statesmen from foreign countries and by setting up Round Table and Open conferences presided over by recognized authorities.

Q. How many commercial airplane companies are there in Germany? L. M.

A. There are forty-two commercial air lines operating daily to all parts of Central and Eastern Europe, including Moscow. Seventeen lines radiate from Berlin. There are many small companies, all now consolidated with the Deutsche Lufthansa. There are 120 commercial planes; 160 pilots. One hundred and ten planes are constantly in working order. In 1925 the German Commercial Air Service carried approximately 133,639 passengers and 6600 tons of freight. In 1925 the commercial service in passengers and freight carried and miles traveled tripled its volume of business over the preceding year.

Q. What percentage of the population of the United States has had a college education? E. W. R.

A. Two and fourteen hundredths per cent of the population of the United States are college graduates; 4.55 per cent have received part college education; 25.08 part of full high school education; 61.13 part of full common school education.

Q. Has a teacher a legal right to read the Bible in the schools of Illinois or is there a law against it? J. K. N.

A. According to the state law of Illinois, Bible reading is excluded from the public schools by Supreme Court decision (People v. Board of Education 245 111-354). The court in effect holds that the Bible is sectarian.

about 885,000 carats is the largest producer.

The United States can boast little in the way of precious stone production. The sapphire mines of Montana yield more in value than all the other mines of semi-precious and precious stones in the country, but there is nothing imposing in the figures. In 1924, 46,950 carats for gem purposes and 278,317 carats for mechanical uses were produced, the aggregate value being almost $26,000. Last year more sapphires were mined suitably for cutting into gems by about 8,000 carats, and the value of the entire output increased to $33,375.

Platinum, the metal that has almost entirely displaced gold as a setting for diamonds and other precious stones, is also statistically analyzed by Mr. Kunz. The 1925 world's production amounted to about 100,000 ounces, valued at $120 per ounce, or approximately $12,000,000. Prior to the war the maximum consumption of platinum was about 300,000 ounces, but in those days it was valued at less than $45 the ounce.

The supply of platinum comes from five countries, the United States, Canada, Australia, Colombia, and Russia, with the last two furnishing by far the greater part. However, discoveries have been made in South Africa of such a character that it is claimed by some authorities that that country will soon bee able to supply th world's demand, and, possibly force a considerable reduction in price.

Increasing use of platinum in recent years has led to agitation for some kind of legislation to guarantee the quality of the metal in articles sold as platinum. This sort of thing is by no means new, for Great Britain for a period of some 600 years has had what is regarded as the most perfect system of hall-marks to attest the quality of products of the jewelry industry.

In seeking a hall-mark for platinum the general idea seems to be that nothing should be marked as platinum, pure platinum, or solid platinum unless it is 950 fine, or contains 95 per cent of the platinum-group metals.

U. S. SCORES IN OIL LAND CASE

Today

Lloyd George Worries.

Lilith by Dusk.

Marriage a Strain.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

Copyright, 1926, by the Star Co.

LLOYD GEORGE is worried about everything. Mussolini's treatment of Germans in the Tyrol, annexed to Italy, will cause war between Germany and Italy and "embroil all Europe."

Russia is the great problem, and more intelligent than our bankers that bought Kerensky's Russian bonds. Lloyd George says the danger will come "not from Bolshevism, but from the irresistible return of Russia to czarist imperialism."

ALL nations should forgive all their debts, England included, says Lloyd George, but he fears the recent United States election will prevent that. He does not mention the fact that everybody owes us, whereas we owe nobody.

What Lloyd George calls a "general jubilee which would wipe out all international debts" simply means Europe saying to Uncle Sam, "You free us of debt, and you pay the piper."

FRANK A. SIMMONDS says "America is looked upon in Europe as the common peril." Europe feels that we got all the profit out of the war, Europe got nothing. We are to live rich and happy, Europe is to worry. Europe ought to remember that Europe started the war, as she will start others probably.

Men and nations that choose to cut each other's throats have no right to hate, though they may envy, a nation or individual that stays outside the throat-cutting. American got in part way, but not all the way, luckily.

GEORGE STERLING, California poet, who committed suicide at 57 wrote "I am grown weary of permitted things" and adds "rather by dusk for Lilith would I wait, etc."

The trouble with this age, is weariness, of "permitted things." And the trouble is not confined to poets. The pig is weary of his pen, the cow of her pasture, the young man of his job, some young girls of decency and restraint. However, the "permitted things" will continue to rule.

The pig is better off in his pen, the cow in her pasture, the man at his job, the girl with chaperone and the 57-year old poets as far away as possible from "Lilith by dusk."

MADAME ALEXANDRIA KOLLONTAI, Bolshevik lady ambassador to Mexico, forbidden to enter United States territory, lest she should undermine our political and other morals, tells us about marriage. "It is," says she, "a big strain on romance. Madame Kollontai speaks English, French, Italian, German, Norwegian, as well as Russian. In any of those languages, she will tell you that woman has not enough freedom She is opposed to "free love" but says "the new woman does not deny her female nature. She does not dodge life, nor reject joys."

RULING ON ANDERSON TRIAL DEFERRED

East Liverpool Man, Twice Convicted, Seeks Third Trial in Death of Frank R. McLain, Taxicab Driver.

Absence of Jurist Probably Will Necessitate Postponement of Decision in Wellsville Police Chief's Fight.

Owing to the absence of Judge James Roberts, Ashtabula county, who has been called to Cincinnati by the serious illness of his sister, decision upon the application of George A. Anderson, 43, East Liverpool automobile salesman, seeking a third trial in the death of Frank McLain, 27, taxi-cab driver, October 7, 1925, will not be handed down by the appellate court at this week's session at Cadiz, it was announced today.

Postponement of a ruling in the fight of the city of Wellsville to oust Chief of Police John H. Fultz, is also expected. The decision was to have been announced next week at St. Clairsville.

Arguments Heard at Lisbon.

Arguments in the Anderson and Fultz cases were heard by the court at Lisbon during the week of November 8. Anderson is under sentence of four years and eight months in the penitentiary, this having been imposed after he was convicted for a second time upon a manslaughter charge. He had served four months in prison after his first conviction when the appellate court ordered a second trial.

Fultz was reinstated as head of the Wellsville police force after a six months' fight before the civil service commission and common pleas court. The case was carried to the appellate court upon error. Fultz has resumed work pending the court's decision.

Judges L. T. Farr, Lisbon and John Pollock, St. Clairsville, met at Cadiz this morning.

Teamster Escapes As His Automobile Plunges Into River

M. L. Parsons, Third street teamster, had a narrow escape from drowning when his touring car plunged over a 20-foot embankment into the Ohio river near the T. A. McNicol pottery on the River road at 7 o'clock last night.

Parsons tore away the side curtains on the car and swam to shore. His machine was submerged.

The accident occurred when Parsons was attempting to turn on the road. While shifting gears, the car was paced in reverse and before he could bring it to a stop, it started over the bank into the water.

The car was pulled from the river today by the McElravy Brothers' truck after Parsons had made an unsuccessful attempt to move it with a team of horses.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH IN NEW YORK FIRE

Man Gives His Life to Save Wife and Three Children.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Samuel Weiner, 35, and his sons, Homan, 10, and Isadore, 7, were burned to death in a fire which swept a Cherry street tenement early today.

Mrs. Mary Gelfand, 40, sprained her wrist when she jumped from a window, and Michael Donato, 41, was burned severely.

The fire was accompanied by a mysterious explosion, and officials began an investigation of its origin.

Weiner died saving his wife and three of his children. They, with 75 other tenants, escaped on ladders and over the roofs.

MRS. HALL SAYS SHE DOES NOT BELIEVE STORY OF TRYSTING

Defendant Resumes Stand in Murder Trial.

Swears She Never Noticed Slain Husband's Actions.

BY JAMES K. KILGALLEN.

COURTHOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 29.—Under a blistering cross-examination by Prosecutor Alexander Simpson, Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall today calmly, almost disdainfully, denied that she took "any part whatever" in the murder of her husband, the Rev. Edward W. Hall, and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills.

COURT HOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, testifying in her own behalf, swore today she does not believe "even now," that a love affair existed four years ago between her husband, the Rev. Edward W. Hall, and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, who were found shot to death in a "lover's" lane on the night of September 14, 1922.

"You never noticed any affections between your husband and Mrs. Mills?" Prosecutor Alexander Simpson asked her in an amazed tone.

"I didn't," she replied evenly, "and I don't believe it now—that they were in love with each other."

"I Don't Believe," She Says.

Simpson had called the attention of the black-garbed defendant to the ardent love letters that had been found near the bodies—the letters that had been read in court recently.

"You don't believe it now with all these letters and papers read in this court?" shouted Simpson.

"I don't believe it," she said, firmly, in her low modulated voice.

The prosecutor presented some letters—exhibits—for her to examine. She did so carelessly.

"I don't believe it," she reiterated. She denied knowing of the existence of the letters, either the letters found near the bodies or those later found at the home of James Mills, husband of the slain woman.

"Did you ever see this prayer Rev. Hall wrote for Mrs. Mills when she was in the hospital?"

"No, I never did."

"You didn't overhear the telephone conversation between Mrs. Mills and your husband when she told Dr. Hall

THREE WOUNDED IN DRY RAID

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—The mother of three children, her husband and one police officer, were lying seriously wounded in a hospital here today following a dry raid on the home of John Sastewski, alleged moonshiner.

Sastewski fired on the officers when they entered his home, wounding Detective Leslie Larson. In the exchange of shots, Sastewski himself fell wounded.

Mrs. Sastewski was knocked unconscious with the butt of an officer's pistol.

TWO AIRMEN DIE IN PLANE CRASH

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—An inquest will be held today over the bodies of two Chicago aviators who lost their lives when the antiquated plane in which they were doing "stunts" collapsed in mid-air and crashed 1,500 feet.

Richard Musch, 36, a paving contractor, and A. K. Carlitz, pilot, were the men killed.

THREE AUTOS REPORTED STOLEN

A. W. Ware, 809 Broadway, Wellsville, reported to the police at 12:40 o'clock this afternoon that his Chevrolet sedan had been stolen while parked on West Fifth street during the noon hour. The car carried license No. 350-007 and was valued at $875.

A Ford roadster belonging to Cecil Statler, Newell, was stolen while parked on Broadway, Saturday night, and driven to Thompson park where it was stripped of its tires and battery, according to a report at police headquarters.

Samuel Howell, First avenue, reported that his Ford touring car was taken from its parking place on St. Clair avenue while he was attending services at the Nezarene church last night. The license number on the machine was 240-561.

Lones Qualities As Judge; Will Assume Duties Tomorrow

Wellsville Lawyer Succeeds Judge W. H. Spence on Common Pleas Court Bench.

Attorney W. F. Lones, Wellsville, was to qualify as judge of the Columbiana county common pleas court at Lisbon this afternoon, to serve the unexpired term of the late Judge James G. Moore. Lones was to be sworn in by Frank Ballantine, clerk of the court.

Judge Lones will perform his first court work tomorrow, an assignment having been arranged by Clerk Ballantine. Judge W. H. Spence, Lisbon, who was appointed by Governor Donahey last spring, presided in the court this morning.

Lones' new court bailiff, James W. Stevenson, Yellow Creek township, will also assume his duties tomorrow. Stevenson will succeed Bernard Sultner, of Lisbon, who has been bailiff for six years.

Reorganization of the Lones, Hill & Davidson law firm, of which Lones has been a member for seven years, will take place upon the return of Walter B. Hill from California within the next 30 days.

Snowstorm Halts Attempts to Free Grounded Vessel

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Nov. 29.—Due to a heavy snowstorm, no attempts have been made to free any of the boats grounded near here.

The steamer Ingalls of the Boland and Cornelius line is still grounded while the tug Iowa is standing by.

The steamer Field of the Reiss Steamship company, which is still hard aground off Pipe island, is awaiting help from Port Huron. It was expected she would be lightered and freed before 6 p. m., but unless the wind and snow squalls cease no attempt will be made to free her.

"PEACHES" WINS FIRST SKIRMISH

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 29.—"Peaches" Browning won the first skirmish in her suit for separation from her millionaire husband, Edward West Browning, today, when Justice Morschauser denied the motion of Browning's attorneys to a bill of particulars giving the exact time and place of the alleged acts contained in the complaint.

Justice Morschauser ruled, however, that if the child-bride sprang any surprises at the trial, Browning would be permitted an adjournment to prepare his defense.

Mansfield Merchant Is Fatally Injured In Auto Accident

MANSFIELD, O., Nov. 29.—William A. Stecker, 21, proprietor of a haberdashery store, died at 5:45 o'clock this morning at General hospital from injuries received Sunday evening in an auto accident on the Harding highway about seven miles west of Mansfield.

FRANK SWANEY WINS STREET CONTRACT SUIT

Permanent Injunction Against Surfacing Job Granted.

BIDS REJECTED

New Legislation is Necessary, Court Rules.

A permanent injunction, restraining the city of East Liverpool from improving Fourth street as proposed under existing legislation, was handed down today by Judge W. H. Spence in common pleas court, Lisbon, as one of his last official acts before retiring from office, in the case of Frank Swaney, taxpayer, against John W. Moore, service director of the city of East Liverpool.

Laxity in legislation on the part of the East Liverpool city council is the ground upon which the restraining order was made permanent, according to the court's order. The opinion recites that none of the witnesses called by the city at the hearing knew when the plans for the improvement were completed as the records carried no dates. No one knew whether the plans were completed before or after the determining legislation was passed.

The ruling also set forth that the city of East Liverpool had no contract with the Newell Street Railway and Bridge company relative to the improvement of that part of the street occupied by the car tracks and this would indicate the street was to be improved outside the tracks with one material and between the tracks with another material.

Patterson Held Contract.

The court held that no improvement ordinance was passed and that neither Service Director Moore nor City Engineer Clapsaddle could recall when the plans for the improve-

DOHENY STORY OF HIS "LOAN" TO FALL GOES INTO RECORD

Government is Winner in First Test of Strength.

OPINION READ

Multi-Millionaire's Statement Denies Fall Explanation.

By GEORGE E. DURNO.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The government scored a decisive victory today in its first big test of strength with the "million dollar" legal defense of ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and Edward L. Doheny, on trial for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government out of naval oil reserves.

"Reversible Error" Charged.

Justice A. A. Hoehling, in a lengthy opinion read at the opening of the trial this morning, held that Doheny's testimony before the senate oil investigating committee three years ago concerning the $100,000 he "loaned" to Fall was admissible as evidence in the present trial.

Doheny testified before the senate committee that he had let Fall have the $100,000, instead of E. B. McLean, the Washington and Cincinnati publisher, whom Fall had said loaned him the money.

Defense counsel bitterly contested the admissibility of this evidence before the jury that is now trying Fall and Doheny on criminal charges. They contended that to allow Doheny's story to go before the jury constituted grounds for "a reversible error" when and if the case is appealed. Their argument was based on that part of the federal code which says that the testimony of a witness before a committee of congress shall

Two motorists were fined upon charges of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated when they faced Municipal Judge Hanley today.

Alvin Franklin, Ogden street, was committed to the county jail in default of $100 fine. Police say he was driving a Chevrolet touring car belonging to Earl Miller when he was apprehended. A charge of automobile stealing against Franklin has been filed by Miller, but the prisoner has not been tried on this count.

Jacob Wells, Chester, was fined $50 on a similar charge. Police say that Wells collided with a car belonging to O. C. Cullom on Broadway, at 6:30 o'clock Saturday night. He paid his fine and agreed to pay for the damage done to Cullom's car.

Merritt McKay, who was arrested on St. George street, Thanksgiving evening, was fined $25 upon a charge of reckless and careless driving.

SHIPSTEAD, BALANCE OF POWER IN SENATE, IS GUEST AT WHITE HOUSE "HARMONY BREAKFAST"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—President Coolidge gave a "harmony breakfast" this morning at the White House, attended by a dozen members of the senate.

Included among the guests was Senator Hendrik Shipstead, the sole Farmer-Labor member, of Minnesota, whose vote in the seventieth senate may conceivably decide whether the Republicans or Democrats will control the chamber.

The ostensible purpose of the gathering about the White House breakfast table was to afford the executive an opportunity to discuss with the Republican leaders of the senate the legislative program for the short session, beginning next Monday. Actually it was regarded as another administration step toward the elemination of Republican factionalism, and the establishment of party harmony against the time in the seventieth senate when Republican harmony will be sorely needed.

Shipstead's inclusion among the breakfast guests caused considerably comment in political quarters. It was said to be the first time the Farmer-Laborite has ever sat at the White House table. Recently he was "invited" by Republican leaders of the senate, informally, to become affiliated with the Republicans of the upper chamber.

Others at the table this morning included Curtis of Kansas, the Republican leader; Capper of Kansas; Dale of Vermont; Bingham of Connecticut; Goff of West Virginia; Shortridge of California, Gooding of Idaho; Couzens of Michigan; Sackett of Kentucky, and Stewart of Iowa, who is to occupy the seat of the late Senator Cummins for the session.

Senator Couzens' presence also elicited some comment, as he frequently has been on the "outs" with the administration, and has fought some sanguinary battles with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. He has been irregular enough to be classified on some occasions as an insurgent.

WELLSVILLE R BBERS ATTEMPT TO CRACK SAFE

YOUTHFUL GANG BREAKS INTO HIGH SCHOOL

Force Window in Basement, Pry Off Door.

Money Taken From Desk of Superintendent S. E. Daw.

With two boys, each under 15, held as suspects, Wellsville police today were pressing their investigation of an attempt to crack the safe in the high school building in Center street, between Ninth and Tenth streets.

Although the authorities declined to discuss the inquiry, it developed that a gang of youths broke into the school building late Friday night, ransacked the desk in the office of Superintendent S. E. Daw and failed in an effort to force open the safe from which they knocked off the knob.

A smal amount of change is said to have been taken from the school chieftain's desk, but so far as known little other loot was obtained.

The intruders broke a window to effect an entrance into the sewing room in the basement. They then forced open a door leading to the first floor, pried open the door to the superintendent's office and ransacked the desk.

It is understood police will question the two prisoners in an effort to learn the identity of other members of the youthful gang. As yet no charges have been preferred.

FERN LEAF CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

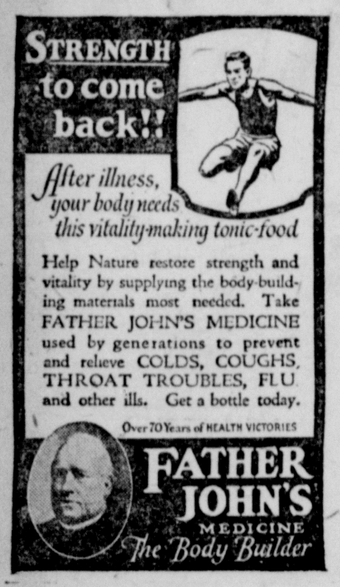

Members of the Fern Leaf club were entertained by Mrs. Earl Ward at her home in Boyce avenue Friday evening.

The evening was spent with music and games as the pastimes. Contests were won by Mrs. Homer Todd and Mrs. John Hand.

The club discussed plans for a Christmas party to be held at the Parish house, Eleventh and Center streets, Saturday, December 18.

The hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Geraldine Ward and Mrs. Dwight Moorehead served a four-course luncheon.

The next meeting will be held Friday December 10 at the home of Mrs. Albert Beech, Anderson avenue.

Annual Red Cross roll call campaign in Wellsville conducted by members of the Boy Scouts on Sunday, November 28, netted a total of 379 members and $406.75 in cash, according to a report of the executive committee today.

Of this amount, $189.50 has been forwarded to Washington as the national organization's share, while $217.25 has been retained by the Wellsville chapter for local relief work.

Scouts from the Methodist Episcopal church, under the leadership of Scoutmaster George Smith, canvassed the city from First to Fifth streets, enrolling 64 members and $76 in cash.

Members of the troop from the First United Presbyterian church, directed by Stewart Parker, their scoutmaster, reported 78 members and funds totaling $81.75 from the section between Fifth and Ninth streets.

Scoutmaster Harold Driggs and members of his troop from the Methodist Protestant church had the territory from Ninth to Fifteenth streets, enrolling 140 members and $149 in cash.

The Catholic Boy Scouts in charge of Grafton V. Dugan canvassed the territory from Fifteenth street to the western corporate limits, securing 99 members of $102 in cash.

The subscriptions included three for $5, one for $4 and 12 for $2 and 363 of the $1 type. The Scouts visited every home in the city.

The Red Cross committee today thanked members of the Scout troops and their scoutmasters.

"The Scouts lived up to their oath in being courteous, trustworthy, loyal, helpful, kind, obedient, cheerful, clean and reverend," said a member of the executive committee. "Everywhere they visited there was a word of praise for the 'Thank you' which the Scouts left.'

COVENANT CLASS MEETS WEDNESDAY

Women Need a Mild Laxative —Not a "Physic"

Countless girls and women now know how foolish and needless it is to "purge" and "physic" themselves to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, sallow skin, colds, or sour, gassy stomach.

They have found that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even for those heretofore chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate girl or woman. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

"LA BOHEME" WINS PLAUDITS

Latin Quarter Story on Screen at American.

La Boheme!

The gay abandon of artists and poets in the Latin Quarter; the effervescence of true Parisians!

The ardent love of a poet whose soul breathes romance—of a maiden whose every thought is a poem—a flower of France.

Hope—grief—despair—and a faith that passeth understanding!

"La Boheme," a story that has thundered down the ages—that has charmed millions, has come to the screen — a masterpiece as always. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first starring vehicle of the fairylike Lillian Gish, now playing at the American theatre, is a milestone in the art of the screen drama.

Lillian Gish has given the world "Romola," "The White Sister," and other great roles,—but she literally IS Mimi, waif of the art quarter; wistful idol of a poet's heart, whose last breath is a vow of undying love. She is inspiration and happiness—and untold woe. She is the embodiment of the tragedy of womankind.

The famous story was adapted from the Henri Murger novel, the original romance, rather than from the opera, which only used an episode in it—and the result is a story of dramatic power that those who know the opera would never suspect. It grips the audience with its mastery of human emotions, but never for an instant does it lose that evanescent spell of entertainment.

King Vidor's direction, faultless and artistic, was well expended on a remarkable cast. John Gilbert as Rodolphe, the romantic poet lover handles the most difficult role possible with that rare understanding that makes it life itself, and Renee Adoree is charmingly French as Musetta.

Roy D'Arcy adds to the laurels he won in "The Merry Widow," with his portrayal of the suave boulevardier, Paul, while Edward Everett Horton and George Hassell as Rodolphe's Bohemian friends are a rare comedy foil. Karl Dane as the kind hearted concierge, Frank Currier as the dignified theatrical manager, Rosita Marstini as the motherly wife of the concierge, add subtle touches of talent. The staging and photography are marvelous.

Coupon books giving reduced rates to traveling salesmen are being considered by India railway officials.

Women Find

Great comfort in this new hygienic pad that discards easily as tissue—no laundry

ON many important counts, women are deserting the old-time "sanitary pad."

There is a new way. A way that multiplies protection. A way, too, that solves the old problem and embarrassment of disposal.

It is called "KOTEX." Ends the insecurity of the old-time sanitary pad. Five times as absorbent! And deodorizes—ends ALL fear of offending.

✔ As easily disposed of as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." You ask for it without hesitancy.

Costs only a few cents. Eight in 10 better-class women employ it. Proves old ways an unnecessary risk.

Warm Comfort In Every Room
WITH THE LATEST IMPROVED
Anchor Hot Blast Heater

Wherever heating stoves are used the Anchor Hot Blast proves its superiority—proves that in down-right eficiency, in convenience, in actual economy, it is without an equal.

This superiority is not an accident, but is the result of many years of practical and scientific heating stove manufacture and practical tests.

The features of construction the Anchor Hot Blast Heater meet every requirement of heating-stove efficiency and long-time service. Highest quality materials, expert workmanship and scientific design combine to give a heating result unequalled in this type of heater.

The Anchor Hot Blast will burn any fuel—hard coal, soft coal, lignite, wood or coke, giving a uniform heat under perfect control, and slow economical combustion. Because of the hot-blast feature, the gases from soft coat are completely burned, making a ton of soft coal equal to a ton or more of expensive hard coal.

Careful attention has been applied to every detail of construction. And it is mounted absolutely airtight and remains airtight, because these details have been perfected and made practical.

In addition to a fine appearance that will last the life of the stove, the Anchor Hot Blast offers real home comfort and a saving of 25 per cent on your fuel bill.

Study these construction features. Know that your Anchor Hot Blast will save its cost out of the coal bin and pay dividends for years to come in warm home comfort and satisfaction.

All sizes 16, 18, 20 inch firebowl — make a small payment at time of purchase, you can pay through the coming year.

by Fred de Gresac. Suggested by Henri Murger's "Life in the Latin Quarter" Continuity by Ray Doyle and Harry Behn. Directed by KING VIDOR

Direct From Months of Crowded Houses on Broadway

A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer PICTURE

Palmer Smith of the New York Evening World after viewing the picture, wrote as follows:

"In 'La Boheme' King Vidor has scored another directorial triumph comparable to 'The Big Parade,' and comparable because 'La Boheme,' too, is one of the truly great motion pictures. At the Embassy theatre last evening an audience including practically the motion picture 'Who's Who' in New York was moved to tears by this simple story of a great love among the lesser loves. The pure tragedy of the final scenes left the spectators with lumps in their throats, as many sought out King Vidor and John Gilbert with words of appreciation and admiration.

Men's Work For Boys

"Everything Henry Ford does," says his friend, Thomas A. Edison, "is done for publicity." In this respect, as in others, Ford usually gets what he goes after, because his ideas are so striking that, whether right or wrong, they can soldom be ignored.

Nobody should want to ignore his latest project, which is fighting the devil in the younger generation by putting it to work.

"As an experiment," he announced the other day, his company has instructed its employment heads to take on 5,000 boys between the ages of 16 and 20 as quickly as possible, giving them men's work and "independence" wages.

He doesn't take any stock in the prevalent notion that boys and girls have degenerated, says Mr. Ford. But he does realize that the time following their release from school, before they take up any regular occupation, is a critical period. If they do not find satisfactory work after a short quest, they may drift into thriftless or evil ways. He airs to catch the boys and get them into self-respecting habits of industry before they start drifting.

It is doubtless good psychology to give a boy "man's work," if there is enough of it to go around. Also to pay the boy what a man would be paid for the same work. Boys tend to rise to such treatment, doing what is expected of them. Every boy likes to feel himself a man. It is an experiment that will be observed with widespread interest.

Money For Instruction

Yale's call for a large sum of money to be employed entirely in improving her instruction is greeted as a startling innovation in college fund campaigns. New buildings, stadiums, physical equipment of all sorts, are the usual allurements offered by institutions of higher learning in asking people to donate money to endowment funds.

The quality of instruction in Yale and elsewhere probably needs and deserves more attention and more money spent on it. As colleges and universities have felt the inrush of increasing numbers of students, classes have grown large. Personal contact between pupils and teachers has almost vanished. Youthful instructors with little experience, fresh from their own college days, have stepped into collegiate teaching positions.

More teachers, better equipped teachers, teachers with a special gift for research and others with a special gift for developing and inspiring their young pupils, are needed on the faculties of most colleges and universities. That one of the older and larger universities should recognize and act upon this need so frankly is a hopeful educational sign.

Foresighted Forestry

New York State's reforestation activities are gaining in size and effectiveness. The state conservation commissioner reports that 20,481,112 trees were distributed from state nurseries in 1926 as compared with 10,380,000 in 1925. This year's total planting, in fact, exceeds the combined plantings of 1924 and 1925, and a trifle more than equals the aggregate plantings in the first 14 years of the New York movement.

Where are all these trees being set out and cared for? All over the state. Municipalities, schools, industrial concerns get the trees from the state nurseries and plant them. The State itself is reforesting large tracts of land. Private landowners, too, are following the public example and setting out trees in unprecedented numbers. The Roosevelt Forest is such a public plantation of 2,000,000 trees set out this year on a 2,000-acre tract.

Along with the planting of trees goes the development of better protection for them in the matter of fire control and prevention.

New York sets a fine example to every community or individual or family owning land suitable for tree-planting.

The Hardy Sex

Women don't complain about the cold half so much as men," says a prominent physician.

And this in spite of the fact that they wear lighter clothing, and less of it.

The mystery used to be explained by the theory that women were upholstered with layers of fat, like whales or seals, and so didn't feel the cold so much. That theory hardly holds water at a time when women, by starvation diet, are making themselves thinner than men for fashion's sake.

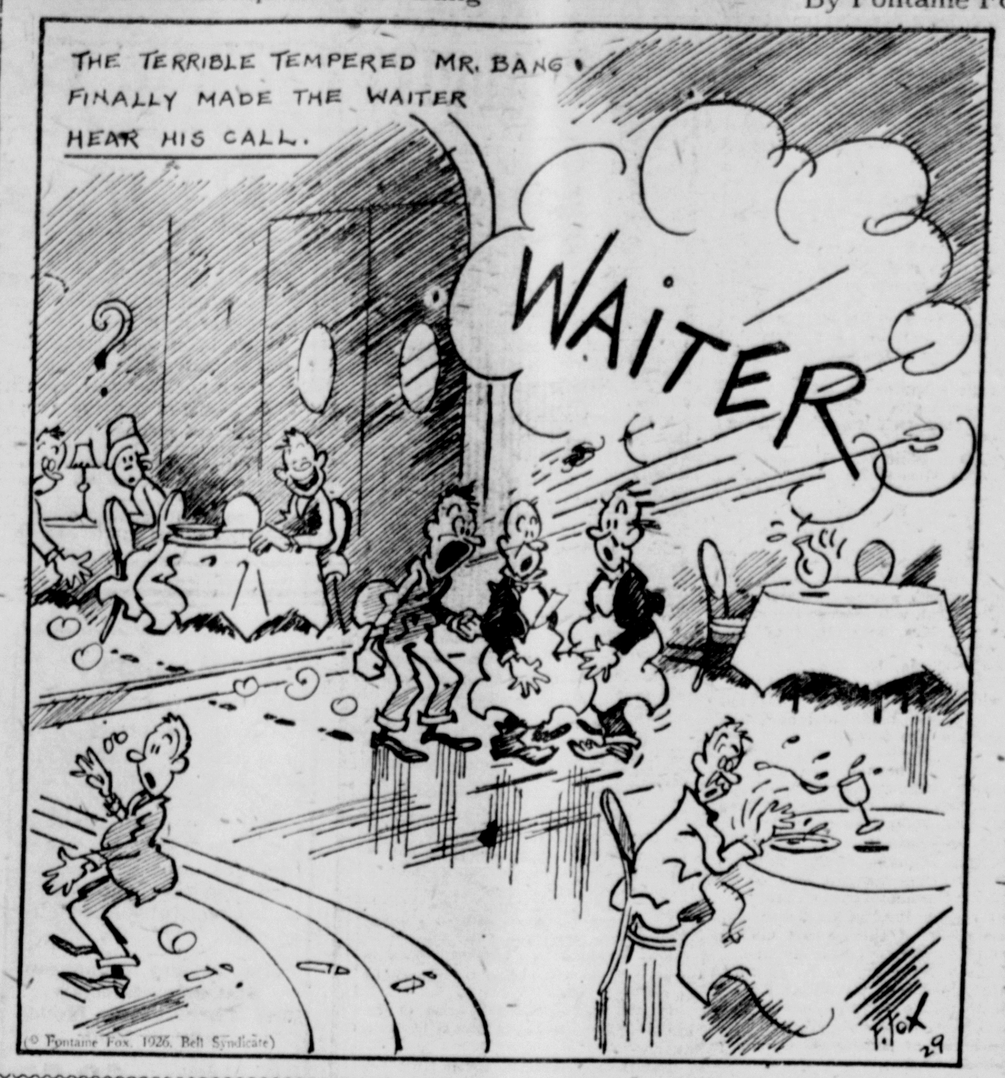

We're driven to admit that women are naturally hardier than men physically, or else have more courage.

A bridge in Medford, Ore., is found to be resting on piers of gold quartz. Gold makes a better basis for currency than for bridges. First thing we know, they'll be singing, Medford bridge is falling down."

We seem to have incurred a lot of unpopularity by going into war, and would have incurred a great deal more if we had stayed out of it.

The war, after all, has not been fought in vain. There is peace at last in Marie's entourage.

The Terrible Tempered Mr. Bang— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Diary of a modern Pepys: Up and a fine sun shining and set out to walk meeting Frank Case, the inn keeper, and he told of his stay in Europe and also saw Somerset Maugham idling before a window and was tempted to speak with him, admiring his writings greatly.

Home at my stint and Anita Loos enroute to California, came, and sat awhile and a brilliant lady she is. Casting my accounts I find myself without debts but with little put by which is a pity yet I sometimes feel happier harassed by financial worries.

In the evening to a dinner and talked to Colonel E. M. House about Texas, a state that interests me greatly so much so I have acquired a home there and expect to occupy it in old age. So to bed.

Broadway was recently regaled with details of a terrific early a. m. battle in which a highly exploited stage beauty received a moused eye. Amazonian ladies are numerous along the Playful Path. They swing from the ankle with the agility of a Dempsey.

It used to be when a lady felt her dignity had suffered in a public place she withdrew in tears and as a final rebuke quit speaking to the offender. Today suffering such an effront, she will leap from the table to claw, punch and bite or perhaps bend a bottle over some bobbed head.

There are any number of Broadway women, beautiful in their fleshy way, who are known as scrappers and when they show signs of temper there is a white faced silence and a lot of conciliatory petting. Cafes would rather have men battle than women.

Men are easily separated in such quarrels and with a few more drinks probably snap into a waltz. The female of the species differs. Once she has determined to battle she is difficult to stop and will likely turn on anyone who interferes.

A group of football enthusiasts arriving on a special car a few weeks ago brought along one of the characters of their small town—an amiable half wit. Somehow he got separated from them and wandered about New York streets in a fog of bewilderment. When finally found it was discovered he had not eaten for three days and had developed symptoms of pneumonia from exposure. There is something cruel about such a lark.

In our town Silly Joe has roamed the streets for more than 50 years. They smile at him behind his back but there isn't a man in town who wouldn't fight to save him from mistreatment.

A spendthrift New Yorker is reported to have paid a fat fee to have a sky writer trace the name of his girl friend against the clouds while she looked on admiringly. That's money going up in smoke with a vengeance.

Two manicure girls in Wall Street have retired with comfortable fortunes made from market tips given them by customers. An assistant hotel manager recently returned to Cheko-Slovakia after three years in New York with $190,000. He gave his first $1,000 to a broker who lived in the hotel and the fortune resulted. These are, of course, high lights in speculation. The deep shadows are the growing thousands who lose all and drift to despairing poverty.

Despite warnings and exposures of worthless stocks, shady brokers can afford to chuckle. The public continues to buy two billions worth a year. Burnt children in Wall Street are not afraid of the fire. They romp back for fresh blisters. One of the shrewdest of fake stock manipulators spend $100,000 a year merely to send glittering mail bait to suckers.

My Favorite Stories

A WARNING WORD TO A FRIEND.

Bob Loftus, a friend of mine out in Cleveland, has relayed this one to me:

According to Loftus, two Irishmen, newly landed, got jobs as laborers in a small machine shop on the second story of a loft-building, so-called, on the lowest West Side of New York. Under the fire regulations smoking by the operatives was not permitted while they were on duty. During their first morning in their new place one of the green hands, whose name was Donlan, craved a few comforting whiffs from his pipe. He voiced his desire and a friendly fellow employee confided to him that in such cases it was customary to ask leave of the foreman to go to the washroom and there to steal a clandestine smoke.

Thus advised, Donlan approached his boss and inquired the whereabouts of the washroom.

"Go down the hall," said the foreman, "and take the first turn to the right, and the second door you come to after that is the door to the lavatory."

Donlan undertook to follow instructions but he made a mistake. In the darkness he took a turn to the left instead of the righthand turn and opening a second door stepped into the elevator shaft and struck with a bump on the ground floor.

Presently he came back upstairs. He was sweeping up rubbish when O'Day, his buddy, asked him where the washroom was. O'Day also felt the need of the solace of tobacco.

Donlan gave him the direction as he remembered it and as O'Day turned to go he called out to him:

"But say, Larry, look out for the top step—it's a son-of-a-gun!"

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Production of Precious Stones.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Somebody is always taking the joy out of life with dismal prophecies. Not long ago a warning was sounded to the effect that the population of the world was increasing so rapidly that in a comparatively short time enough food could not be produced to feed all the people.

A little later came the petroleum scare. Oil and its products were being consumed at such a rate that the world's supply would be exhausted in seven or eight years. A new fuel would have to be invented for automotive vehicles to take the place of gasoline, or people would have to return to the good old natural engine that operated on oats and hay.

Then came the distressing news in the form of a report that there was in prospect a serious shortage in the production of diamonds. This was almost enough to create a panic among chorus girls and queens who depend upon a steady output of the premier gem in order to keep them supplied with bracelets, anklets, tiaras, crowns, stomachers and the like. Also it was a severe jolt to the marriage business. How can folks become engaged without solitaires, or married without the narrow jeweled bands that have superseded the old balloon tire type of wedding ring?

Happily, however, the report about the failure of the diamond crop was erroneous. It is true that the sales for 1925 exceeded the output by a substantial amount, but that is explained by the steadying of the market by the new diamond syndicate, which was interested in having the excess yield of the previous year absorbed.

In fact, the Union of South Africa, which contiaues to be the leading producer of diamonds has at present known reserves that are sufficient to keep up the supply for a hundred years or more. During 1925 the Union produced about 70 per cent of the value of the world's production of diamonds, and if the mandated territory of Southwest Africa be included, the proposition is raised to over 81 per cent.

Diamonds By the Ton.

Diamonds are valued and sold by the carat, but the mines of the Union of South Africa have produced them by the ton. Production began about 60 years ago, in 1867, to be exact, and since that time the total production has amounted to approximately 40 tons, valued at more than $1,250,000,000. If there are no more new discoveries in that territory, which is almost inconceivable, the visible supply will last for a century or more. And 40 tons of diamonds, it has been estimated, would make more than 200,000,000 fair-sized engagement rings.

George Frederick Kunz, of New York, who is recognized as one of the world's leading experts on precious stones, says that the jewel market at present is on the up and up. There has never been a greater demand for large, choice gems than at the present time, he says, especially for ring stones and single stones, whether a diamond, sapphire, ruby, or emerald, in counter-distinction to clusters and other ornaments. The emerald cut and square-cut diamonds are especially desired and stones to more than 20 carats are being worn.

This would not have been the case a dozen years ago, says Mr. Kunz. He might have added that there are numerous families in which 20-carat diamonds, however fashionable they may be, are not being worn now and never will be worn.

But in explaining what is the mode, the expert says that in 1925 the tendency to wear large single-stone diamonds in preference to groups has been more than counterbalanced by the sale of the small stones in jewel bracelets. Never have so many bracelets been worn and so many worn at one time, exceeding even a dozen on one arm, and in turn varying from a single row of stones to bracelets of more than an inch and a quarter in width. These are worn in connection with ruby, sapphire, and emerald bracelets, all colors on one arm, making a space of from four to six inches of solid jeweling.

Queen Marie of Rumania was reported on one occasion during her tour of the United States to have worn so many bracelets on one arm that it was in effect gauntleted from wrist to elbow. What the queen did, other women will be doing, if they can garner the gems to make the splurge.

Imports Show an Increase.

Mr. Kunz compiles the statistics of precious stones every year, not only on production, but on imports into the United States. For 1925 the import figures totaled $75,270,956, of which about $60,000,000 was in diamonds. Pearls constituted an item of roughly $6,800,000, other precious and semi-precious stones came to almost $5,000,000, and imitation precious stones that were dutiable amounted to more than $2,000,000.

The total diamond production for the year was 4,238,128 carats, valued at 11,853,128 pounds sterling. It will thus be seen that the United States alone supplied a greater market for diamonds in 1925 than the total diamond production. Next to the Union of South Africa the Belgian Congo with

Dandruff Is a Pity

By Edna Wallace Hopper

When I see dandruff on a man or woman's shoulder I want to say:

Dear sir (or dear lady), that will ruin your hair. It will form a scale to clog the scalp, to stifle hair roots. Then hair may wither and fall out. It may lose its color and grow gray.

Look at my hair. It is thick and lustrous, more luxuriant than 40 years ago. I have never known falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray. Just because French experts, years ago, gave me ways to combat dandruff, to stimulate and tone the scalp.

I had those methods all combined in a single preparation. All toilet counters now supply it as Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth. It is highly concentrated, so one needs but little. I apply it with an eyedropper directly to the scalp. Just enough to dampen the scalp. It takes but one minute daily, and results are what you see.

I know that many ways are offered to fight dandruff and promote the hair. But I know that nothing excels Hair Youth. No one wants anything better.

Get a bottle today. You will see great results in one night. You will know at once that my Hair Youth does what you want done. 50c and $1.00 with eye dropper.

Don't Risk Pneumonia By Neglecting a Cold

If you have a cough or cold, don't neglect it during this pneumonia weather. A cough or cold paves the way for pneumonia because it irritates the linings of throat, chest and bronchial tubes, often the lungs themselves, if neglected too long. And it is in these inflamed linings—when a neglected cold has broken down your resistance—that dreaded pneumonia is quickest to start—often proving fatal in a few days.

Don't just dread pneumonia! Take measures to prevent it, by getting rid of a threatening cough or cold immediately—before pneumonia starts to develop.

By its powerful double action, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral quickly breaks up coughs and colds. With the very first swallow you feel its comforting, healing warmth. Quickly and unfailingly it goes straight to the seat of danger, penetrating through and through the irritated membranes. The soothing, healing powers of this hospital-tested medicine are absorbed by the linings of throat, chest and bronchial tubes just as ink is absorbed by a blotter. This is why Ayer's Cherry Pectoral so quickly stops the cough, drives out the cold and brings sure, lasting relief.

If "pneumonia" has developed call your doctor at once. If it has not developed, but you have a threatening cough or cold, take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once! Keep your throat, bronchial tubes and lungs healthy and strong. At all druggists, 60c, twice as much, $1.00. sp34o

By SAMUEL MERWIN

By Samuel Merwin Released Through Central Press Assn

SYNOPSIS.

Julian Reed is wandering southern California in his little roadster. He is aimless and amiable. At luncheon in a small restaurant he meets, by chance, a charming, rather wistful young woman. She has missed connections with a troupe of vagabonding actors and he offers, in spite of his natural bashfulness, to drive her to the troupe's next stopping place, La Jolla. She accepts his offer. He tries to "explain" himself. He has money, but is suffering from a bad case of "dual personality." He is obviously greatly bothered about something, some conflict within himself. She, like Julian, is from the East. They overtake and pass the trucks bearing the rest of the troup. As they stop for dinner, the others come in. Julian meets Watt, the chief of the "Wayside Theatre;" Sadie, an ex-chorus girl trouper, and the rest of the cast. Sadie is attracted to him. She tells him how Hester risked everything to try for the leading role in a movie of a play written by "Robert Johns," failed and joined the troupe as a last resort. That night, after the performance, Julian and Hester, in his car, confide in one another and Julian kisses Hester. But next morning she learns of his financial help to Watt, is angry and will have nothing to do with him. Watt offers him a half interest in the enterprise for $4,000 and he accepts. Then he goes to Hollywood. While there he buys a snappy little roadster and new clothes preparatory to interviewing the Interstellar Picture company. In the meantime Watt is to give a dinner to the troupe, introducing a new member, a college boy.

CHAPTER TWELVE.

The director, indeed, was ascending the steps with an air of gracious majesty, smiling at the world. He wore a white stock about his neck, a flowing tie, a youthful outing coat that was belted in tightly, the white flannel trousers and white shoes. And he swung his walking stick jauntily. Beside him walked a tall youth in knickerbockers with big shoulders and the face of a boy.

"I'll say he's good-looking," observed Sadie, appraising the young man with expert eyes.

The troupe was soon assembled, a merry group buzzing with friendly chatter and eyeing the tall person of the director with shrewdly controlled curosity. Something far out of the routine was on the cards. But for once J. Murry Watt clung splendidly to his secret. He led the way with his stateliest stride to a private dining room overlooking the ocean where glass and silverware glittered on a long table.

Sadie arched her plucked eye-brows and murmured, "My word, but are'nt we the Ritzy troupe!" And Hester smiled a little. She moved sedately enough, but her pulse was high. However much the director's childish expasiveness might disturb her native Yankee thrift, she found it stirring after a long and dusty succession of wayside lunch roms, to yield her starved senses to this bit of luxury.

She was covertly watching the new young man. He moved with a springy step like an athlete. He had twinkling blue eyes and a nice smile. He wasn't self-conscious, or even shy; but stood quietly waiting, taking in the scene. She wondered how old he was. Studying from beneath lowered lashes the fresh glowing skin, she decided he could hardly be twenty. Seven or eight years younger than her small self. Probably he'd dismiss her as an old lady.

Without a thought of appearances, unawares that Sadie's sharp eyes were following her, she moved nearer him. She tried to tell herself that it would be merely decent to make him feel at home in this helter-skelter atmosphere, but the explanation of her conduct carried little weight.

She felt boldness in him, the casual good humor and the easy daring of youth, and it drew her like a magnet. He wasn't looking toward her. And she didn't speak. In her preoccupation with this alarming boldness in herself, she couldn't. And it came about, as the party settled down about the table to make an occasion of it—trust them to do that, these irresponsible children of the theater—that she found herself next to him. Their elbows touched.

The hand he rested on the table was big and brown, with a fine down growing on the back. The second finger was enlarged into a knot at the second joint, and the little finger bent in. Probably from baseball.

The others were laughing and shouting. Henry Harper, the wizened character man, had appropriated the entire dish of celery. His dry voice cracked protestingly above the gay sounds. She couldn't laugh with them, but sat very still, considering her own sober thoughts. Julian Reed's words sounded at her inner ear—"You have the very spirit of youth." What would this boy think?

The noise subsided. All had turned expectantly toward the head of the table. Surely their director had something of announcement to make. But his loosely Roman features merely expanded in a benign and inclusive smile as he spread his hands and said, in the familiar resonant tones: "We are here, my dear young people, for the excellent purpose of eating and making merry. The Wayside Theater expects every boy and girl to do his duty."

With another shout and a responsible little burst of applause, all fell to. All but Hester. She could only look down at her soup and finger her spoon. The young man hadn't glanced at her. Grace Appleby, who played character women, had his attention. Grace was thin, but had lovely red hair of which she made much. Hester was thinking that she didn't know his name, nor he hers.

Then she thought of the Robert Johns play, "Hunger." It dealt, that play, with a wistful girl who longed for beauty in a civilization of pig iron and oil and salesmanship and tariffs. It was a delicate tragedy of the human spirit. A year earlier she had felt at one with that girl. But she was changing. Bitterly she sensed that. Her own hunger was now a different thing . . . . for youth and love.

The strange shy hand of Julian Reed had torn away a veil from her native reserve. Yes, she was changing. She couldn't help it. Might as well accept the fact fatalistically. After all, hadn't it been that warm urge that had driven her at the beginning away from home and into this half-outlawed, emotional little cosmos of the theatre?

All solitary workers in the arts must be driven by that inner fire. It had to be an emotional business. And you couldn't forever keep the fire down. It would blaze up. Hers was a complicated nature, of course. She had to accept that fact. The common gallantry of the male creature repelled her. She knew that she could be capricious and resistant when stirred. Particularly when stirred. Perhaps is was best to take it all merrily and lightly, as Sadie did, as most of them did. But she wasn't light and had never been merry. It wasn't in her blood.

She was looking again, covertly, at the big hand that was so near here. Her eyes were filling. That wouldn't do. She straightened her little shoulders and made herself cat. Always up to now, she had been able to make herself do things. But now she might turn reckless.

"We haven't been introduced, Miss Kemble." At last he had turned to her. And he did know her name. "Perhaps you don't mind. I'm only a stage hand you know."

"Of course I don't mind.' She couldn't have designed that intimate tone of voice.

"My name is Joe Maybury."

He looked even more boyish when he smiled. She thought in a panic that she must be all of ten years his elder.

"Well," he chuckled—no lack of merriment there—"in a sense. In a sense."

She chuckled, too. It brought some relief. "I don't quite understand that."

"I was kicked my freshman year at Berkley. The dad wouldn't stand for it, so I went out on my own. Last summer. Been working around, here and there. It's amusing."

"It must be, if you can take it that way."

"Why not? There's time enough."

Time enough! Hester held her breath.

"By the way, Miss Kemble, I saw your show last night. Drove out from town with a crowd. You were wonderful."

She sat motionless, trying think. Finally, very low, she replied, "How awfully nice of you!"

"You should have heard our crowd talk. Didn't your ears burn?"

She smiled. She was glad that he, too, had lowered his voice.

"They're all wild about you. In that last play . . what's called?"

"'Better to Have Loved and Won.'"

"Yes, that one. One of the boys was so crazy to hang around and try to meet you tha the girls got mad. He just couldn't behave." And he chuckled again. "Honest, it was the dandiest performance I ever saw."

Her lashes drooped again, as she felt the color creeping into he cheeks. He knew how to talke to an actress, this very young Mr. Maybury. His assurance was unlimited. But then, boys were like that nowadays.

"I don't mind saying I was a little on the run myself. You did have me going. You don't mind my telling you right out?"

"I'm afraid I rather . . . . like it."

GRID BANQUET HERE TONIGHT

Chester High Football Squad Will be Guests of Club.

Plans have been perfected for the banquet to be given this evening at 6:30 in honor of the Chester high school football squad in the Masonic temple, First street.

The affair is being sponsored by the newly formed Purple and Gold club composed of citizens of the city who are interested in promoting high school athletics. Robert Douglass, president of the organization, will be the toastmaster.

The principal address will be delivered by Bo McMillin, coachof the Geneva college football team. Dinner will be served by members of Crescent chapter No. 49, Order of Eastern Star.

The event is expected to draw a large crowd including members of the high school faculty and board of education.

Chester high eleven has just closed one of the most successful football seasons in its history. The team won the championship of Hancock county by trimming New Cumberland last Thursday at the county seat. It scored a victory over Toronto and lost a hard fought game to East Liverpool.

COUNTY FACES CORN QUARANTINE

The European corn borer, the latest pest to invade West Virginia and threaten its products with quarantine has been discovered in portions of the northern panhandle and how extensively its ravages there have been awaits determination by further investigation.

The state department of agriculture at Charleston has received this information from W. E. Rumsey, its entomologist, who says that it has been found in Hancock county and may appear in other of the Panhandle counties upon investigation. Although no official notice of a federal quarantine has been received it is expected that Hancock county, at least, and possibly the others, will be included in the quarantine area that already covers a number of counties in Ohio and Pennsylvania, from which shipment of corn is banned.

The West Virginia corn crop in 1926 had a value of $18,469,000 of which about $700,000 was represented by the crop produced in the northern panhandle counties. The value in Hancock county was computed as $80,000, the least of the four counties, the values in the others increasing to $111,000 in Brooke, $127,000 in Ohio and reaching a maximum of $392,000 in Marshall county.

The only other federal quarantine now in force in the state is that directed against the potato wart and applied to Tucker and Randolph counties.

Fancywork Club to Meet.

Members of the Franklin Fancywork club will meet Wedesday afternoon with Mrs. Allen Pugh at her home, 208 East Third street, East Liverpool. Officers will be elected at this session.

CONTRACTOR ASKS RECEIVER

Dissolution Suit Filed by Martin McLaughlin.

Martin McLaughlin, through his attorneys, Lones, Hill & Davidson, has filed a petition in common pleas court asking for the appointment of a receiver, and accounting and dissolution of the contracting partnership, Tatgenhorst & McLaughlin, of which he is a member.

The plaintiff charges that there has been no accounting on road contracting jobs which the company has completed in recent years. The petition declares that the company made a profit of $14,000 on the West Eighth street improvement in East Liverpool last spring and that the plaintiff has not received his share of the net earnings.

Carl Tatgenhorst, the other member of the firm, claims that McLaughlin signed an agreement to sell his interests in the company to Tatgenhorst last October 7 for $2,000.

Brookes & Thompson, of East Liverpool and George T. Farrell, Lisbon, have been engaged to represent Tatgenhorst in the action.

That Same Old Stomach Distress!

Curtise, Ohio.—"I had stomach trouble all my life until a little over a year ago. I tried everything. At last I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and the 'Pleasant Pellets' and am glad to say I am not bothered any more—I feel good. I thought there was no cure for it, several doctors told me it couldn't be cured, but I found out it could. I doctored about eighteen years without results and am glad to say that Dr. Pierce can cure what others cannot. I wish to have this printed so it will help other sufferers. There are several people around here taking the 'Discovery' since they saw what it did for me."—Otto F. Shaneck, Route 1.

ARRESTS FORECAST IN ALLEGED GIGANTIC RUM PLOT

BANK OFFICER AND 50 OTHERS ARE INDICTED BY U. S. COURT

Conspiracy to Smuggle $900,000 Cargo is Charged.

BOSTON INQUIRY

Accused Banker Says Allegations are "Deliberate Lie."

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Arrests in New York and Boston were forecast today in connection with the alleged gigantic bootlegging plot, uncovered by federal prohibition authorities.

Lewis H. Rothchild, 28, youngest bank vice president in the United States and former Andover and Princeton football player, is named with fifth others in indictments, according to word from New York.

A steamship warped into a Boston dock last July, laden apparently with cement. The steamship was the Cretan and she carried an enormous alcohol cargo. The uncovering of the cargo was the beginning of the uncovering of the alleged gigantic scheme.

The fifty-one persons indicted are charged with conspiracy to smuggle into the United States 83,000 gallons of alcohol, valued at $900,000.

Will Fight Case.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Lewis H. Rothchild, vice president of the Chelsea Exchange bank, who is under indictment with fifty other men charged with operating a huge rum ring doing business on a million dollar scale, today characterized the charges as "a deliberate lie."

At the Ritz Carlton the young banker stated that there was no foundation for the government allegations, and added that he would fight the case to the finish.

According to the authorities Rothchild was the head of the combine, which had important connections in Philadelphia, New Jersey and New York, with its base in Boston.

Two other members of the Chelsea bank were indicted. It is charged that the men planned to take up the alcohol and sell it at $4 a quart for a total of $5,472,000, which would return them a profit of about $3,000,000.

Citizens of Maine Go to Polls to Name Member of Senate

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 29. — There was every indication of a heavy vote as citizens went to the polls today to cast their ballots in a special election, which will decide the balance of power in the United States senate.

It was a special election to fill the seat made vacant by the death of Senator Bert M. Fernald. Arthur R. Gould, prosperous business man of Presque Isle, a Republican, was opposed by Fulton L. Redman, Democrat, a lawyer with offices in New York and homes in Bar Harbor and Newark, N. J.

Charges that Gould and his friends spent huge sums in the primary campaign have made the result of the election in doubt. The Ku Klux Klan, a strong factor in the Pine Tree state, was said to have been behind the bringing of the charges and to have decided to support Redman. After a hearing Secretary of State Ball decided that the charges were unfounded.

Governor Ralph O. Brewster, of Maine, Republican, refused to campaign for Gould.

Tris Speaker Quits Cleveland Indians And National Game

CLEVELAND, Nov. 29.—Tris Speaker, veteran manager of the Cleveland Indians, who lead the club to an American league pennant and a world series title, resigned today, and announced his retirement from baseball.

"I submitted by resignation to the club management today," Speaker said. "I am retiring from baseball, and I will enter business. I have several good offers, and am considering them all, but at present the one to become associated with Geometric Stamping company, of Cleveland, appears to be the best bet."

The big Texan denied that his resignation was caused by any differences with the owners of the club, and said that no proposal to reduce his salary, reported to be $50,000 a year, had been made.

Wealthy Widow, 65, And Her Chauffeur, 21, Secretly Married

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Society here was astounded today upon learning of the secret elopment last month of Mrs. Estella Woodward, wealthy widow of South Deerfield, Mass., and Herman Latourneau, her chauffeur. They were secretly married at Kingston, N. Y., on Oct. 6.

The bridegroom is 21 and Mrs. Woodward is 65. She is a cousin of Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James, whose millionaire husband is a well-known New York yachtsman.

Mrs. Latourneau has three children, all grown.

That's putting it mildly. Madame Kollontai believes in " a school of love" and that school "requires great delicacy of soul, attentive tenderness and psychological wakefulness." The woman of today, says this Russian lady, 'feel that marriage is a shackle even if it is an informal marriage without external bonds."

And the new woman makes more demands on her lover than did the old-fashion woman. 'She can forgive many slights, even infidelity which the old fashioned woman could not forgive, but she forgives no slight to her spiritual ego."

It will be hard for the new man to keep up with the new woman. This Madame Kollontai will learn from Brtish, French, German Italian and Norwegian history, that while marriage may be "a big strain on romance" as the wife grows pudgy and the husband grows dull, absence of marriage laws creates a greater strain.

Men have been caught, married, signed up, tied down, because the process is absolutely necessary to civilization. The strange thing is that modern women, not men should attack the marriage institution that with all its imperfections is the only hope of women and children.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Industrial stocks displayed an irregular tone at the beginning of trading today. Continuance of the 5 per cent call loan rate was a handicap to the rally in the speculative leaders, as also were the reports of curtailment in steel mills operations in the Mahoning valley. The steel stocks were freely offered in this period, and United States Steel lost more than a point at 149.

Firmness characterized the motor stocks. General Motors, Chrysler, Studebaker, Hudson and White Motor attracted considerable buying at a higher range of values. Phillips petroleum sold up more than a point to a new high at 54⅜, while Skelly and Marland Oil made fractional gains in a fairly active market.

After an early decline to 157, Baldwin Locomotive ran up briskly to above 160. Mack trucks and other speculative leaders which had felt the weight of profit taking and shortly selling in the first period also recovered the bulk of their early losses.

INDIFFERENCE OF MAN GREAT TRAGEDY, SAYS REV. O. A. NEWLIN

Evangelist Speaks in United Presbyterian Church.

Delivers Address at Women's Meet in Baptist Church.

Man's indifference, culminating in spiritual lethargy and due to a lack of acquaintanceship with God was characterized by Rev. O. A. Newlin, evangelist now holding a series of meetings at the First United Presbyterian church, as the world's greatest tragedy on Sunday evening when he addressed a large assemblage of persons that included many from other congregations in the city.

Earlier in the day he had thrice spoken before. He established an evangelistic precedent by addressing a men's service in the afternoon and at its conclusion rushing to the First Baptist church where he spoke again to women only. "A Successful Man's Failure" was the theme of the former and "Polished Corner Stones" that of the latter. In the morning he had discussed "The Essence of the Gospel."

Tall of form with commanding appearance Rev. Mr. Newlin strongly impressed his hearers by his mastery of his chosen subjects in all of which he exhibited unquestioned knowledge of the truths he essayed to impart.

Living in Winona Lake, Ind., and associated with Dr. W. E. Biederwolf in the conduct of the famous Bible school there, Rev. Mr. Newlin is disclosed as an intimate friend of "Billy" Sunday, Homer Rodeheaver, James Heaton, "Bob" Jones and other well known personages who have in recent years held outstanding revivals in East Liverpool.

During the majority of Sundays in December he is to take Dr. Biederwolf's place in a steel tabernacle at Indianapolis, Ind., which will seat 10,000 persons. The latter up to the first of the year will hold services in West Palm Beach, Fla.

Dr. Biederwolf, he said, has just completed an engagement in the Seattle, Wash., church of which the famed Dr. Mark Matthews is the well known pastor.

Having been an evangelist for years Rev. Mr. Newlin will hold revivals at Bluffton, Ind.; Muskogen, Okla., and Dennison, Ill., early next year, while also acting as the chairman of the speaking committee of the Winona Lake Bible Conference which arranges the presence each of the world's outstanding clergymen at this gathering as an inspiration for ministers who meet to study and spend their vacations at the same time during the summer months.

Service, starting promptly at 7:30 o'clock, will be held this week, except on Saturday night. Rev. Mr. Newlin's subject for this period will be as follows: Monday—"The Source of Permanent Joy;" Tuesday—"The Pearl of Parables;" Wednesday—"The Most Prevalent Sin;" Thursday—"The Unpardonable Sin;" Friday—"The Futility of Excuses."

In charge of the music of the campaign is Prof. John C. Usher, of Emsworth, Pa., who daily will make the trip to and from Pittsburgh where he is engaged in business.

With Miss Wilda Warner he sang a duet at the evening service: "My Saviour and My Lord." In the afternoon the church's male chorus augmented by Messrs. Oliver Johnson, Phillip Fuhrer and Norman Pilgrim, of the First Presbyterian choir sang a series of songs. The regular choral organization of the congregation contributed the anthem: "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" by Campbell.

The introductory prayer of the night service was made by the pastor Rev. L. W. Davidson and the invocation was by Rev. Mr. Cheeks, pastor of the Calcutta United Presbyterian church.

Preliminary to the sermon of the evening Rev. Mr. Davidson stressed the individual responsibility of the church's members as to their duty during the revival period. "It is as important that you attend and bring others needing to hear the gospel," he said, "as it is for the evangelist to preach."

During a brief reading of the Scriptures Rev. Mr. Newlin pointed out the prominence of Godly invitation that ran the entire length of the Bible. "God's first invitation to man and noted in Genesis was to Noah," he said, when "'The Lord said unto Noah, Come into the Ark.' And the last, a royal one, between which were hundreds of others is chronicled in the concluding passages of Revelation: 'And the spirit and the bride (the church) say come. Let him that heareth, who is athirst; let all who will come and take the water of life freely.' He also alluded to Jesus' invitation, 'Come for all things are now ready.'"

The words: "Acquaint now thyself with God and great good will come to thee" formed Rev. Mr. Newlin's evening text.

"It has been truly said 'the secrets of the Lord are with those who know him,'" affirmed the evangelist. With such an acquaintance there is a peace that elsewhere can not be found. It pays to serve Jesus. The cry: 'O that I might where to find him' was not one of despair, but rather that of hope. It is a strange fact that man, created in his image, does not know God."

He told of an immigrant to America walking along the railway tracks with a pack upon his back. When ordered off the right of way he produced what he thought was a permit to do so. The words on it "good for first class package" were explained to him to be a ticket for a train upon which he later completed his long journey to a distant point.

"There are people in East Liverpool like that" he pointed out. "They carry even heavier burdens than the ignorant immigrant yet they do not know the 'great burden bearer' to whom they would find instant relief if they would but know Him well enough to act upon the injunction: 'Cast thy burden upon the Lord.'"

How neighbors sometimes refuse to permit kindly intentioned folks to penetrate their reserves and build a proper acquaintanceship that would be fraught with mutual good was indicated. "You would not persist in such an effort after repeated refusals to your better natured intentions," he said. "But God has tried for years to enter many of your hearts. In childhood, at marriage, when children came, in prosperity and adversity 'behold He stood at the door of your heart and knocked."

The 3:00 o'clock afternoon talk to women at the First Baptist church was well attended. All in all the evangelist, speaking four times, put in a most strenuous day.

PROGRESS MADE IN BUSINESS DURING YEAR

Restoration of Soundness Out of Post-War Chaos.

OUTLOOK IS O. K.

American Loans and Investments Total $1,250,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Checking up the loose ends of a world economic survey for 1926, experts at the treasury and commerce department declared today that a recapitulation discloses that out of post-war chaos is gradually coming a restoration of soundness in governmental and business conduct.

This year was described as productive of the most important economic progress since the war. American officials feel that the groundwork has been established for still more progress toward stability in 1927.

Among the outstanding developments of 1926 were:

1—Removal of trade barriers bringing about a more even flow of commerce throughout Europe.

2—Currency stabilization of restoration of gold standard in most of the trading countries.

3—Continued flow of American capital abroad, aiding in rehabilitation.

Officials estimated that American loans and direct investments abroad in 1926 will amount to $1,250,000,000, of which about half is accounted for by European governments or corporations. There is reason to believe that this rate will be contined for some years to come.

Secretary of Navy Named in $250,000 Suit for Damages

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Suit for $250,000 damages against Secretary of the Navy Wilbur was filed today by Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, U. S. N., retired, for alleged infringement on his patent on "a method and apparatus for delivery of submarine torpedoes from airships."

Named with Wilbur in the suit were Rear Admirals Charles B. McVay, Jr., William A. Moffett, and Claude C. Bloch.

Fiske declared he perfected what is now known as the "torpedo-plane" and that the navy appropriated it, despite patent rights issued to him in 1912.

CARDINALS' PAY IS NOW $850

ROME, Nov. 29.—Due to the increased cost of living the pope has doubled the salary of cardinals, from 20,000 to 40,000 lire a year, approximately $850.

There has been an agitation for some time for an increased allotment for the cardinal attached to the Vatican, it being maintained that many of them were unable to secure more than a bare existence upon their salaries.

ACCUSED WIDOW COOL AS SHE FACES SIMPSON

Black Garbed Defendant Meets Verbal Barrage.

VOICE IS LOW

By James L. Kilgallen.

COURTHOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall resumed the witness stand at the Hall-Mills rial at 10:16 this morning for cross-examination.

A cool, indifferent expression on her pallid face, the black garbed defendant calmly surveyed Prosecutor Alexander Simpson as he launched his verbal barrage.

"Did you spend part of 1922 at Mannesquan (a small town near Asbury park)?" was Simpson's opening question.

"No," she replied in a very low voice.

"Did you spend any time at any shore resort with Rev. Hall that year?"

"No."

Used Word "Casualty."

"You say you never saw anything suspicious between Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills in the church and you attended the church every Sunday?"

"No, I did not," she said firmly.

"Did you say during the investigation in 1922 at New Brunswick in describing your movements that you 'had not slept on the night of the crime?'"

"Yes."

"Didn't you use the word 'casualty' when you called up the police inquiring about your husband the morning after the murder—didn't you say 'were there any casulties?'"

"Yes."

"Didn't you say on Saturday that the word "casualty" meant a violent death?"

"No."

"What time did you get up on Friday morning, the day after the crime?"

"Between 6 and 7."

"What was the first time you saw Mr. Mills after that?"

"Between 7 and 9 a. m.

"How did you meet him (Mills)?"

"In front of the church."

"What did you say to him?"

"I just talked things over with him."

"Don't you remember saying to Mr. Mills that 'they had been together and had been murdered?"

"I did not say that."

"What did you say then to Mr. Mills?"

"I made no such statement," she retorted.

Spectators Listen Intently.

The spectators, occupying every room and choking the aisles, listened intently to every word.

"You say you never saw anything suspicious between Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills?"

"Never."

"You saw a concealed camera in court here Saturday and asked the court to remove it."

"It wasn't concealed."

"Yet you were living with your husband every day and never saw anything to arouse your suspicions."

"No, never."

Her replies were very low. At times she was barely audible.

"Do you now say," continued Simpson relentlessly, "that you told no one in the prosecutor's office that you told Mr. Mills 'they've been together and they've been murdered?'"

"I didn't say that."

"Now you say you telephoned Mr. Hall's sister the day after your husband failed to come home—now where did you telephone from?"

"From the drug store half a mile from my house."

"What time?"

"About 10 a. m."

"Who did you telephone to?"

"Mrs. Voorhees."

"What did you say to her?"

"That Dr. Hall had gone out and had not returned."

"Why didn't you tell the police on Friday?"

"I told Mr. Florence to notify them for me."

Met Singer's Husband.

Mrs. Hall then testified that shortly afterward both Dr. Hall's sisters, Mrs. Paul Bonner and Mrs. Francis Voorhees, arrived at the station at New Brunswick about noon—and went to her house.

She said she went down to the station and on her way back saw James Mills and learned that his wife was missing.

"When you learned that both Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were missing why did you 'put them together' when you talked with James Mills?"

"I did not."

"If your husband was out all night, why did you think he was out with Mrs. Mills?"

"Mrs. Mills was the last person whom he said he was going to see."

Her Glance Seems Deadly.

"All day Friday you were waiting for news?"

"Yes."

Mrs. Hall's eyes narrowed as she regarded Simpson. Her voice was low, but firm. Her glance seemed deadly as she regarded the little prosecutor.

"Why did you sit at home all day the next day waiting for news?" demanded Simpson.

Robert H. McCarter, senior counsel for the defense, objected and a hot legal tilt followed.

The objection was sustained.

By now Mrs. Hall seemed somewhat laggard and tired. Simpson's questions came with the rapidity of a machine gun.

"You knew where the hospital were in New Brunswick?"

"Yes."

"And you had an automobile?"

"Yes."

Never Went to Hospitals.

"And you let the day drag by, you fearing your husband had been hurt and never went near the hospitals?"

"No, I had telephoned the police."

"Why did you say on September 26, 1922, that 'they were both out together and met the same fate?'" Simpson reiterated.

"I don't recall saying that," she said quietly.

She ignored Simpson when he said "now come on Mrs. Hall; give me an answer one way or the other. We haven't got all day. Let's get out of here."

"Did you testify under oath that the thought occurred to you that they might have been together and that they might have met the same fate?" Simpson again asked.

"I told you," said Mrs. Hall wearily, "I knew Mr. Hall was going to see Mrs. Mills about the hospital bills and I knew that they were together that evening."

"You knew where your husband's body was after it was found Saturday?"

"Yes."

"Yet you never visited the undertaker's parlors or made any effort to have the body brought to your home?"

"I was told it was wiser that the body remain at the undertakers."

"Yet this husband, to whom you were devoted, whom you never suspected of a disloyal act, who had met a violent death, but whose hands you did not know, you let his body lie at the undertaker's from Saturday to Monday, and be buried without regular pall-bearers?"

(A previous witness testified the carriage drivers acted as pallbearers.)

"I don't remember whether there were pall-bearers."

Sought Lawyer's Advice.

"Why did you want advice from a lawyer 10 days after the crime, if you weren't involved?" suddenly shouted Simpson.

"I thought it was necessary to have such advice," she replied evenly.

Mrs. Hall glaced at the clock. She seemed to be impatient with the long drawn ordeal. She was not weakening, however. Simpson's repetition of questions and his insistence upon answers the way he wanted them angered her. Her manner became increasingly disdainful.

"Now Mrs. Hall, 10 days after the murder you engaged Mr. Pfeiffer. What advice did you want, advice could not restore the husband who you say was everything in the world to you?"

"What should be done about it? A murder had been done. I wanted advice about what should be done."

"By the authorities?"

"Yes."

"Did you omit to state in your first statement to Totten that you came in early Friday morning? At what part of your recital did you put that in?"

"I was in a very agitated state of mind. He told me a woman had been seen coming into my home Friday morning and I said 'yes, I was that woman.'"

"You knew nothing of a love affair between your husband and Mrs. Mills?"

"No."

"Did you ever look over his shoulder while he was writing to Mrs. Mills and see what he was writing?"

"I never did."

Mrs. Hall's Denial

that some one else got a letter left in a hymn book for him?"

Asks About Trip to Italy.

Simpson asked her about her trip to Italy after the tragedy and then asked her, if on her return, she had said she "hoped the pig woman (Mrs. Jane Gibson "eye-witness" of the crime who identified Mrs. Hall and her brothers as having been on the scene) was dead."

"I did not say that," she said firmly.

The relentness prosecutor wanted to know if at that time she didn't also say that "the only mistake made was sending my coat away to be dyed; I should have burned it."

"I did not say that neither," replied Mrs. Hall, her narrowed eyes gleaming.

Simpson asked her if she had communicated with her brother, Henry Stevens, of Lavallette, N. J., the morning after her husband failed to come home. She said she did not.

Then the prosecutor showed her some letters and said: "Here are your letters to your brother. Did you ever write a single word to him about the man you loved dearly who had gone to death the September before?"

Her chief counsel, Robert H. McCarter, leaped to his feet objecting, asserting the letters "spoke for themselves." The court sustained objection.

Simpson asked her if the letters were her's and she replied that they were. The prosecutor had them marked for identification.

NELLIS FIRM GETS N. B. O. P. BUILDING JOB

Contract is Awarded for Two-story Addition.

BID IS $41,000

Seven Contractors Submitted Proposals to Committee.

Contract for the two-story brick addition to the Sixth street headquarters building of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters was awarded by the building committee and East Liverpool members of the executive board Saturday night to D. F. Nellis & Sons, local contractors. The bid was $41,000.

Nellis company was one of seven contracting firms to submit estimates. Their contract is for the building only and does not include the heating system, contract for which will be awarded later. Work will be started within the next few days.

Plans call for a structure having a frontage of 45 feet on Sixth street and extending through to Rural lane 130 feet deep. It will match the present one-story building on the site.

Four large rooms, each having an ante-room, will be on the second floor for use of the subordinate unions. An assembly hall for dances and social purposes will be on main floor back of the present offices. In the basement will be a kitchen, banquet room, heating plant and stock equipment quarters for The Potters' Herald, official organ of the Brotherhood.

Plans for the addition were prepared by J. C. Cunningham, Ikirt building architect, who will also supervise its erection.

not be used against him in a subsequent criminal proceeding.

Letter Also Admitted.

Government counsel contended the statute did not cover this particular case as Doheny had been a voluntary witness before the senate committee, and had given the story to the committee by his own volition.

Admitted along with the Doheny statement was the letter written to the senate committee by Fall in which he claimed he had borrowed the money in dispute and had never even approached Doheny or his associates.

Thus, the government placed before the jury conflicting statements by the two defendants and at the same time laid the foundation for its case.

Justice Cites Law.

Justice Hoehling, who, since last Friday has been considering the question of admissibility of this evidence, took three quarters of an hour to hand down his ruling. He went exhaustively into every phase of the law, for the defense objection was based on a section of the code over 70 years old, but never before applied to a criminal case.

Hoehling accepted the government views and regarded Doheny as a voluntary witness before the senate committee, who did not testify under compulsion. As for the Fall letter, the judge held it not even to be testimony in that it was not sworn to.

Frank J. Hogan, for Doheny, immediately noted an exception to all of the testimony and Wilton J. Lambert did likewise for Fall.

Fall's Letter Read.

Peyton Gordon, the district attorney, read to the jury the Fall letter.

In the letter Fall expressed surprise and some ire that the committee had been looking into his private affairs, but volunteered considerable information.

Justice Hoehling, referring to the letter in his ruling, said:

"If it be testimony then the giver of it, if any of its material statements be untrue, would remain subject to a prosecution for perjury under the provisions of section 859."

(This was the section under which the defense had declared the letter to be inadmissible.)

Winter Garden's Dance Team Comes to Ceramic in Revue

Earl and Marie Gates Added Attraction With Adolphe Menjou Picture, "The Ace of Cads."

The Earl and Marie Gates Revue, featuring the two dancing stars of Henry W. Savage's "Clining Vine Company" as an added attraction with the Adolphe Menjou picture, "The Ace of Cads," opened a three-day engagement at the Ceramic theatre today.

Earl and Marie Gates were one-time stars with Winter Garden revues, and also were featured several years ago in the Ziegfeld Midnight Frolic.

They have surrounded themselves with clever musicians and singers, and are offering an act of class, refinement and speed, together with a variety in music and general entertainment.

Adolphe Menjou has been a villain in many pictures. He has been the hero in others. But not until recently did he attempt playing both roles in the same vehicle. "The Ace of Cads" presents Menjou as the hero who purposely became a villain in the eyes of the girl he loved him. Paramount's popular star declares it the most remarkable character he has ever portrayed in that he plays the same episode twice, first as the hero and then as the villain.

This picturization of Michael Arlen's popular short story, directed by Luther Reed, proffers Menjou as a young English Guards lieutenant very much in love with Alice Joyce. A comrade, Philip Strange, "frames" him and Miss Joyce finds her fiance in a compromising situation. She breaks the engagement and marries Strange.

Twenty years pass. Menjou discovers the daughter of his former sweetheart, Suzanne Fleming, enamored of him. When the mother asks that he leave the child alone, he makes himself a cad—an ace of cads—by telling the girl a story.

Without using names, he depicts her father as the betrayed and himself the betrayer. One see Menjou and Strange performing the identical action of the earlier sequence with Menjou enacting the false friend.

Here is a novel idea, "the new twist," which stamps this picture as something distinctly different and unique.

A total of 65,487 officers of the Reserve Corps would be called to the colors in the combat branches of the army in case of war.

Aberdovey, Scotland, has prohibited the playing of golf on Sunday.

ROSE-MARIE BOOKED HERE

"Indian Love Call" at Ceramic on December 7.

"Rose-Marie" will sound her "Indian Love Call" at the Ceramic theatre for one day only, Tuesday, December 7.

The producer of "Rose-Marie," Arthur Hammerstein, has been particularly wise in using discretion when selecting his instrumentalists, because the score of the work is a delicate atmospheric piece of architecture and especially needs expert care. It is well provided with flowing melodies of the sort that follow the listener home after the curtain falls and linger pleasantly in the memory the next morning. It demands much from the violins and the harp—from the softened and muted brass. The accompaniments, frequently have a poetic lusciousness seldom in evidence among the light opera scores of the last few years. From beginning to end, there is evidence of a serious effort to produce music of quality while courting popularity. The person who is not pleased with the haunting "Rose-Marie" with "The Indian Love Call," with the virile, stirring rhythms of the song of the Canadian Mounted Police, and with "Totem Tom Tom" a ballet number that stands out for novelty, costuming and surprises, among the ballets of several seasons, we say the person who is not pleased with these things is exceedingly hard to satisfy.

"Rose-Marie" has a story. The scene for the first hour and a half is in the Canadian Northwest, then at Black Eagle's cabin where the action becomes tragic for a moment, and a little later on at Totem Pole Lodge and then to beautiful scenes in historic Quebec. The staging is fresh and gorgeously artistic, and the costumes in keeping with it are elaborate and are designed in fetching and striking color combinations.

To dignify this luxurious background Hammerstein has provided a splendid cast that includes Ethel Louise Wright, Paul Donath, Grace Wells, Charles Meakins, Peggy Pates, Frank Harrington, Karyl Kunkel, James Moore, Houston Richards, Neil Moore and over ninety others.

KEEP LIVER AND BOWELS REGULAR WITH "CASCARETS"

No more Headache, Bad Colds, sour stomach and constipation

Get a 10-cent box now.

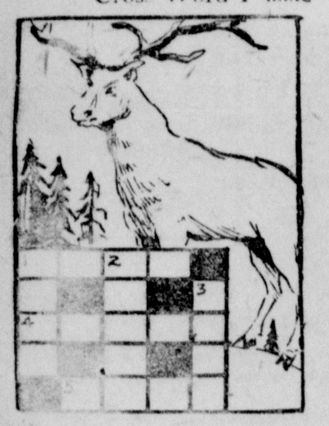

Most of the ills of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become cross, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, tongue coated, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle cleansing of the bowels—but don't try to force a nauseating dose of oil into the little one's already sick stomach—it is cruel, needless and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets Candy Cathartic which acts gently—never gripe or produce the slightest uneasiness—though they cleanse the little one's system, sweeten the stomach and put the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grown-ups in each package.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this gentle, thorough laxative which costs only 10 cents a box at any drug store.

New Directors Elected at Annual Meeting Held Saturday.

Charles Lemley of East Palestine and Earl Beddell of Berlin Center, Mahoning county, were elected directors for three years by the Columbiana Live Stock Co-Operative association at the annual meeting at the office of the county farm bureau Saturday afternoon.

Other directors who have held over are: E. Y. Gamble, Butler township; W. J. Hays, Hanoverton; Fred Schoeni, Knox township, and Charles Hull, Center township. The board of directors will meet at the farm bureau office this week for the purpose of organizing and electing officers.

Lieut. C. E. Rowland, former county agent, but now county agent located at Elyria, attended this meeting, as the association was formed during Mr. Rowland's term of office in Columbiana county.

A review of marketing conditions, the kind of stock that is in demand and the method of grading live stock for market, in order that top prices can be obtained and larger returns made shippers was given by L. C. Breidenbaugh, manager of the Producers' Cooperative Commission company at Pittsburgh, Pa., to which all stock from this county is shipped.

The annual report of County Service Manager Phil E. Heim, who has charge of all co-operative live stock shipping out of Columbiana county presented the following report:

Total cars shipped, 59.
Local shipments, 8.
Individual shippers, 637.
Cattle shipped, 892; net weight, 810,502 pounds.
Calves shipped, 200; net weight, 32,004 pounds.
Hogs shipped, 708; net weight 149,969 pounds.
Sheep shipped, 370; net weight, 34,660 pounds.
Total market weight, 1,026,685 pounds.
Gross market value, $56,885.01.
Freight, $2,313.56.
Total terminal expense, $4,536.63.
Net to shippers, $52,656.93.
Expense per cwt., 70.2c.
Shrink: Calves, 5.5 per cent; hogs, 3.8 per cent; sheep, 8.1 per cent; cattle, not given.

This report shows there was an increase of 60 per cent in the number of pounds of live stock shipped out of the county during the last fiscal year. Receipts for the previous year which totaled $34,674.41 were increased this year to $56,885.01, or an increase of about 40 per cent.

The shipping cost was reduced from 76.6 per hundred pounds in 1925 to 70.2 cents per hundred in 1926.

Money Appropriated.

County commissioners have appropriated under the state code, $1,500 to be paid to the Ohio State university for the support of the county extension agent, as the agent is the representative of the agricultural college and closely cooperating with the farm bureau. It was recently reported that the appropriation of $1,500 made by the commissioners was to be credited to the county farm bureau.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

At this meeting the grange made partial arrangements and appointed committees for the sixth annual farmers' institute to be held Dec. 14-15. The institute this year will be under the independent classification, sponsored as usual by the grange co-operating, also the county board of education, county board of health and the county farm bureau.

During the meeting on December 8, an oyster supper will be served by the women members. This event will be in charge, however, of Past Master Denver S. Williams, assisted by Master R. V. Hedges.

The new officers will assume their various offices at the first meeting in January.

Public Water Supply Of Lisbon Village Held Unsatisfactory

The public water supply of the village of Lisbon is unsatisfactory, according to an analysis just completed under the direction of the state department of health, a report of which has been received by County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church, clerk of the Lisbon council Lloyd Binsley and to the council of the village of Lisbon.

"The report confirms the previous tests in that contamination is reaching the public water supply from some unknown source," the letter from the health department reveals. "Contamination shows up in the samples obtained from individual wells. This department in view of the unsatisfactory reports would recommend the immediate installation of chlorine equipment.

"Additional samples of the public water supply of Lisbon for the purpose of confirming results already observed, will be collected during the week of Nov. 29th."

During the last summer samples of water taken from the drinking pump in the Lisbon public square also disclosed contamination.

It is probable that council will take some action upon the report of the health department at its next meeting, December 6.

Tuberculosis Claimed 63 Lives in County During Past Year

Tuberculosis, for years one of the leading causes of death, took a toll of 63 lives in Columbiana during 1925, George L. Lafferty, of the county Christmas seal committee has been informed by the Ohio Public Health league, upon information furnished by the bureau of vital statistics of the Ohio state department of health.

This made a death rate for the county from tuberculosis 72.5 per 100,000 population, compared with a rate of 76.1 per 100,000 for the entire state during 1925.

Application of this ratio, according to Mr. Lafferty, to the county figure, shows that there are now in the county probably 567 active cases of tuberculosis.

Funds raised from the sale of Christmas seals have been used for years to finance the campaign against tuberculosis, Mr. Lafferty explains, and the entire sale this year will be thrown into the battle against the disease.

HEALTH BOARD HOLDS SESSION

At a meeting of the county board of health Mrs. Helen O'Brien of Lisbon, was re-elected clerk and Miss Mary Masters was re-elected county health nurse.

The 1927 budget was presented, and this revealed that no funds were appropriated for the employment of a county sanitary officer for next year. A fund of $600, however, was appropriated for the expense of this office.

A total of 16 cases of communicable diseases were reported by County Health Commissioner T. T. Church. Three of these were located at Leetonia and one each in Butler and Fairfield townships. There were two such diseases each in Salem and Liverpool township and seven in Perry township.

During November 55 health conferences were held and 32 schools were visited, where 2,199 children were enrolled. Working certificates have been issued to 13 children.

MINE PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

The coal property on the Lisbon-Leetonia road formerly owned and operated by the Miller Coal company, has been taken over by J. L. Harris and W. A. Sparrow of Kent. It is said the entire output of this operation has been absorbed by the Erie Railroad company, which is also taking the output of the mines of the Seger Fuel company, at West Point and also that of the mine of the Beaver Coal & Clay company, at Coleman.

Stripping operations are also now being actively conducted by the Central Mining company, in Elkrun township near Gilmores' Crossing. With the Central and Miller properties in operations, all of the larger mining operations in this county are now on a production basis.

Business Expanding.

Nine presses are now in operation at the plant of the Standard Porcelain company, at Leetonia, which recently removed its business there from the former Brunt pottery building at East Liverpool. An additional press may be added early in 1926.

The company is also considering the plan to erect an additional kiln, as with only one kiln now in operation, delay is being encountered in obtaining finished stock.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found how to save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for results. It gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

No more Headache, Bad Colds, sour stomach and constipation

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most of the ills of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become cross, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, tongue coated, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle cleansing of the bowels—but don't try to force a nauseating dose of oil into the little one's already sick stomach—it is cruel, needless and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets Candy Cathartic which acts gently—never gripe or produce the slightest uneasiness—though they cleanse the little one's system, sweeten the stomach and put the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grown-ups in each package.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this gentle, thorough laxative which costs only 10 cents a box at any drug store.

New Directors Elected at Annual Meeting Held Saturday.

Charles Lemley of East Palestine and Earl Beddell of Berlin Center, Mahoning county, were elected directors for three years by the Columbiana Live Stock Co-Operative association at the annual meeting at the office of the county farm bureau Saturday afternoon.

Other directors who have held over are: E. Y. Gamble, Butler township; W. J. Hays, Hanoverton; Fred Schoeni, Knox township, and Charles Hull, Center township. The board of directors will meet at the farm bureau office this week for the purpose of organizing and electing officers.

Lieut. C. E. Rowland, former county agent, but now county agent located at Elyria, attended this meeting, as the association was formed during Mr. Rowland's term of office in Columbiana county.

A review of marketing conditions, the kind of stock that is in demand and the method of grading live stock for market, in order that top prices can be obtained and larger returns made shippers was given by L. C. Breidenbaugh, manager of the Producers' Cooperative Commission company at Pittsburgh, Pa., to which all stock from this county is shipped.

The annual report of County Service Manager Phil E. Heim, who has charge of all co-operative live stock shipping out of Columbiana county presented the following report:

Total cars shipped, 59.
Local shipments, 8.
Individual shippers, 637.
Cattle shipped, 892; net weight, 810,502 pounds.
Calves shipped, 200; net weight, 32,004 pounds.
Hogs shipped, 708; net weight 149,969 pounds.
Sheep shipped, 370; net weight, 34,660 pounds.
Total market weight, 1,026,635 pounds.
Gross market value, $56,885.01.
Freight, $2,313.56.
Total terminal expense, $4,536.63.
Net to shippers, $52,656.93.
Expense per cwt., 70.2c.
Shrink: Calves, 5.5 per cent; hogs, 3.8 per cent; sheep, 8.1 per cent; cattle, not given.

This report shows there was an increase of 60 per cent in the number of pounds of live stock shipped out of the county during the last fiscal year. Receipts for the previous year which totaled $34,674.41 were increased this year to $56,885.01, or an increase of about 40 per cent.

The shipping cost was reduced from 76.6 per hundred pounds in 1925 to 70.2 cents per hundred in 1926.

Money Appropriated.

County commissioners have appropriated under the state code, $1,500 to be paid to the Ohio State university for the support of the county extension agent, as the agent is the representative of the agricultural college and closely cooperating with the farm bureau. It was recently reported that the appropriation of $1,500 made by the commissioners was to be credited to the county farm bureau.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

CLARKSON GRANGE OFFICERS NAMED

Clarkson Grange No. 1802 at its last meeting elected the following officers:

Master, Glenn Gaston; overseer, Clyde Gibson; lecturer, Mrs. Lena Williams; steward, Lawrence Huston; assistant steward, Richard Lyons; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Feezel; treasurer, C. V. Warrick; secretary, James F. Veness; gatekeeper, Ross McCoy; Cereas, Vera Huston; Pomona, Mildred Bloor; Flora, Stella McCoy; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Gladys Lyons; business agent, William Wilson; pianist, Mildred Bloor.

At this meeting the grange made partial arrangements and appointed committees for the sixth annual farmers' institute to be held Dec. 14-15. The institute this year will be under the independent classification, sponsored as usual by the grange co-operating, also the county board of education, county board of health and the county farm bureau.

During the meeting on December 8, an oyster supper will be served by the women members. This event will be in charge, however, of Past Master Denver S. Williams, assisted by Master R. V. Hedges.

The new officers will assume their various offices at the first meeting in January.

Public Water Supply Of Lisbon Village Held Unsatisfactory

The public water supply of the village of Lisbon is unsatisfactory, according to an analysis just completed under the direction of the state department of health, a report of which has been received by County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church, clerk of the Lisbon council Lloyd Binsley and to the council of the village of Lisbon.

"The report confirms the previous tests in that contamination is reaching the public water supply from some unknown source," the letter from the health department reveals. "Contamination shows up in the samples obtained from individual wells. This department in view of the unsatisfactory reports would recommend the immediate installation of chlorine equipment.

"Additional samples of the public water supply of Lisbon for the purpose of confirming results already observed, will be collected during the week of Nov. 29th."

During the last summer samples of water taken from the drinking pump in the Lisbon public square also disclosed contamination.

It is probable that council will take some action upon the report of the health department at its next meeting, December 6.

Tuberculosis Claimed 63 Lives in County During Past Year

Tuberculosis, for years one of the leading causes of death, took a toll of 63 lives in Columbiana during 1925, George L. Lafferty, of the county Christmas seal committee has been informed by the Ohio Public Health league, upon information furnished by the bureau of vital statistics of the Ohio state department of health.

This made a death rate for the county from tuberculosis 72.5 per 100,000 population, compared with a rate of 76.1 per 100,000 for the entire state during 1925.

Application of this ratio, according to Mr. Lafferty, to the county figure, shows that there are now in the county probably 567 active cases of tuberculosis.

Funds raised from the sale of Christmas seals have been used for years to finance the campaign against tuberculosis, Mr. Lafferty explains, and the entire sale this year will be thrown into the battle against the disease.

HEALTH BOARD HOLDS SESSION

At a meeting of the county board of health Mrs. Helen O'Brien of Lisbon, was re-elected clerk and Miss Mary Masters was re-elected county health nurse.

The 1927 budget was presented, and this revealed that no funds were appropriated for the employment of a county sanitary officer for next year. A fund of $600, however, was appropriated for the expense of this office.

A total of 16 cases of communicable diseases were reported by County Health Commissioner T. T. Church. Three of these were located at Leetonia and one each in Butler and Fairfield townships. There were two such diseases each in Salem and Liverpool township and seven in Perry township.

During November 55 health conferences were held and 32 schools were visited, where 2,199 children were enrolled. Working certificates have been issued to 13 children.

MINE PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

The coal property on the Lisbon-Leetonia road formerly owned and operated by the Miller Coal company, has been taken over by J. L. Harris and W. A. Sparrow of Kent. It is said the entire output of this operation has been absorbed by the Erie Railroad company, which is also taking the output of the mines of the Seger Fuel company, at West Point and also that of the mine of the Beaver Coal & Clay company, at Coleman.

Stripping operations are also now being actively conducted by the Central Mining company, in Elkrun township near Gilmores' Crossing. With the Central and Miller properties in operations, all of the larger mining operations in this county are now on a production basis.

Business Expanding.

Nine presses are now in opration at the plant of the Standard Porcelain company, at Leetonia, which recently removed its business there from the former Brunt pottery building at East Liverpool. An additional press may be added early in 1926.

The company is also considering the plan to erect an additional kiln as with only one kiln now in operation, delay is being encountered in obtaining finished stock.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found how to save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for results. It gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

delicious fruit fritters

DEEP FRIED WITHOUT SMOKE OR ODOR

SOME time when you have company for dinner, or when you wish to give your family a delicious treat, serve one of these delightful fruit fritters as an entree.

Deep-fried in Crisco they retain all of the delicious, natural fruit flavor and are never greasy. And remember, too, that when you use Crisco in frying you are never troubled with smoke or unpleasant odors in your kitchen. Crisco does not smoke at proper frying temperature.

Lots of Other Good Things, Too

Crisco is by no means limited to frying. I find that with Crisco I can make light, tender cakes, fluffy biscuits, flaky pie crust and lots of other good things too. It is the only shortening and cooking fat I need have in the house.

Winifred S. Carter

Apple Fritters

1 cup flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
1 egg
5 or 6 tart apples

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Add milk and well beaten egg. Mix well. Pare and core apples. Cut in sections. Dip each piece of apple in the batter and fry in deep hot Crisco (340 to 375 degrees F.) until brown. Drain on unglazed paper and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Banana Fritters

Peel bananas. Cut through lengthwise and again in pieces 1½ to 2 inches long. Follow recipe for Apple Fritters.

Pineapple Fritters

Cut pineapple in suitable sized pieces. Follow recipe for Apple Fritters.

Stanford And Alabama Will Battle For National Football Title

Notre Dame, Brown, Navy Out of Picture; Lafayette Has Claim

Saddened Tournament of Roses Committee at Pasadena, Cal., Probably Will Break Down and Laugh as Only Two of Three Unbeaten Teams are Lined Up for New Year's Day Game.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Destiny pulled its invisible strings between the rise of one sun on Thursday and the setting or another on Saturday and the football teams of Notre Dame, Brown and the Navy, puppets all, danced obediently into the wings and the shadows beyond where fame is not. Headliners almost to the last, their act proved something of a "flop" at the grand finale.

In consequence, a saddened tournament of roses committee at Pasadena, Cal., probably will break right down and laugh.

There were three unbeaten college football teams of the first rank surviving the regular season's end today and, through some regretable oversight, the committee has lined up only two of them, Stanford and Alabama, for the New Year's day game on the Coast. That game, therefore, will have a far greater bearing on the national situation in football than ever before. In fact, it will establish the winner as more deserving of national recognition than any other contender.

It so happens that there is only one, Lafayette, which finished its season undefeated more than a week ago, at least, has a shouting concession in all arguments.

Chance for Rebuttal.

However, the team that wins at Pasadena can whisper its rebuttal and all will hear with great ease and facility, for it will be the undisputed champion of two great sections, the South and far West, while Lafayette, at best, can claim nothing beyond the purpling shadows of the Alleghenies.

As for the Middle West, Notre Dame's disturbing defeat by Carnegie Tech on Saturday left that section without an accredited national conference contender for the first time in some years. Michigan probably is as good as the next and better than most but the Wolverine merely is co-champion of the Big Ten and, besides, it lost to the Navy.

The latter's 21 to 21 tie with the army on Saturday must be regarded as an act of self-elimination and the same thing applies to Brown's 10 to 10 tie with Colgate.

The fallacy of comparative scores and records of teams that meet no common opponent is well and favorably known among our most intelligent foul balls. Yet how may one rate football teams, except by victories, defeats and ties? The writer cannot rouse himself to three ringing cheers for the Navy's claims when that team plays a tie with the Army, which lost to Notre Dame, which lost to Carnegie Tech, which, in turn, lost to Missouri, which lost to Oklahoma, which lost to Kansas, which lost to nearly everybody and so on, ad infinitum.

Miss-and-Out Affair.

In the same way, Brown's tie with Colgate on Thanksgiving day clearly leaves New England without a contender, Colgate having lost to the Navy. At this point, you repeat the foregoing paragraph until exhausted.

As for Boston college, if its tie with Haskell Indians didn't weaken its claims, the scoreless affair with Holy Cross most certainly did, for Holy Cross was beaten by Boston University, which previously had lost to all manner of sap teams.

No, this national sweepstakes clearly is a miss-and-out affair. Stanford, Alabama and Lafayette didn't miss, so they still are in. If it wasn't otherwise, Bill Tilden probably would hold the heavyweight championship of the world because a punch on the chin couldn't count.

Notre Dame's defeat was a shock to many but there was nothing illegitimate about it, barring the fact that Rockne was elsewhere. If Rockne had been there, he probably would have tongue-lashed the Irish into making a better showing.

Rockne's Regulars Fail.

As it was, Notre Dame couldn't have won, anyhow, judging by the run of the play. The second team started the game and nothing hapened for a period and a fraction of the next. Then the first team went to bat and Tech ran wild to score its first touchdown. The second followed almost immediately on a blocked punt, after which the Irish were held for downs beyond midfield. Later, after Harpster had kicked two field goals, Notre Dame got a first down inside the 1-yard line and failed to gain the distance in four tries. That incident absolutely closed the case against the Irish.

The Army and Navy merely were two football teams without visible defense or sound judgment. West Point started its second team and I presume that if the Yankees qualify for the world series they won't put Ruth in until well on in the fifth inning. Anyhow, a sub quarterback allowed an eligible receiver to get between himself and the goal to take a pass leading up to the first Navy touchdown. The second was earned against a second team line. Then the Army first stringers came on and ran wild. But I will always feel that the running would have been wilder and the Army score larger if it had spread the Navy defense with a few passes. However—post mortems.

Wilson, Lafayette, High Individual Football Scorer

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Establishing a new record, Mike Wilson, of Lafayette, stood today as the high individual scorer of Eastern college football for the season of 1926. He has tallied 20 touchdown, giving him a total of 120 points. His nearest rival, Williams of Connecticut Aggies, has a total of 90, one point beyond Harry Wilson, of the Army, who finished third. Lane, of Dartmouth, and Weston, of Boston college, were fourth and fifth with 75 and 72 points respectively.

CRACK HOCKEY TEAM DEFEATED

Duluth's Hornets Drill Stingers Into Chicago Cards.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29. — Chicago's Cardinals, American association hockey team, today were smarting under their first defeat of the season. Duluth's Hornets drilled their stingers into the local huskies at the Coliseum last night, 3 to 1.

The struggle was much closer than the score indicates. The teams battled on even terms most of the way, it being one of the hardest fought games ever seen on local ice. A concerted attack in the second period, coupled with lucky breaks, gave Duluth the margin of victory.

The Cards were the first to score, Brydson taking a perfect pass from Reid and slipping the puck past Goal Tender Turner. Ted Dunfield scored two of Duluth's three goals, one in the second period and one in the third. Johnny Loucks scored the third shot toward the close of the third period.

MICKEY WALKER AWAITS CLASH WITH FLOWERS

Sport World Eyes on Middleweight Title Battle.

10-ROUND CLASH

Chicago Will be Scene of Bout Friday Night.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—With the Army-Navy football game out of the way, sporting interest today centered on the impending world's championship fight between Tiger Flowers, middleweight title holder, and Mickey Walker, former welterweight champion, who now believes he is capable of annexing the middleweight crown.

Flowers and Walker will clash in a 10-round decision bout at the Coliseum here Friday night. They entered the home stretch of their training preparations today in practically top form.

Each fighter, with an eye on the impending fray, has been actively engaged in ring work lately. On the same night recently, Walker was beating Jock Malone at Boston, while Flowers was lacing Sailor Eddie Huffman of the Pacific coast, in a local ring. These victories have perked interest in Friday night's affair.

Both champion and challenger have a host of friends who can specify a half dozen reasons why their respective candidate will win. Betting, however, is a shade partial to the challenger.

The present-day Walker—not the Walker who lost the welter crown to Pete Latzo—is viewed as the most formidable challenger match with Tiger since the Georgia deacon won his title. Mickey, who hits hard with either hand, is expected to tear into the champion at the first trace of the bell and keep it up until he has Tiger stretched limp or thoroughly outpointed.

Flowers, according to his followers, may not punch as hard as Walker, but is fast enough and clever enough to stave off Mickey's assault while the champ piles up sufficient points to retain his title.

COLUMBIANA 11 DROPS LAST GAME

Out-weighed, out-played but not outgamed the plucky little team of Columbiana high school bowed in defeat to East Palestine high, the score being 19-0. In spite of the comparative scores, the game was a much better one than that of the previous week with Lisbon high. Coach Miller had worked wonders with his boys in a few intervening days, and they did everything well that they had done poorly the week before. They charged and tackled low and stopped everything that East Palestine had—except Dolan, and that was the margin of victory for Dolan was a team in himself, and assisted a few times by Captain Harvey, made practically all of the gains. When he did not run with it himself, he threw forward passes to others, and he could throw as well as he could make end runs or off-tackle dashes. He never failed of at least a few yards. But let us not forget the Columbiana hero, and there was one. He was "Danny" Detwiler, the smallest player on either team, but the life of the red and white. In every play, he seemed to be the only one who could find holes in the heavy East Palestine line. He was fine on defense, too. Dowd, playing in the backfield in the place of Fellers, who was injured in the Lisbon game, did the kicking and forward-passing and occasionally carried the ball. With the exception of his first three kicks, he did well. In spite of the bad punting in the first quarter, East Palestine was held scoreless, but pushed over two touchdowns in the second, largely as the result of two long forward passes and resulting long runs. Captain Harvey kicked one of the goals. In the third quarter Columbiana played its best football, but in the last quarter, East Palestine made another touchdown, due to Dolan's wonderful individual work. Columbiana only seriously threatened the East Palestine goal once, late in the second quarter, but the time was up before they could make a final necessary play.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 81 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

There is one important phase of the back swing, with any golf club, that the golfer should acquire, and he can do it either on the course or at home, out in the garage or up in the attic. It is this: When you start the clubhead away from the ball, start it with the hands—then keep on going with the hands and arms. Many players start the club with the hands, but they have an unconscious habit of dropping the hand control of the club about half way back with it, and taking it on from that point by means of a body push or twist. You do not push the club back and up with your body. It is accomplished entirely with the hands, wrists and arms—and with very little wrist action, just enough to let the club naturally turn.

Gene Tunney Busy As He Listens to Bids for Services

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Gene Tunney will be a busy man today. Willing to listen to any and all bids for his services as heavyweight champion, the ex-marine was scheduled to hold successive conferences with Tex Rickard and Humbert J. Fugazy, rival promoters, and a third with his manager, Billy Gibson.

Gibson's meeting with Tunney was inspired by the manager's desire to learn his status, there having been reports that the pair has reached the parting of the ways. Tunney, however, has denied this through his traveling representative, Ray Campbell.

WINTER SPORT AT PINEHURST TO BE VARIED

Season Starts Off With Mid-South Tournament.

LINKS PROGRAM

Only One Tennis Competition is on Calendar.

PINEHURST, N. C.—Pinehurst's winter sport program lists the most varied outdoor schedule ever undertaken at this resort.

The season started off with the seventh annual Mid-South Amateur-Professional Golf tournament and the eleventh annual Carolina tournament in November.

Theree golf tournaments are scheduled for December. The sixth annual Carolina Women's tournament will be played December 7-10, and on December 24 the fifth annual Father and Son tournament. The 24th annual mid-January tournament, January 10, 14, and the 23rd annual mid-February tournament, January 31-Feb. 5.

Three golf tournaments are scheduled during the winter and spring months, winding up April 19-22 with the seventeenth annual mid-April tournament.

Only one tennis tournament will be staged during the season. This, the ninth annual United North and South Championship, will be played April 11-16.

Three trap and rifle events are on the schedule. The 20th annual mid-Winter handicap is set for January 24-29. This will be followed April 18-20 by the ninth annual United North Carolina Amateur handicap tournament. The North Carolina State handicap tournament is scheduled for April 21-23.

The first annual North-South archery championship tournament is set for April 11-15. The tenth annual horse show will be held April 4-5, and the tenth annual field trials January 31-February 5.

Liberty Billiard Eleven Winner in Game at Lisbon

The Liberty Billiard football team defeated the Lisbon semi-pro eleven 15 to 0, on the Lisbon grounds Sunday afternoon.

Mike Lee of the Libertys ran 95 yards for a touchdown while Mundy carried the ball 70 yards for another six points after an intercepted pass.

The Liberty eleven will close the season at Canton next Sunday when they meet the Canton Bluestones.

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

This is a year of good ends but "Chuck" Kassel, wingman with the University of Illinois, need not take a rear seat for any of them, in my opinion.

Illinois' defensive play, which enabled that eleven to hold Pennsylvania and Chicago scoreless and Iowa to a single touchdown, has been featured all season by Kassel's work. He is a big fellow but fleetfooted, a clever man at opening up opponents' plays, and at turning in a play for the rest of his line to handle.

ROBERT B. MACPHAIL

As a running mate to Lane, Captain Bob McPhail of Dartmouth has performed brilliantly in every department of the game.

That he is a versatile back is attested by the fact that he draws All American consideration in his junior year as a halfback after having played quarter in his sophomore year and fullback in his freshman year on a team that was undefeated all season.

C. E. KASSEL

That he is a heady player is indicated by the fact that he was named acting captain this year when Horton was injured and recently was elected captain for next year—his last with the big Green team.

TENNIS STARS IN MATCH HIKE

Misses Sears and Ryan in Gruelling Walk.

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Two of the foremost women athletes of America, Miss Eleanora Sears and Miss Elizabeth Ryan, international tennis star, were walking neck and neck this forenoon in a gruelling hike from Providence to Boston.

At Norwood, 13 miles from the finish, the pair were far ahead of Miss Sears' previous time for the city-to-city walk, made last year in 10 hours and 27 minutes. Going through Norwood, Miss Ryan was setting the pace.

A real wager is said to hang on the hike, resulting from the defeat the Back Bay woman suffered on the tennis court at the hands of Miss Ryan.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

WE'RE going to weaken just once this season to delve into comparative scores to prove something that doesn't mean a thing.

We're doing it just because—well for the same reason that you eat peanuts at a ball game and suffer afterwards.

Lafayette defeated Muhlenberg 35 to 0, Muhlenberg defeated Lehigh 30 to 0, Lehigh defeated Princeton 7 to 6, Princeton defeated Harvard 12 to 0. Harvard shaded Dartmouth 16 to 12 while Dartmouth held Brown to a 10 to 0 score.

Which should give Lafayette something or other in the line of a title. But we can't figure any one out.

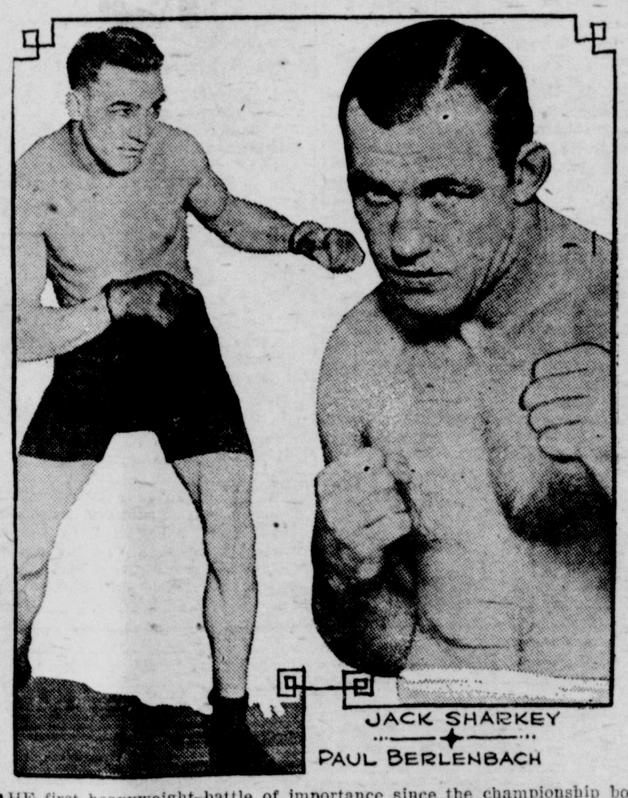

Speaking of freak football topics, Will Wedge, in the New York Sun, steps up with his "All" team but he doesn't confine his selection to an "All-American" affair. He makes it an international one.

After selecting the following team because of the nationalities of the players he coyly suggests that Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach, be named mentor of the team so that "the trick plays of this mythical bunch can be copyrighted in all countries, including the Scandinavian."

Here's his team:

Lindenmeyer, German, University of Missouri.
Kevorkian, Armenian, Brown.
Alohahoi, Hawaiian, University of Dayton.
Hageage, Syrian, Georgetown.
Lorio, French, Tulane.
Chief Field, Pawnee Indian, Denison University.
Matsu, Japanese, William and Mary.
Guarnaccia, Italian, Harvard.
Wascolonis, Lithuanian, Pennsylvania.
Kirkleski, Pole, Lafayette.
Gustafson, Swede, Minnesota.

First Move to Pick Tunney Foe Seen in Berlenbach-Sharkey Go

JACK SHARKEY
PAUL BERLENBACH

THE first heavyweight battle of importance since the championship bout between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney probably will be one between Paul Berlenbach, recent graduate into the "legitimate" heavyweight class, and Jack Sharkey, the man who burst the myth surrounding Harry Wills.

I understand that the men are as good as matched to meet in New York early in January as the first of a series of indoor shows to be run with a view toward choosing a late summer foe for Tunney.

Berlenbach has spent the last few months building up his weight to that of the average heavy. This after proving conclusively in the light heavy ranks that he is a terrific puncher, a fair boxer, and the "go-getter" type the fans like.

Eastern critics dubbed Paul the "Astoria Assassin" when the lad from Astoria began knocking hopefuls loose from their hopes. In 1926, after knocking out Mike McTigue to win the light heavyweight crown, Paul flattened Jimmy Slattery, pride of Buffalo and called a "second Corbett," and then proceeded to win over Jack Delaney. He later, however, lost the crown to Jack.

Sharkey had drawn some attention before the Wills bout. Regardless of the class he showed in that bout, the victory over the talkative negro gave Jack enough prominence to make him a big drawing card—until he gets socked.

If the battle comes off it will be a slugging match—and ought to be a beautiful one. Those in the front rows may spend much of their time pushing one or the other back into the ring.

CHICAGO TRADE BOARD PLANS NEW CLEAN-UP

Sift Complaints of Illegal Practices in Warehouses.

FARMERS ON JOB

Form Organization to Stand Back of Investigation.

CHICAGO, Illinois—Another 'housecleaning' is in order on the Chicago Board of Trade, it is indicated by the recent inquiry of the Illinois Commerce Commission into alleged illegal practices which have grown up in the warehousing of grain at Chicago, according to a statement issued by the Illinois Agricultural association, an organization of 63,000 farmers.

Corrections Needed.

"The association will stand squarely back of the commission in its investigation," Secretary C. A. Fox declared. "Farmers interests are at stake in this controversy and the evidence given before the commission shows conclusively that there are certain malpractices which need to be corrected."

The hearing brought out charges that owners of public grain warehouses are using their peculiar advantage as owners in deliberately "skinning" grades of grain, substituting low grade grain for higher grades on future deliveries, using their inside information to sell short grain that is spoiling in storage, and appropriating certain advantages with reference to transit billing.

Warehouse Complaints.

The reform movement in the administration of public class "A" warehouses originally was instituted by the Chicago Board of Trade when John R. Mauff, a member, complained that owners of private elevators had unlawful affiliations with the public warehouses and were using such connections to their advantage and to the disadvantage of other members.

The board first petitioned the Illinois Commerce Commission for a franchise to operate the public warehouses under new management subject to its selection but suddenly withdrew its petition because of "dissension in its own ranks." The inquiry however was continued.

Charley Rosenberg Faces Fight Test In Jersey City

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Charley Phil Rosenberg, bantamweight champion who has been reinstated in New York in order that he might meet Bushey Graham for the title on January 13, tonight will get his first test under fire here in more than a year. He will meet Georgie Mack in a 10-round bout in Jersey City and, while Rosenberg will not make the required weight of his class, it will be possible for him to lose his title, provided Mack weighs in as a bantamweight.

Q. How long does a voter require to make and deposit his ballot? C. D.

A. During the last election, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is reported to have used three minutes in the booth, President Coolidge three minutes, and Vice President Dawes eight minutes.

Q. What American cities have elevated railways with motive power supplied by a third rail? J. S. M.

A. The American Electric Railway Association says that New York City, Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia, and Chicago have.

Q. How do manufacturers of cotton dye it? A. S. R.

A. The dye may be applied to the raw cotton, to the yarn, or to the fabric. Under equal conditions dyeing the raw cotton allows better penetration and gives a more lasting effect, although when properly carried out either yarn or piece dyeing may be satisfactory.

Q. In modern times, who first applied the word "Hun" to the German? H. T. L.

A. Kipling. His poem called "The Powers" (1902) is noteworthy for this first use of the word "Hun."

Q. What is the cambium layer of wood? C. B.

A. It is the living tissue which lies under the bark.

Q. Was C. M. Williamson an American writer? A. R. P.

A. The late C. M. Williamson was an English novelist who wrote in collaboration with his American wife, Alice M. Williamson.

Q. How long has capital punishment been used? D. E. W.

A. Capital punishment as a lawful procedure has existed since the history of mankind. You will find it laid down in the Mosaic Law in the books of Leviticus and Deuteronomy.

Q. Where can liquid air be bought? C. L. B.

A. Liquid air is not an article of commerce as it can not be stored for any length of time. It would probably not be shipped by express but would have to be carried by messenger. If you live near a large university or research laboratory, you might be able to obtain some for experimentation.

Q. What is the Institute of Politics? A. N.

A. This is a movement inaugurated by the trustees of William College in September, 1919, and consists of annual sessions at which are discussed foreign affairs so as to promote a more sympathetic understanding of the problems and policies of other nations. This is done by offering courses of public lectures delivered by distinguished scholars and statesmen from foreign countries and by setting up Round Table and Open conferences presided over by recognized authorities.

Q. How many commercial airplane companies are there in Germany? L. M.

A. There are forty-two commercial air lines operating daily to all parts of Central and Eastern Europe, including Moscow. Seventeen lines radiate from Berlin. There are many small companies, all now consolidated with the Deutsche Lufthansa. There are 120 commercial planes; 160 pilots. One hundred and ten planes are constantly in working order. In 1925 the German Commercial Air Service carried approximately 133,639 passengers and 6600 tons of freight. In 1925 the commercial service in passengers and freight carried and miles traveled tripled its volume of business over the preceding year.

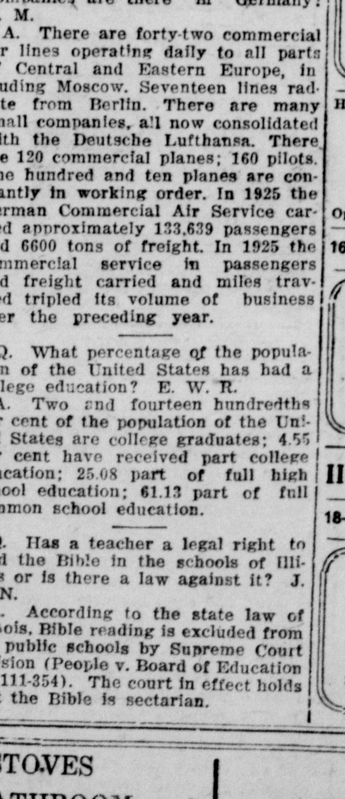

Q. What percentage of the population of the United States has had a college education? E. W. R.

A. Two and fourteen hundredths per cent of the population of the United States are college graduates; 4.55 per cent have received part college education; 25.08 part of full high school education; 61.13 part of full common school education.

Q. Has a teacher a legal right to read the Bible in the schools of Illinois or is there a law against it? J. K. N.

A. According to the state law of Illinois, Bible reading is excluded from the public schools by Supreme Court decision (People v. Board of Education 245 111-354). The court in effect holds that the Bible is sectarian.

about 885,000 carats is the largest producer.

The United States can boast little in the way of precious stone production. The sapphire mines of Montana yield more in value than all the other mines of semi-precious and precious stones in the country, but there is nothing imposing in the figures. In 1924, 46,950 carats for gem purposes and 278,317 carats for mechanical uses were produced, the aggregate value being almost $26,000. Last year more sapphires were mined suitably for cutting into gems by about 8,000 carats, and the value of the entire output increased to $33,375.

Platinum, the metal that has almost entirely displaced gold as a setting for diamonds and other precious stones, is also statistically analyzed by Mr. Kunz. The 1925 world's production amounted to about 100,000 ounces, valued at $120 per ounce, or approximately $12,000,000. Prior to the war the maximum consumption of platinum was about 300,000 ounces, but in those days it was valued at less than $45 the ounce.

The supply of platinum comes from five countries, the United States, Canada, Australia, Colombia, and Russia, with the last two furnishing by far the greater part. However, discoveries have been made in South Africa of such a character that it is claimed by some authorities that that country will soon bee able to supply th world's demand, and, possibly force a considerable reduction in price.

Increasing use of platinum in recent years has led to agitation for some kind of legislation to guarantee the quality of the metal in articles sold as platinum. This sort of thing is by no means new, for Great Britain for a period of some 600 years has had what is regarded as the most perfect system of hall-marks to attest the quality of products of the jewelry industry.

In seeking a hall-mark for platinum the general idea seems to be that nothing should be marked as platinum, pure platinum, or solid platinum unless it is 950 fine, or contains 95 per cent of the platinum-group metals.

Cod Liver Oil in Sugar Coated Tablets Puts on Flesh and Builds Them Up.

In just a few days—quicker than you ever dreamed of—these wonderful health building, flesh making tablets called McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets will start to help any thin, underweight little one.

After sickness and where rickets are suspected they are especially valuable. No need to give them any more nasty Cod Liver Oil—these tablets are made to take the place of that good, but evil smelling, stomach upsetting medicine and they surely do it.

A very sick child, aged 9, gained 12 pounds in 7 months.

Ask Mathews Med. Store or any druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—as easy to take as candy—60 tablets, 60 cents, and money back if not satisfied.

A Raw, Sore Throat

eases quickly when you apply a little Musterole. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain and won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. Brings quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds on the chest.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.
